

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, AUGUST 10.

Judge M. L. Ritchie is in receipt of a communication from Attorney Lloyd P. Larue, of San Francisco, in which the writer asks to be furnished with a copy of the papers showing the appointment of T. B. Jones, a deputy, under United States Marshal Josiah Hosmer, away back in the year 1869. Jones is now a resident of San Francisco, and having a claim against the government, is desirous of getting the papers before instituting proceedings. The letter states that Jones captured the murderers of Russell, a contractor for the Union Pacific. He is also said to be a veteran of the Mexican war. A search for the papers in United States Marshal Miller's office proved fruitless, when Mr. Ritchie sought County Clerk Dunbar, who is now endeavoring to find them.

Grangeville, Idaho, Free Press: A very severe accident occurred at the farm of E. W. Oliver last Friday. William S. Schramm while oiling and cleaning a mower, was kicked in the face by one of his horses attached to the machine. The blow struck him on the right side of the face nearly destroying the use of the right eye, fractured his jaw, knocked out several teeth and terribly lacerated his face. Mr. Schramm came from southern Idaho to Florence, hearing so much of that camp and hoping to get work, but finding no work there came out on the prairie to work in the hay fields, where he was injured. He has a wife and several children dependent upon him, all now being camped on Butcher creek on Mr. Oliver's ranch. The people of Grangeville hearing of this painful accident sent the family about $30 in money and provisions.

Those orchardists who have neglected spraying up to this date, may atone for the later brood of codlin moths that are infesting the apple orchards, by means of bands tied around apple trees. It is proven beyond doubt that the worms which came from the first brood are now about to transform into flying moths, prepared to lay eggs that will develop into worms to destroy the late apples and pears. In my own observation, I have trapped by bands as many as fifty worms on one tree, all ready to develop into flying moths. It is a fact beyond dispute that the late crop of worms does more damage to winter apples and pears in Utah than is done by the earlier broods. In view of these facts, it is especially recommended that the spray of Paris green and lime be applied at least twice more this season on the late apples between Aug. 15th and Sept. 10th.

The teachers of the city schools have been directed by the board of education to attend the county teachers' institute to be held in American Fork canyon, commencing August 29th and continuing for one week. Prof. W. M. Woolfe, Prof. E. S. Hinckley and other educators are expected to deliver lectures on subjects of interest to teachers.

The city schools will commence on September 12th.

The Syracuse Canning company of Davis county filed articles of incorporation today in the office of Secretary of State Hammond. The capital stock is $12,000, and the incorporators are, Wm. J. Parker, Gilbert Parker, James Warren, David Cook Sr., W. H. Beazer, W. H. Miller, D. C. Adams, David Cook, John W. Singleton and Thos. E. Ross. The officers are James T. Walker, president; Wm. J. Parker, vice president, and John W. Singleton secretary and treasurer.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, AUGUST 12.

Word was received from Com. C. Richards, son of Hon. C. C. Richards last night that he and Elijah Larkin, another Ogden boy, who were laboring as missionaries in Germany, had been banished from Hanover and Prussia. There was no charge of wrongdoing. The boys were simply taken before a magistrate, interrogated, and banished, the officers telling them at the same time that there was no violation of law and no charge. This is the second banishment of Com., he having been banished from Hamburg. Mr. Larkin's mission is ended, and he will return home, but Com. goes to Switzerland, where he will continue his labors.—Ogden Standard, 11th.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, AUGUST 13.

Presidents Wilford Woodruff and George Q. Cannon took the noon Rio Grande Western train today, with the Pacific coast as their destination. They will first go to San Francisco and will then quietly visit points of interest in the stat. The trip is simply undertaken for rest and recreation with beneficial results to health as the ultimate aim of the outing. President Woodruff, all things considered, was feeling pretty well today. As to President Cannon, his health has not been good for some time. It is sincerely hoped that the change will do them both good. They will only be absent for the next two or three weeks.

Lewiston, July 31, 1898.

There met at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum Karren, of this place, their friends and relatives, the occasion being the birthday of Mr. Karren. He was 54 years old that day. There were present all of their children except two; Mrs. Bell Karren Harris of Marysville, Fremont county, Idaho, and their son Thomas S. Karren, who is on a mission to the Eastern States. It was a very enjoyable time. Mr. Karren's daughter-in-law presented him with a beautiful rocking chair as a token of respect. Mr. Karren is one of the pioneers of Lewiston, having come here 26 years ago. He is one of our well-to-do farmers and a respected citizen.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, AUGUST 15.

Baltimore American: Men so widely separated from each other as are Pennsylvania and Utah may be accepted as fairly typical of the average American. They teach that the American can be converted into a soldier in a marvelously short time, and that a standing army is unnecessary in this country, no matter where menaces come from.

Boston Journal: The Tenth Pennsylvania and First California are good regiments of the national guard. The Utah battery is an entirely new command. None of these troops had ever before been under fire. They could scarcely have behaved with more steadiness and gallantry if they had been seasoned soldiers.

Chicago Chronicle: The engineer regiment has been supplied with a chaplain at the last moment. Rev. E. S. Kimball, of Utah, is the appointee, and he bears the distinction of being the first and only Mormon minister ever appointed to a like position in the United States army. Chaplain Kimball delivered his first address to the troops yesterday, and greatly impressed the soldiers.

Richfield, August 13, 1898.

Elder Christian Jensen, a highly respected citizen of Richfield, died of dropsy early in the morning of the 12th inst. (Friday). He was one of the early members of the Church in Denmark, and labored for years as a successful missionary in his native land, and emigrated to Utah with his family in 1866. He was aged 72 years and 13 months at the time of his demise. He was the father of Anderw Jensen, the historian.

Another gallant captain of the Twenty-fourth—J. E. Brett—has returned home to nurse a wound received from a Spanish bullet, and to recover from a fever contracted on Cuban soil. He arrived on the Rio Grande Western yesterday afternoon, and was met at the depot and warmly welcomed by a party of friends. Captain Brett's wound is in the right arm, where he was struck late in the afternoon of July 1st, as with arm extended outward and upward he tightly grasped his sword and urged his men onward. Suddenly a bullet from the guns of the enemy struck him in the forearm and ploughed its way clear to the shoulder, cutting off a portion of the elbow. The arm fell limp and useless at his side, and he was carried to the rear. The wound from which he is suffering is a very painful one, and means that he will never thoroughly recover the use of his arm. He also shows the effects of an attack of malarial fever, but under the genial skies and matchless climate of Utah, expects to recover rapidly.

Funeral services over the remains of Elder George Clark, superintendent of the Fifth ward Sunday school, were held in the Fifth ward meeting house beginning at 11:30 yesterday, Bishop
