The Whisky War is Over.—The liquor dealers met this morning, and after some discussion it was decided that the new ordinance past last evening was on the whole satisfactory, and of a character demanding obedience by all sensible dealers.

Some of the provisions are considered as objectionable, but of course there can be no criticism on the act of the Council, as they simply acted in accordance with the general law. It is now in order seemingly to blame the Governor for signing the bill of March 9th, 1892. The blame hereof laid upon the Council has been transferred to the gubernatorial shoulders.

In the meeting this morning, the following was adopted: "Resolved that it is the sense of this Assembly that we close our places of business at 12 p. m., and that we will endeavor to conduct our business in such a manner as not to incite criticism."

We are authorized to state that the dealers are in every way satisfied with the business-like methods of the Mayor and Council, and they are sure that no better or kinder treatment could have been extended during any negotiations.

It now rests with the trade to so conduct the traffic as to make it as free as possible from objection.

Theatrical Attractions.—Salt Lake is promised a brilliant succession of theatrical attractions. The following companies, all under control of Haverly, will perform here in turn:

Jay Rial's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the "Strategists," by the Haverly Comedy Company; the Comedy Banton Comie Opera Company will present "Madame Favart." The company numbers fifty and the costumes are most superb, costing $10,000; J. K. Emmett, who took the company here on his previous visit, will present "Fritz in Ireland;" Haverly's original "Mastodons;" "Hazel Kirke," same company, with John Dillon, of Madison Square Theatre; "Emeralds," which has been performed 30 times at the Madison Square Theatre; "Lights of London," by the full company of Union Square Theatre. Besides all these, Haverly is now negotiating with Max Strakosch for the Gerster Italian Opera Company of 75 members.

Fire Escape.—S. W. Brown, of Alpine, Utah County, sends us a communication in which he suggests a simple and sensible method of escape from a large building on fire. If it were adopted throughout the country, doubtless many lives would be saved. It is the placing at windows high above the ground stout rings or staples, with a rope-ladder or even a single rope attached to each. Fire-proof material would be best. These could be thrown out and used as a means of exit in cases of emergency. When the windows are directly above each other, a ring and repeat at the top one would be sufficient for one perpendicular set of windows.

Obsequies.—The funeral services of Bishop R. V. Morris, at the 15th Ward Hall yesterday, were very numerous attended. The building was crowded and many were unable to gain admission. The opening prayer was offered by Bishop L. W. Hardy, and addresses were delivered by President Joseph F. Smith, Bishop Edward Hunter, and President Angus M. Cannon. The speakers all testified to the excellent qualities of the deceased. The closing prayer was offered by Elder Joseph E. Taylor.

The cortege by which the remains of the deceased were followed to the cemetery was very large.

Northern Lumber Companies.—H. S. Woolley, Esq., has resigned the management of the Bear Lake Co-operative Lumber Association and will pay a short visit to the East. The Democrat says that President William Budge has been appointed to the position in his stead.

When Mr. Woolley returns from the East he will assume the financial management of the Soda Springs Lumber Company.

The existence of these two large lumber producing companies in the north will be a great benefit to that section of the country. Timber in that part is plentiful and good.

The Universal Topic.—The topic everywhere is the Edmunds bill, in which the most profound interest is taken. The absence of radical excitement among the citizens whose liberties are aimed at by the measure is as remarkable as it is commendable. The questions it involves are being calmly and deliberately considered, and notwithstanding the apparent gravity of the situation, the cheerfulness of the community is not diminished. Whatever difficulties have to be faced will be confronted with that firm disposition called for by the occasion as it arises.

Potato Production.—In the neighborhood of 800 car loads of potatoes of last season's crop have been shipped out of Utah to other markets. The prospective market promises as profitably as that of the past.

This being the case, two or three brief communications from the most successful potato raisers would be interesting to growers. Only let them be boiled down, not the potatoes, but the communications. Now is the time to spread agricultural information.

Scrape It Off.—A short time since the merchants of the central part of the city petitioned the Council to have the mud removed from the business streets before dry weather set in. The City Fathers said they would see to it. Now appears to be the proper time, before it resolves into dust, and is carried by the zephyrus of spring, into the stores and among the goods of the merchants.

Pinkney and Blackleg.—Pinkney among horses and blackleg among the horses of the world, is a common complaint, and has made heavy inroads. A remedy of that place requests us to publish reliable facts for the benefit of two malades. Who can furnish them?

Gene in the Flower of Youth.—A very fine little boy died at noon today, in the 8th Ward—Samuel Shires, son of the late William, and of Sarah Shires. He was a fine, intelligent, well-behaved lad, and was a great comfort and support to his widowed mother, who greatly feels his loss.

The Levant Homicide.—The Tri-tribunal Enquirer gives full details of the killing of Charles Taylor by C. Christensen, on Monday of last week, at Levan, J. W. Co., from which it appears that the deed was done in self-defense. It was the culmination of a dispute that commenced in a young people's party on the Friday previous. Taylor died in four hours after he was shot. Whisky was the first cause of the affair. Taylor having been addicted to the habit of drinking.

Theatre.—The auditorium of the theatre was again filled with an appreciative audience whose plaudits were deserved and unstinted. To say that "The World" is a highly sensational drama does not tell the story and is not the secret of its success. The facts are that superadded to an admirable plot, supported by scenery and mechanical effects, expressly adapted to give the fullest effect to the many telling situations that are woven into the fabric of the piece, there is a very talented corps of actors associated in the play, each occupying a position and developing a character that fits like a glove. It would be invidious to particularize, where each of the leading characters is a host in himself. To be appreciated "The World" must be seen. The piece will be presented for the last time in this city this evening.
