O'Leary, soldiers stationed at Fort Douglas, who are charged with assaulting and robbing Harold Berrum on Feb. 27. When these two men were arrested, four other soldiers were taken into custody. They are Ralph Ord, J. J. Lynch, Robert R. Janish and E. N. Bienvue. The authorities learned that the last named four were not participants in the robbery, but knew something about the case and would prove to be material case and would prove to be material witnesses when the case came up for hearing. Accordingly, they were re-cased upon their own recognizance, and ordered to appear in court this morning. This they failed to do and when the matter was called by the clerk. The musicians, instrumentalists and vocal-ists are first class, in fact some of the singers are possessed of remarkable volces. This is particularly true of Rosswell J. Wright, whose folsectio is almost a pure soprano. William Ren-and has a pleasing rich and deep bass volce. The "Batteship Four" sang in a manner that resulted in numerous re-calls, and the rendition of "The Swanee River" by the chorus was splendid. George Van, ns ever, was the feature of the fun-making. The work of Major Smith as a stick manipulator was ex-ceedingly clever. All in all, the per-formatice was one of the best in its line seen here in a long time. She then took the girl in her confidence and urged her to give the man up. She refused to do so, and then Mrs. McLain took the matter up with the judge of the juvenile court with the result that the girl was committed to the reform school. She threatened to run away from the school and to marry Bowen in spite of the interfer-ence of her mother and the juvenile court.

The other case taken from the juris-diction of the district court is that of McGurrin and Gustin vs. the Daly-Judge Mining company. In this suit one Peter Gribbin entered into con-tract with the attorneys mentioned to prosecute a claim for damagese, and it is aliged that Gribbin and the com-pany conspired together and settled the case, without the knowledge of plaintiffs, the settlement being on a basis of $3,500, as against $50,000 sued for.

OTHER BUSINESS. S. B. 106, amending the laws for the protection of the bee industry, was passed, as was also S. B. 172, requiring the secretary of state to file in each county copies of titles to land in that county it receives from the govern-ment. The bill is meant to insure titles secured from the state land board by applicants. The reason for its intro-duction was that loan associations have hesitated to accept state titles in taking morizages, when there is no copy available of the state's right to dispose of the land. At 1 o'clock the senate took a recess until this afternoon, when the rail-road bill comes up as a special order. Nellie M. Van Vliet has filed suit for divorce in the district court against William Van Vliet on the grounds of desertion and failure to support. They were married in this city on Dec. 23, 1903, and have one dhild, of which plaintiff asks the cus-tedy. She allages that defendant de-serted her and has failed to support her although he has steady employ-ment as a salesman of musical instru-ments and receives a salary of from $90 to $200 per month. She asks for 550 as attorney's fees, $50 per month alimony and for the restoration of her maiden name, Nellie M. Bowen.

IN THE HOUSE.

Anti-Luke Measures Occupy Attention Of Wise Ones This Morning.

Of Wise Ones This Morning. The anti-Luke measures, consisting of senate bills 160 to 166, had the floor in the house this morning. The senate passed favorably on this lot and sent them up to the house. Two of these, namely 164, prohibiting cham-pertous contracts, and 160, providing a penalty for soliciting litigation by attorneys and others, were passed. The house balked, however, on one of the series, S. B. 161, which aims to annul and dismiss actions in justices courts commenced before the year 1900, which have not been prosecuted to judgment. This bill failed by one vote, and Clegg gave notice of a re-consideration tomorrow. Tolton of Beaver and Pedersen of Cache oppos-ed the measure, but not from any ed the measure, but not from any serious reason and the Salt Lake mem-bers feel that on reconsideration the bill, with its fellows, will receive the approval of the house.

change of venue. A hundred and fifty affidavits were filed before noon, alleging prejudice on the part of the people of Canyon coun-ty. The defense have 600 similar affi-davits to file if it becomes necessary. The state will make a viporous fight to prevent a change of venue. It was an-nounced that Judge Wood would hear the motions in the case at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The mandate not having ar-rived from the U.S. supreme court the prosecution were prepared to ask that further proceedings go over until Mon-day, when the mandate is expected to be here.

RUEF'S CASE.

Adjourned to Give Prosecution Time To File Counter Affidavits.

To File Counter Affidavits. Ban Francisco, Cal, March 12.-Contrary to expectations the work of selecting a jury to try Abrabam Ruef for extortion was not began this morning in Judge Dunne's department of the superior court. Instead, an adjournment was taken until comorrow morning at 10:20 o'clock, to give the presecution time to file counter-affidavits answering the allegations of blas of pretudice made against Judge Dunne in the affidavit filed on Sunday by Rief to prepare the way for his request for a change of trial judges, which his attorneys are to transmit to Judge Dunne before the examination of talesmen is begun.
