

Displays at The Utah State Fair.

SALT LAKE KNITTING WORKS.

The above half tone shows the beautiful and artistic display of the Salt Lake Knitting Works, which was awarded four gold medals and the cash prize for the best quality and display of all kinds of machine-knit goods.

This factory is the outgrowth of the Salt Lake Knitting Works, incorporated March 16, 1902, and the Western Knitting Company, which consolidated with the Salt Lake Knitting Works March 1, 1904. The officers of the company are: Jos. F. Smith, President; Wm. H. Smart, Vice President; Jos. R. Smith, Secretary; Jos. Nelson, Treasurer; J. H. Garrett, Manager. The Board of Directors are: Jos. F. Smith, Wm. H. Smart, Jos. Nelson, Rudger Clawson, Thomas Hull, Jos. A. West, C. W. Nibley.

They are the sole manufacturers of the well known "Rain Head Sweaters, Temple Brand Garments," and High Grade Underwear and Hosiery, which is being sold by all the progressive merchants throughout the Inter-Mountain region. A long list of these merchants was conspicuously displayed in the exhibit and is certainly a most eloquent recommendation.

The fully automatic knitting machine operated by electricity, in this exhibit, proved to be one of the most interesting features at the Fair. Great strides have been made during the past year in the installation of many new modern machines, thus enabling this company to make goods, not only in all

McDONALD CANDY CO.

A splendid illustration of what perseverance and progressive business methods will do is exemplified in the wonderful growth of the McDonald Candy Co. of Salt Lake City.

From a humble beginning 40 years ago, this progressive firm has increased in trade and popularity until it enjoys an enviable trade in Utah and all near-by states. Branch houses have been established in Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Portland, all of which do an extensive business.

The daily capacity of this popular candy company is twenty thousand pounds. The "Parrot Stick" candy and "Y. G." chocolates are among the most popular of their numerous varieties of sweet meats.

The McDonald Candy factory is located near the center of the city. The building is equipped with the most modern machinery and cleanliness is made a special feature in every department of the factory. The McDonald candy booth at the fair attracted the attention of all passers. The decorations were in green and gold, the pillars being made of paper from the top of which hung candy curtains draped in a very artistic manner.

CARSTENSEN AND ANSON CO.

As the crowds pour into the east entrance of the new fair building their attention is at once captured by the beautiful display of the Carstensen and Anson Co. music booth. Fine samples of the many varieties of musical instruments carried by this firm were tastefully arranged beneath the canopy of this delightful Temple of Music. A most pleasing feature of the exhibit was the free musical selections rendered on the different pianos by a skilled player and the selections that poured forth from the Victor Talking machines.

The Carstensen and Anson Co. is offered by the following: John Leri, President; A. B. Carstensen, Vice President and manager; James H. Anson, Secy., and P. J. Anson, Treasurer.

These gentlemen are live and active business men and by straightforward dealings and splendid business ability have built up a big trade in their line. Their sales of pianos, in the twenty popular makes they are agent for, number more than six hundred each year. Almost everything in the musical line of instruments is carried by this progressive firm.

Their patronage is rapidly increasing not only in Salt Lake City, but throughout Utah and surrounding states, where they are constantly making shipments of their goods.

LAVA SOAP BOOTH.

Lava soap is so well known in Utah that it is scarcely necessary to mention that their display at the Utah state fair is one of the centers of attraction. In the center of the display is a huge volcano with tongues of flame waving from its crater, while down the sides of the mountain streams of lava are pouring and carving with them cakes of the wonderful LAVA SOAP.

Lava soap cuts the dirt and grease like a knife and leaves the skin white and smooth. It is a pure soap, healthful for the skin, wholesome to use.

After a thorough test of all other soaps Lava soap was selected for exclusive use at the World's Fair Grounds at St. Louis, and received nothing but praise from the millions who used it there.

It removes ink and stains from the hands that other soap will not touch. Ask the man whose hands are daily covered with grease and grime, ask the man at the throttle, ask any man who has used Lava soap why it is better than all other soaps. The Home is not complete without it.

It is better than a Turkish bath. It refreshes while it cleanses. Every Greaser and Druggist in Utah has this soap in stock. Don't forget it the next time you want the best that money can buy.

STANDARD ADDING MACHINE.

Business men are interested in improvement and the Standard Adding Machine Co. have arranged a demonstration of their machine at the Utah state fair. They have two demonstrators showing the visitors the merits of this machine which was awarded the Grand Prize at the St. Louis World's Fair and acknowledged to be the best adding machine in the world.

The Standard is a visible writing machine, with a capacity of ninety-nine million, which is larger capacity than any other machine manufactured. It weighs only forty pounds and sells for $185.00.

More than eight thousand of these machines are now in use and the new factory at St. Louis is running night and day to supply the demand. This machine is the bookkeeper's friend, the cashier's help-mate, the banker's delight. It makes a trial balance a pleasure instead of a night mare. It never gets tired, it never gets drunk, it is always ready for work.

These machines are placed on free trial and the people of Utah are realizing that time is money and when a machine saves them time it saves them money and is a good investment. Everyone should see this machine at the Fair.

CRAGER WIRE AND IRON WORKS.

The above is a photo of the exhibit of ornamental iron and wire work, manufactured by The Crager Wire and Iron Works, who are located at 531 State street, Salt Lake City.

One has only to see, to realize the many beautiful and artistic designs which the skilled artisan is capable of producing. The display of the above reliable firm shows that one does not have to leave Utah to have his desires satisfied in the way of ornamental iron work. Iron, the greatest and most useful of metals, is taking the place of wood in many different ways. Fences for cemetery lots and residences are no longer desirable in wood, because a neat and ornamental iron fence is a thing of beauty and a life time investment. If you are thinking of getting an iron fence for your cemetery lot or your home, write them for a catalogue.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY.

The National Biscuit Co., of Salt Lake City, has a very beautiful and artistic display at the state fair in the form of a large bee hive made of packages of crackers. This exhibit captured second prize of $50.00 for the best general display and a gold medal offered for the best display of crackers.

The National Biscuit Co. has been in business for twenty years, during which time they have built up a large and profitable business. The factory has a capacity of 20,000 lbs. of crackers daily and manufactures more than 150 well known varieties of sweet-breads.

More than ninety people are furnished employment by this factory, which does an extensive business in Utah and surrounding states and occasionally makes shipments to California and Oregon.

The company deserve congratulation for their exhibit.

SALT LAKE RUG FACTORY.

A display that attracted no little notice was that of the Salt Lake Rug Factory. This institution commenced doing business four years ago and has rapidly increased its trade ever since. E. B. Yeaman was the original owner, but the factory at present is owned and managed by E. C. Oldfield.

Many beautiful samples of rugs were on exhibition woven from old carpets. The cost of weaving worn-out and otherwise useless carpets into elegant and durable rugs is so little that rug weaving may well be classed among our most beneficial enterprises. Mr. Oldfield has recently installed some of the latest improved machinery for his business and is now prepared to give prompt and efficient service to his numerous patrons. The factory is located at 3740 south Eleventh East street, Salt Lake City, Utah.
