CAMBLER KILLS EX-POLICE CHIEF.

John W. Considine Puts Three Bullets Through W. L. Meredith.

IT OCCURRED IN SEATTLE.

Formerly Close Friends They Became Deadly Enemies - Each Threatened to Shoot Other on Sight.

Seattle, Wash., June 25.-At 5:25 o'clock this afternoon John W. Considine, one of the proprietors of the Standard gambling house and the People's theater in this city, shot and killed ex-Chief of Police W. L. Meredith. The shooting occurred in Guy's drug store on the corner of Second avenue and Yesler way, in the heart of the city. Considine was only wounded slightly in the head by a ball from a double barreled shotgun in Meredith's hands.

The stories of the shooting are conflicting and it cannot yet be said who was the aggressor. The men had threatened to shoot one another on sight and were both prepared for trouble. The drug store at the time of the shooting was crowded with people and shooting was crowded with people and one bystander was shot through the arm by a stray bullet.

Meredith was killed while struggling with John Considine and Tom Considine, who had come to his brother's aid. Three bullets from Considine's revolver, fired at short range, pierced Meredith's body, one in the head, another in the chest and another in the adhomen.

Considine was at once arrested by Considine was at once arrested by Sheriff Cudihee and two police officers, who were in the drug store when the fatal shots were fired. He was taken to the police headquarters and from there transferred to the county jall in a closed carriage to avert a lynching, of which there was some talk in the geat growd which gathered about the scene of the shooting.

Considine and Meredith had been mortal enemies for about three years, although they were prior to that time, warm personal friends, and associated together in a theatrical business in Spokane. Meredith, who resigned his office last Saturday on account of pressure brought to bear upon him by Mayor Humes, was a city detective before being made chief. While in the subordinate position he and Considine never spoke, but avoided open battle.

After Meredith was made chief, however, he served notice on Considine that the latter could not remain in the city and direct business, and followed.

city and direct business, and followed up the threat by making several police orders which affected Considine's busi-

In retaliation Considine publicly made charges of corruption in office against Meredith and reiterated them until the Law and Order league took the matter up and called for a council investigation of the police department. A council committee investigated and last Friday night made a report to Mayor Humes advising the removal of Meredith and one of his detectives W. Wappenstein. Mayor Humes there-upon requested Meredith's resignation. It was thought by the friends of both men that shooting would follow Meredith's removal from office and the tragedy of today were not unexpected.

Meredith had spent the afternoon in walking about the streets armed with a "sawed off" double-barreled shotgun loaded with buckshot in search of his man. In order to avert suspicion he had wrapped the weapon in a large sheet of butcher's paper and tied it with a cord so that it bore little resemblance to an instrument of death

He found Considine in front of the drug store shaking hands with a friend, Policeman A. H. Mefford. Thrusting the barrel of the gun over Mefford's shoulder he discharged the weapon full in Considine's face. The paper wrapping prevented him from taking accurate aim, and the charge Considine ran into the store and Meredith following, fired the second barrel just as he entered the door. Then Meredith dropped the gun, and, drawing his heavy revolver, continued the pursuit.

Considine found himself cornered on

Tom Considine, the gambler's brother, who had been standing with him in front of the store, had followed Meredith, and he also grappled with him. Mefford also attempted to disarm Meredith. Then Tom Considine and Meredith engaged in a desperate struggle for the revolver. Tom finally wrenched it from Meredith's grasp, and repeatedly heat the latter over. and repeatedly beat the latter over the head with it.

TEN MILE MOTOR CYCLE MATCH RACE

Salt Palace Patrons Were Given a Treat Last Night.

TURVILLES WERE DEFEATED

Chapman and Vaughan Won the Rig Event in Seventeen Minutes, Fifteen Seconds-Amateur Events.

The chilly condition of the weather last evening did not prevent 2,000 bicycle enthusiasts from attending the races at the Salt Palace. Thrilling surprises in the final of every race was the order of the evening, and scores of spectators were heard to remark as between the Turvilles and Chapman and Vaughan was by far the most exciting and successful race seen on the famous saucer for many months.

The spectators aim at became delerious with excitement; men, women and children jumped to their feet, waved their hats and hankerchiefs, and cheered wildly for their favorites. Before the race began, Clem Turville approached the officials and registered a profound kick at the presence in the arena of "Big Tim," a St. Bernard dog. 'You can't tell what er dog'll do when dey hear a motor. Dey go 'bughouse' an' somebody'll get killed, See!"

"Tim" was not permitted to witness the race. A number of his close personal friends, including Track Manager Rishell, escorted "Tim" from the track and locked him in the manager's office. The teams took a rolling start and were neck and neck with Turvilles on the pole when the starter gave the signal to fire up. The Turville brothers were the favorites by big odds and their backers were numerous. They took the lead from the start and held it two miles when Chapman and Vaughan let another ounce of ginger into their machine and with an exciting Sprint passed the "motor brothers."

On the fourth mile the Turvilles went up the bank and after several vigorous efforts managed to secure the pole again. It looked good for them until the seventh mile. The other team seemed content to remain close to Turvilles rear wheel. When near the eighth mile post Chapman and Vaughan put on a hair raising sprint and took the lead again. At one point the two machines came dangerously close together and had they rubbed some one would surely have been killed. With the com-pletion of the eighth mile the suspense became almost unendurable for those rode wheel to wheel and shot around the track like meteors. The Turvilles were straining every muscle with the full power of their puffing snorting ma-chine turned on, but they could not secure the coveted position. Chapman and Vaughan were apparently fresh and strong, and with tantalizing persistency forged slowly but surely ahead. "Terriffic" is a mild expression in describing the pace set by the riders on the bell lap. When two-thirds around the track Chapman and Vaughan astounded everybody by a magnificent burst of speed which shot them three wheel lengths ahead of the others. They wen the race in 17 minutes and 15 seconds, which breaks the record of 20:23. The winners received $100 and the losers $50,

Young Leo Bowers proved a thorne in the flesh of the other amateur riders. In the half-mile handicap he took the second heat—and final after sprinting almost the entire distance. The time was 25 2-5. Bowers' handicap was 110

W. F. King, the new professional, was there with the requisite articles last night and exhibited a pair of heels to the others in the second and final heats of the mile handicap. Eddie Smith and Milt Trenam were excused from riding on account of ill-
