Tally That Many Armenians Said to Have Been Slaughtered.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—A letter just received from a point near the east of the village of Hatan, Armenia, dated at Hatan, Jan. 1, written by a man in whom the natives had confidence, placed on record the fact that the Armenians were being massacred in great numbers.

The Armenians, oppressed by the Turks, have been driven from their homes and are being massacred in great numbers. The Armenians, oppressed by the Turks, have been driven from their homes and are being massacred in great numbers.

"DR. SHORES SAVED MY LIFE."

Respect and Sincere Thanks from Mrs. A. H. Payne, of Kapetille, Utah, in Describing Her Restoration to Health Under Dr. G. W. Shores' New Treatment.

She had been so many months—each one told her a different story and each one ended her for a different illness, but none benefited her.

"It seems that I could not get any more of my life back. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything."

"I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything."

"I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything."

"I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything."

"I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything. I was so weak and so ill that I could not do anything."
