

SAM PICKETT OUT ON BONDS.

Off-and-On Theatrical Manager
Breathes Air of Freedom
Once Again.

SOME MORE OF HIS VICTIMS.

Salt Lake Dentist Has an Experience
Of Brief But Expensive Character
With Dramatic Promoter.

Sam Pickett, the off-and-on theatrical manager who is alleged to have swindled a number of would-be thespians in Salt Lake, has been released on a bond of $500 in Denver pending his trial in the United States circuit court there. Pickett was arrested on Friday by the United States authorities for fraudulent use of the mails along the same lines in which he indulged in Utah when he was making arrangements to stage an extravaganza at Saltair. He was engaged in the same pastime when arrested in Denver.

From advices that have reached this city there were quite a number of young people in Denver who were caught in Sam Pickett's "big salary" trap. After relating the circumstances surrounding a pretty little romance in which a victim named Wilson, who had fallen in love with a hardworking Denver girl who had put up good coin for the privilege of attending the Pickett rehearsals and incidentally earning fame and fortune on the stage, the Denver Post of Sunday goes on to relate how Wilson denounced Pickett at one of his rehearsals in front of the entire company, and then tells of a second case in which Cupid figured as follows:

Arthur B. Hughes' connection with Pickett's company may terminate in another romance. Members of the organization now say that all that kept young Hughes from losing money on the deal was his liking for Miss Eunice Kingsbery, another girl imposed upon. An emissary of Pickett's got acquainted with Hughes, who is a wealthy young ranchman with valuable property at Rocky Ford, and stops when in town at 3608 Williams street. He brought the latter to Pickett and Pickett, in a burst of confidence, told Hughes that he liked his ways and would let him into a partnership upon payment of $250 cash. Hughes said he would investigate, and went into watch rehearsals. He witnessed a number of them, and was attracted by Miss Kingsbery's girlish beauty and gentle deportment. One afternoon he stole home with her and her mother. After that he did the same thing with considerable regularity. Now it is told by a close friend to both that he told her he was going to invest in the partnership, and that thereupon Miss Kingsbery partly unburdened her secret troubles and warned him that she had not been paid a cent of salary in weeks and that a man so slow to pay honest obligations might not be a desirable business partner. Hughes saw the point, and Pickett lost his chance. It is said also that he wanted to make amends to Miss Kingsbery for Pickett's failure, but that the latter proudly refused, and that Hughes then avowed that he would yet "find a way to repay her goodness." Their friends say it will not be hard to guess how he means to do it.

SALT LAKE VICTIM.

Still another victim of Pickett's is Dr. Carter Hargadeen, a Salt Lake City dentist, who came all the way to Denver to join the company and then was replaced by another man named Buford, whose fare Carter had paid.

At Colorado Springs Pickett and a woman named Kaylor, called in the show the Spanish beauty, left with all of the funds, stranding the other members. He was arrested two years ago at St. Louis, where he was seeking to organize a company along similar methods employed here. He was taken to Cairo, Ill., and indicted by the federal authorities.

Inspector C. E. Stewart of Iowa City, Ia., who caused his arrest, got Pickett transferred to Sioux City, Ia., and he was tried at Fort Dodge. He pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary at Anamosa, Ia.

When a United States marshal of Denver went to that prison to bring Pickett to this city for trial it was learned that his term had been curtailed and that he had already been liberated. The authorities here have been looking for him ever since.

On gaining his freedom Pickett rejoined the Spanish dancer and went to his old tricks again.

A few weeks ago Pickett reappeared in Denver and opened an office in the Gettysburg, building on Champa street. Again he advertised that he was about to favor the world with another magnificent theatrical production known as "Aladdin, Jr." He secured the services of a few credulous girls and began rehearsing the production.

Among those whom Pickett engaged is Miss Kingsbery of 1821 Champa street. She was earning, she says, $7 a week, but Pickett offered her $15 a week and here and her mother's transportation free. She could not resist such an alluring offer and accepted. The contract was signed six weeks ago, and she says she was to begin to receive pay at once. So far Pickett is credited with payments of only $5.

CHARLES F. KOLICH Had Nervous Indigestion

1428 Eighth Street, St. Louis, Mo., August 26, 1903.

Mr. Kolich says: "I had no appetite; food did not taste good, and my stomach was full of gas continually. My indigestion became so bad my stomach refused the plainest food. I became thin, nervous and gloomy. By advice of a very good physician I took Paine's Celery Compound. It did me a world of good. My digestion has never been so good in my life as it is today. Since using Paine's Celery Compound I have learned of hundreds of others who have used it for the same trouble with splendid results."

PROF. CAMPBELL ON STAR GAZING.

Famous Astronomer Delivers Interesting Lecture on Planetary System.

AT THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

Sage From Lick Observatory Gives Local Scientists Some Pointers on Other Worlds in Space.

A highly interesting lecture on the planetary system was delivered in the assembly hall of the museum building at the University of Utah last evening by Prof. W. W. Campbell of has been dealt with in the most satisfactory way of friendly negotiations between the two nations. The inestimable gain of definitely settling a question offering perennial opportunities for discord between the two great and kindred nations far outweighs any disappointment at the decision which, after all, practically leaves things as they were found.

Boston Merchant Suicides.

Boston, Oct. 21.—After Charles A. Rollins, 63 years old, a retired merchant of this city, had been found dead in a room in his house on Massachusetts avenue with a tube from a gas jet lying by his side, caretaker of his house, Thomas Ryan, 28 years of age, notified one of his friends by telephone and then followed his master to death. The cause of the first death, the medical examiner believes, was suicide, the second, accident.

Japanese Weak in Cavalry.

New York, Oct. 21.—A synopsis of the situation on the Japanese army, published here, says the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times, shows that its weakest point is the cavalry arm, the development of which has been hindered by the lack of horses and the want of suitable places for exercise. The Russian cavalry is seven times more numerous.

The Japanese infantry is most favorably criticized. Its moral qualities are said to be very high, although its physical qualities are on a much lower

The illustration is made from a snap shot of John Alexander Dowie taken a few days ago as he was about to enter Madison Square Garden, New York, where his "host of restoration" is now encamped. Dowie declares that his "campaign against sin in the Gomorrah of the east" has so far been attended with unexpected success and that already he and his people feel more than repaid for the sacrifice they have made in leaving their homes for the temporary work in New York.

The Lick Observatory.

This famous observatory was built by the late millionaire miner, James Lick of San Francisco, who also erected the beautiful monument to Francis Scott Key in Golden Gate park. Prof. Campbell, who has a world-wide reputation as an astronomer, has been in charge of this observatory for the past 13 years. It is situated about 90 miles south of San Francisco, on the side of Mount Hamilton, over 4,000 feet above the level of the sea. The atmosphere at that point is so clear and rare that it is regarded as much superior to observatory situations as high as 15,000 feet above the sea, and it is doubtful if it has its equal in point of location and equipment in the world.

Prof. Campbell says that of the summit three-quarters of the sky is visible and that they have the second largest telescope with the largest lens, viz. 36 feet in diameter, in America. The professor is a fluent and entertaining speaker and was attentively listened to throughout his discourse.

Dr. Kingsbury introduced the speaker who began by discussing the planets and stars. Of the latter he said there were over a hundred million. He said the apparent motion of a star was deceptive, because of the rapid motion of the observer. He pointed out the great strides made in astronomy by the invention of the spectroscopic by the use of which the direction and rate of the stars have been exactly computed and even the elements of which the planets are composed have been made known.

He said the speed of the solar system was 12 1/2 miles per second, or over 400,000 miles per year. On the subject of comets he said that their tails always pointed away from the sun and that they were undergoing constant change, the intense heat and light of the sun driving the particles into space. He discussed the size and age of the stars and illustrated the different stages of the nebula by photographs of which he exhibited some 25. He closed by showing a photograph of Lick observatory with Mount Hamilton in the background.

Alverstone Alone Was Unbiased.

London, Oct. 21.—The Times says Lord Alverstone is the only commissioner who could fairly be said to have approached the subject absolutely without bias save for the natural bias of a Briton in favor of British interests. "We doubt if after mature reflection," says the Times, "the Canadians will feel that they have been brought the case before an actual court of arbitration. As it is the matter level. In warm countries, it is declared, the Japanese infantryman has displayed extraordinary powers of endurance, but he would hardly be likely to show them in a cold climate.

EASY ENOUGH

To Shake Off Coffee and Sickness.

It is easy to shake off coffee no matter how bad one may crave it, when well made Postum Coffee is served in its place.

"I have drank coffee for years and always experienced trouble from it," says a Kansan. "I knew it was causing my sickness as my doctor told me it was, and following the doctor's advice I have repeatedly sworn off. But after a short time I could not stand it any longer and would go back to coffee and the old troubles. Never until I tried Postum about a year ago could I shut off the coffee for any length of time."

"At that time I was suffering terribly from stomach trouble, nervousness, headaches and all the other ills that go with a badly upset coffee stomach. I am a school teacher and if I made my coffee strong enough to stimulate my stomach I could work fine for a time but would collapse at night. Gradually I failed to get stimulation from the coffee and my brain seemed actually clogged up from drinking coffee and my stomach was in a wretched state."

"A friend came to see me and advised that I try Postum and then went out and got me a package, she was so certain it would help me. But my landlady did not make it right and I was so disappointed with that taste that I went back to my coffee. My health finally got so bad I was on the point of giving up school work. Then my friend returned to see me one day and asked about the Postum and when she found out what the trouble was she made it for me according to directions, boiling it full 15 minutes, and to my surprise I found it delicious."

"Then I shut off the coffee and found it easy to do by drinking Postum in its place which completely satisfied my coffee taste and I began to feel better almost immediately. I have used Postum ever since and my stomach has not given me a minute's trouble. I am now strong again, my nerves are steady and normal and I feel so fine I cannot begin to tell you how thankful I am."

"I persuaded my brother who was an inveterate coffee drinker for years to give up the coffee and try Postum and he has had such grand results from this that he says he will never go back to coffee. When I went home on a visit to my parents I persuaded them to use Postum in the place of coffee and the results have been that Mother's nervousness and sleeplessness have disappeared." Name given by Potum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Mrs. Hattie La Fountain

Mrs. Hattie La Fountain, Treas. Protected Home Circle and Catholic Ladies of Ohio, writes from Gallon, O., as follows:

"After my first child was born I suffered for several months with bearing down pains accompanied by dreadful headaches. I was afraid my health was ruined for life, and felt very downcast about it. One day when a friend was visiting me she told me of Peruna and what it had done for her when she suffered with irregular menstruation. My husband procured a bottle the same evening and I began to take it daily according to directions. Before the first bottle was used I was entirely well, and you certainly have one grateful woman's blessing. I have also advised my friends to use it."

Secretary Woman's State Federation Says: "Per-ru-na Does More Than is Claimed for it."

Mrs. Julia M. Brown, Secretary of the Woman's State Federation of California, writes from 131 1/2 Fifth St., Los Angeles, Cal., as follows:

"I have never known of any patent medicine which did what it professed to do except Peruna. This remedy does much more than it claims, and while I have never advocated any medicine I feel that it is but justice to speak a good word for it because I have found it to be such a rare exception."

"I have known several women who were little better than physical wrecks, mothers who dragged out a miserable, painful existence, but were made well and strong through the use of Peruna. I have known of cases of chronic catarrh which were cured in a short time, when a dozen different remedies had been experimented with and without good results. I use it myself when I feel nervous and worn out, and I have always found that the results were most satisfactory."

HER GREAT FORTUNE.

A Woman Saved From Life-Long Misery and Made Happy and Useful.

A woman confined to the house for several years with a chronic female derangement had finally given up hope of being cured.

She had tried physician after physician, and remedy after remedy, without any permanent improvement.

Her treatment had cost her husband who was a poor man, hundreds of dollars. They had been obliged to deny themselves many comforts of life in order to get money enough to pay the physicians.

The woman had become weak, nervous and wretched, and scarcely able to keep out of her bed. Her children were growing up neglected and ragged, because of the want of a mother's care. Her husband was becoming discouraged and broken down with overwork.

Picking up the paper one day she happened to read an item which contained the news that Dr. Hartman would treat such cases free of charge by letter. She immediately wrote the doctor describing her case, and giving him all her symptoms.

She soon received a letter telling her exactly what to do, and what medicines and appliances to get. She began the treatment (the principle remedy being Peruna) at once, and in a few weeks she was well and strong again, able to do her own work.

This offer of free home treatment to women is still open to all who may need the services of this eminent physician. All letters applying for treatment will be promptly answered, and be held strictly confidential.

Miss Annie Hoban, Post Pocatontos of Yemassee Council of Red Men (Women's Branch), writes from 572 Eighth Ave., New York:

"Three months ago I was troubled with backache and a troublesome heaviness about the stomach. Sleep brought me no rest for it was a restless sleep. The doctor said my nervous system was out of order but his prescriptions didn't seem to relieve me. I was told that Peruna was good for building up the nervous system. After using it for two months I know now that it is. I want to say that it made a new woman of me. The torturing symptoms have all disappeared and I feel myself again. Peruna did me more good than all the other medicines I have taken."

ANNIE HOBAN.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.
