

THE SKATING RINK AGAIN.

It is not necessary for us to make an apology for again making mention of the skating pavilion. We have several times condemned it as a dangerous pitfall for the youth of both sexes, but more especially young women. We are gratified to be in a position to state that the attitude we have assumed regarding it is now generally unqualifiedly endorsed by the entire thoughtful and respectable portion of the community. On this subject we here insert a communication received this morning from a gentleman of this city:

"Our indignation has long been boiling at the disgraceful proceedings which have, from time to time, taken place in the skating rink, and now it is overflowing, and we feel in duty bound to raise our voice in protest and warning to parents who have daughters who frequent that place. Night after night have we noted acquaintanceships formed in that place by parties who would blush for shame if their names were given to the public. We have noticed young ladies (?) escorted home by persons with whom they flirted during the evening and of whose characters they knew absolutely nothing. Can any possible good come from this? After very careful observation we have found that a majority of the sterner sex who attend are street men and soldiers in citizens' dress. We know of many young ladies who nightly meet such men as the above, at divers places, all brought about by flirtations in the skating rink. Parents would do well to note this, and surely they could find better places of amusement for their daughters."

Our correspondent does not paint the picture in colors a particle too strong. He tells the solid truth. It appears that the infamous resort has been almost totally abandoned by the members of the male sex of any degree of respectability, but not a few of the daughters of our respectable citizens still frequent it. Like moths attracted by the flicker and glare of a flame, they hover around the point of danger, until, in their giddy, unthinking course, they are caught in the trap of irretrievable ruin.

The status of the pavilion is now of such a character that young women cannot frequent it and preserve their names from at least the taint of suspicion if nothing more. Parents should take the advice we have several times given, now repeated by our correspondent, and keep their daughters from going to such places.

A CASE NOT BEYOND HELP.

Dr. M. H. Hinsdale, Kenawee, Ill., advises us of a remarkable cure of Consumption. He says: "A neighbor's wife was attacked with violent lung disease, and pronounced beyond help from Quick Consumption. As a last resort the family was persuaded to try Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. To the astonishment of all, by the time she had used one half dozen bottles she was about the house doing her own work."

C. H. Lewis, druggist, of Cedar Vale, Kansas, writes: "I have sold 'Prickly Ash Bitters' for the past seven or eight years, and consider them one of the most reliable proprietary medicines I handle, as is evinced by the continual increase in sales and the almost universal satisfaction which attends their use."

For Coughs and Throat Disorders use Brown's Bronchial Troches. "Have never changed my mind respecting them, except I think better of that which I began thinking well of."—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. Sold only in boxes.

H. M. WYETH'S PATENT.

He who furnishes the Public with a Labor Saving Machine should be highly esteemed for his works' sake.

PATENTED JAN. 1st, 1884.

THE GREAT OBJECT REACHED AT LAST.

THE PUBLIC HAVE LONG NEEDED A pump simple in its construction, durable, cheap and not liable to get out of order. This desideratum H. M. Wyeth of Salt Lake City, Utah, has (after many years of experience) attained by inventing and patenting a Double Acting Anti-Freezing Force Pump. So simple in its construction that any person of ordinary mechanical genius can make it. Every farm or dwelling should be supplied with one or more for house use or for watering stock, gardens, yards or protecting buildings from fire, and it is warranted not to freeze in the coldest weather.

There is a general and increasing demand for pumps, and it is believed that this pump will ultimately take the place of all others in the market. Its manufacture and sale offer the best inducements to industrious persons for a continued and lucrative business and the broadest margin for safe investments and profitable speculation of any invention extant.

Any parties wishing to travel with a good pleasant and paying business in any part of the United States are invited to call on or address
