SUNDAY A DAY OF FUNERALS

Friends Pay Tribute to the Memory Of L. E. Riter.

The residence of the late L. E. Riter was thronged with mourning friends yesterday, who came to pay the last tribute of respect to his memory. Many of the prominent business men of the city were in attendance, and a large delegation of friends from Tintic who were members of the Elks' lodge were also in the gathering. The general arrangements were in the hands of Major R. W. Young, a friend and neighbor of the departed, and the exercises were presided over by Bishop O. F. Whitney.

Caine gave the prayer, after which ex-Senator Hawkins paid a brief but feeling tribute to Mr. Riter's memory. He was followed by Bishop Whitney, who gave a consolatory address. After the singing of "When the Swallows Homeward Fly" by the quartet, the remains were taken in charge by the Elks' lodge, and at the grave the ritual of that order was read by Rev. Mr. Barnes.

The last rites attending the death and burial of Mrs. L. C. Duncan, were performed from the Twenty-first ward chapel yesterday afternoon, Bishop M. S. Woolley presiding. The service began by the reading of the "Come Ye Disconsolate," and after prayer by Elder H. J. Foulger the choir rendered the hymn, "What Voice Salutes the Starred Earth." Miss Mabel Poulton, singing the solo. The first speaker was Bishop M. M. Tuddenham and Bishop Morris of the Eleventh ward, after which Miss Annie Owen rendered the solo, "A Bright Beyond." Elder W. J. Penrose then delivered a beautiful discourse full of comfort and consolation to the bereaved, and expressed the conviction that all was well with the deceased, as her life had been one of purity and loveliness. Bishop Woolley was the closing speaker. The choir sang, "Rest For The Weary Soul," and the benediction was pronounced by Elder Thomas Poulton in behalf of the bereaved family. Bishop Woolley expressed thanks to all who had rendered assistance in their hour of sorrow.

A long line of carriages filled with sorrowing relatives and friends followed the casket to the city cemetery, where the quartet rendered with much feeling, "The Christian's Good Night," and the dedicatory prayer was offered by Bishop Woolley. The casket was borne by Messrs. James and Horace Barton, Denmore and Putnam Duncan, Alex. Lyon and Joshua B. Bean. There was a profusion of beautiful floral emblems, among the larger being a beautiful arrangement of flowers, and a large number of the deceased's brothers and sisters; a crescent of roses and carnations from the employees of the Deseret News; a broken wheel from Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Duncan and family; a wreath from the north branch of the Sugar ward Sunday school, of which the bereaved husband is superintendent; a crescent from neighbors, a wreath from Crossfork, and another from the Tenth ward. WESTERVELT ON CITY SCHOOL TAX

Says Levy as Made by County Board Must Stand.

The city board of education will have to be content with the levy of 5.2 mills for city school purposes made by the board of county commissioners. A large amount of public sentiment was expressed in the city yesterday, but the board of county commissioners, after a number of days ago, according to the opinion of County Attorney Westervelt, handed down Saturday afternoon. He holds that the county authorities cannot declare null and void the levy recently made by them and make another one in accordance with the supplemental estimate submitted last week by the board of education, as such action would tend to invalidate the levy altogether.

THE WRONG M'INTOSH.

How a "Hungry Hyrum" Got a Laugh On a Reputable Citizen.

An episode occurred Saturday night which shows what strange coincidences exist in this world. After having had a jolly time until a late hour Saturday night Henry Stiffers, a draftsman, and George McIntosh, a mining engineer, went into Sperry's restaurant to get something substantial to go to sleep on.

When it came to settling the bill McIntosh refused to pay for what Stiffers had eaten and Stiffers couldn't pay because he didn't have any money and further said that he had partaken of the feast at McIntosh's invitation. A large amount of public sentiment was expressed in the city yesterday, but the board of county commissioners, after a number of days ago, according to the opinion of County Attorney Westervelt, handed down Saturday afternoon. He holds that the county authorities cannot declare null and void the levy recently made by them and make another one in accordance with the supplemental estimate submitted last week by the board of education, as such action would tend to invalidate the levy altogether.

Mr. Westervelt also handed down an opinion to County Commissioner Stiffers, who is treasurer of the Acme Mining Machinery company, resides in a pretty college on Second street. At the breakfast table Mrs. McIntosh, a most estimable lady, while reading the morning paper, exclaimed: "Why, George here is an item which says you were arrested last night for beating a restaurant and yet I am sure you were not out of the house." The incident, and the laugh has been on Mr. McIntosh among his friends all day, and he has been kept busy explaining that there is another George McIntosh in town.

THE LETTER ASKING FOR AN OPINION IS AS FOLLOWS:

On April 23, 1932, we received from the board of education of this city an estimate of the amount needed for the support and maintenance of the city schools for the coming year; also the necessary amount for the payment of interest on bonds; the amount necessary for the sinking fund; likewise the amount for the purchase of school sites and the erection of school buildings.

Acting on this estimate in conformity with the requirements of section 1396, revised statutes of Utah 1903, in conjunction with the county commissioners and county auditor, we did, on July 14, 1932, upon receipt of the amount of the assessed valuation of Salt Lake City, and the amount of the purchase of school sites and the erection of school buildings.

It was shown that it did not require the full limit allowed by law, to-wit, five and five-tenths mills for the maintenance of the city schools, but that the amount needed was only 5.2 mills. The board of education, however, in its estimate, asked for 5.2 mills, and the board of education, in its estimate, asked for 5.2 mills.

We will thank you at this time if you will kindly prepare for us at your earliest possible opportunity, a written opinion as to whether we can legally change the rate made, and if, according to the facts as stated above, we have complied with the requirements of the law as prescribed by section 1396, as stated above.

COUNTY ATTORNEY'S REPLY.

In reply to the county attorney sent the following:

Replying to your favor of July 30, I beg to say that the provisions of section 1396 of the revised statutes of 1903, declaring the board of education shall, prior to May 1 of each year, prepare a statement and estimate of the amounts necessary for the support and maintenance of the schools, etc., and certify the same to the board of county commissioners for their approval, and the board of county commissioners, in its estimate, asked for 5.2 mills, and the board of education, in its estimate, asked for 5.2 mills.

BALLOONISTS HAVE CLOSE CALL

Prof. Wayne Abbott Came Nearly Making His Last Ascent.

When the announcement was made yesterday at Calder's Park that the balloon ascension would take place at 6 o'clock, no matter how hard the wind might blow, nobody gave thought to the idea that an accident was going to occur, but it did just the same.

Prof. Wayne Abbott, who makes the daily ascensions, came very near losing his life and killing somebody else besides. Abbott says he had a presentiment that something was going to happen and had spoken of it to several persons during the day. He said he had longed all day to go to his wife and child who are in Ogden and do what he would like to do, but he could not shake off the feeling of impending danger.

He went on with his business, however, but was obliged to have the help of men to get into the basket. It was a very close call, and when the moment came to leave the basket, he was nearly blown away. He was nearly blown away, and when the moment came to leave the basket, he was nearly blown away.
