"POLITICAL LAZZABONL" - The Net York Sun says, "Let the reign of small men come to an end. The people are deepenacted by their Representatives; and at their present rate of encroachment, how long will it take for them to reach the point when they will issue their edict, commanding every man who entertains a certain form of faith not to vote? If they can punish citizens for exercising the right to bear ciple." It is to be hoped that "the reign of small men" will soon come to an end in take of their conduct is that they have hoped by this series of out-rages to goad the people into the com-mission of some overt act; and then they have thought the result would be clear. They could raise the cry of "re-beilion," call loudly for troops, hoping by their aid to complete the work of subjugation which they have begun. Need we say to the majority of our subjugation which they have begun. Need we say to the majority of our readers that they will be disappointed in their plans and hopes?
