

ROBT. JONES SUES SALT LAKE BEACH

Action Filed in District Court to Recover Value of Articles
Lost at Resort.

CHECKED THEM IN AT WINDOW

Plaintiff Claims Company Failed to Return Envelope Containing Money
And Notes Worth $471.60.

Alleging that he lost money and jewelry in the checking stand at Salt Lake beach, Robert M. Jones today filed suit in the district court against J. E. Langford and the Salt Lake Beach company to recover $471.60, the value of the property said to have been lost. Jones alleges that he went to the resort on July 21, 1907, and before going in bathing checked his valuables at the stand for such purposes. In the envelope which was given him and upon which his name was written he placed the following property: One watch, one gold chain, one Elks' chain, one $100 bill, one $10 gold piece, $7 in silver, three knives, three notes and a bunch of keys. When he returned for his property about two hours afterwards he found that the defendants had failed to return it or to reimburse him for his loss, hence he asks judgment for the sum mentioned above.

ASKS FOR ADMINISTRATOR.

A petition has been filed in the probate division of the district court by Mae T. Nyström asking that George S. Taylor be appointed administrator of the estate of George H. Taylor, who died on April 14, 1907. The estate consists of real property in Provo valued at $3,000 and real estate in this city of the value of $2,000. There are 11 heirs mentioned in the petition.

Mr. Nelligan is an old employee of the Rio Grande and lately has been in charge of division 4. Mr. Cronin is one of the best known roadmasters in the west. He took an active part in the building of the Rio Grande and for 17 years has held important positions with it. His services have been in demand and he has changed about considerably during the time, having been with the Salt Lake Route and other lines at different times. While his future plans are not known definitely it is believed Mr. Cronin intends taking a well earned vacation. The resignation and appointment are now in effect. Mr. Nelligan is in Salt Lake today, making an initial trip over the system now in his care.

SHOOTERS PLAN TRIP.

Tickets will be sold Aug. 18-19, good for return Aug. 31. Salt Lake intends sending her best shots to Denver to bring home a few of the best prizes offered for accurate aim, etc. While no definite action has been taken yet it is certain the local gun clubs will not overlook this opportunity to show their skill in the "clay pigeon pulverizing" line.

BIG EXCURSION COMING.

Harry Cushing, the Rio Grande's jovial traveling passenger agent, has gone into the San Juan country, Colorado, to bring in the best prizes offered for that district on the 10th of this month. San Juan sends in an excursion every year and has announced this year's visitors will exceed all former numbers. Aside from having a pleasure trip each excursion is a means of letting business men and housewives see the beauties and advantages of life in Utah.

MIDLAND MAKES CHANGES.

Mr. C. J. Smith, city passenger agent for the Colorado Midland in L. H. Harding's offices in this city, has resigned, and his place will be filled by Guy Wadsworth, up until this time a member of Denver's railroad family. #### BURLINGTON'S HOME WEEK.

Burlington, Iowa, is planning a big celebration for the second and third week in September. This is to be known as a "home-coming" week, similar to those being held by other pioneer states. Salt Lake has a number of Burlingtonians numbered among her residents and all are receiving invitations to "come back home and meet the old-timers." Several former-Iowans are planning to go back.

between Salt Lake and Chicago is now $39.20 against $42.50, the former fare. The second class rate is $36.70. It was $40 before. The 2-cent rate is now effective in the following states: Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Arkansas. As explained in the "News" some time ago, reduced rates for all persons engaged in ministerial and charitable professions and persons depending upon charity have been withdrawn in states where the 2-cent rate is effective.

Miss Ida Blackford of Portland, Ore., is visiting in this city with her friend, Miss Eva Thomas of Eleventh East street.

QUERY AND REPLY.

Effect of Fine on Standard Oil Co.
Discussed by Atty. Gen. Breiden.

The New York World sent the following query yesterday afternoon, to Attorney-General M. A. Breiden of this state: "The World would very greatly appreciate a dispatch from you at our expense, concerning the effect of the Chicago decision finding the Standard Oil trust $24,000,000. Is it likely that this action will give rise to other prosecutions, and if so, what prosecutions are probable? What will be the extent and significance of new prosecutions of any offending trust? A meeting of attorney-generals of the Mississippi valley will be held in St. Louis next Monday, for the purpose of planning concerted action in the prosecution of any illegal trusts and law violating railroads. Your answer by telegraph is respectfully urged on account of the great importance to the people of the matter involved."

Attorney-General Breiden sent the following reply: "In my opinion the finding of the Standard Oil trust $24,000,000 will have a very beneficial effect. It will have a tendency to discourage it and all similar combinations from wilfully violating public statutes, and from corruptly interfering with legislation, both national and local; and will teach them to keep out of politics, and give their best thought to the promotion of corporate business along honest and legitimate lines, in the interest of the public. Other prosecutions, convictions and heavy penalties will be encouraged, and will surely follow."

FIVE CASES IN DOCKET.

Judge Diehl Goes Through Daily
Batch of Business This Morning.

In Judge Diehl's court this morning two of the gang of alleged gamblers arrested last night, as noted in another part of this evening's "News," failed to answer when their names were called and the court ordered their bail forfeited. The two who will lose $25 each are Lee Field and a Jap named Yoshinaka. The other cases were continued until Saturday for arraignment.

G. Gannon, who was convicted of battery upon one Jos. Magid several days ago, was before Judge Diehl this morning for sentence. He was fined $20 and notice of appeal was given.

The case of Jos. Merion, charged with embezzling $600 from the Western Newspaper Union, was set for the 23rd for preliminary hearing.

S. F. Bauman, charged on two counts of obtaining money under false pretenses, will have a hearing on the 19th. It is alleged that Bauman, who is proprietor of an employment agency, accepted money from laborers and failed to supply them with employment as agreed. His bail was fixed in the sum of $500 in each case.

George Spencer, a barber, was arraigned on the charge of failing to secure a license to practice his trade. He entered a plea of guilty, but sentence was suspended until tomorrow morning, and in the meantime Spencer will secure his license.

The unfortunate man had been unfortunate in his Trinidad asphaltum schemes, and being about run out of money, was despondent. He had been lately in the Sandwich Islands and carried in his grip quite a collection of photographs of Hawaiian girls. He was scantily provided with clothes, but there was a lot of hydrate of chloral crystals in his bag, and the collection of the body and the surrounding strongly pointed to his having dissolved some of these in a tumbler of water, drank the solution, and then dropped off into the sleep that knows no waking. Correspondence found in the room at the hotel indicated that he had had serious differences with his wife, and in one letter he referred to her father in very uncomplimentary terms. The baron was apparently thoroughly disgusted with life, and determined to quit it for another existence wherein he hoped he might do better.

One arm of the deceased was stretched out with outspread hand as if trying to ward off a dreadful something that was approaching, and the shoulder joint was so stiff that considerable force was necessary to get the arm into proper place. The skin was discolored and the features distorted, with an expression as if of intense horror. The entire case was one suggesting that the baron had been playing the wheel of fortune and had gone broke in his anticipations.

GRUESOME SUICIDE STORY.

Death of Baroness Harden-Hickey
Recalls Fate of Her Husband.

The dispatches of Tuesday told of the death of the Baroness Harden-Hickey, daughter of H. M. Flieger, the Standard Oil magnate, recalling the suicide of her husband at El Paso, Tex., in 1897. One of the parties who found the baron dead at the Person hotel, now resides in Salt Lake, and says that he was what might be called a suicide addict. The baron had made a special study of the ethics of suicide and published a little book called by that name. It contained pictures of people taking their lives by knife, poison, hanging, and other positions before mirrors, so as to make sure of their work. There were pictures also of persons drowning themselves, hanging themselves, drinking poison, and showing that the baron Harden-Hickey had given much thought to self destruction.

BIG SCARE CREATED.

Report That Newhouse Had Ordered
Work on Sky-Scrapers Stopped.

A rumor, started presumably by some disappointed contractor, in the opinion of attaches of the Newhouse offices, had it this morning that Mr. Newhouse, who is in New York had wired instructions to have work on his sky-scraper sites in this city stopped. The rumor spread rapidly and became the sole subject of conversation on the street corners. Questions were asked but they could not be answered; no one could offer an explanation. The rumor was that Mr. Newhouse's part. Workmen were at their posts during the forenoon as they have been since work began. Members of the Newhouse staff were questioned regarding the rumor and by all it was ridiculed. Mr. Bloch offered the "disappointed contractor" theory while laughing heartily at the rumor. Salt Lake has been following each day's progress in the excavation and foundation laying of the proposed sky-scraper closely and when the report that work had been ordered stopped, the blue sky became suddenly overcast and sunless. The absolute, unqualified denial of the truth of the rumor will again dispel the clouds. Salt Lake will continue to stand by the rumor and watch the Fourth South and watch the work that means so much for the future of this city.

BEATEN BY THUGS.

A. O. Schmitt Resists Hold Ups and Receives Brutal Treatment.

A. O. Schmitt, residing in the southeastern part of the city, was held up and robbed by two thugs last night as he was on his way home. The robbery occurred at Third East and Fourth South street. When the robbers stopped Schmitt, the latter resisted and was brutally beaten. He was relieved of $1.50 in cash, and a watch and a ring. When attacked Schmitt cried for help and F. W. Sharran, who lives near the scene of the crime, ran to Schmitt's assistance. He ran after one of the thugs and was shot at for his pains. Detectives are working on the case and have a clue that may lead to the apprehension of the men before night.

BURGLARS ARE SENTENCED.

Karrigan and O'Brien Get Five Years
Apiece After Admitting Guilt.

M. J. Karrigan and James O'Brien were arraigned before Judge Armstrong in the criminal division of the district court this morning, and pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary in the second degree. They waived time for sentence and each was given five years in the state prison. On Aug. 5 they burglarized the place of business of the Colorado Tool company at 119 West Second South street. O'Brien is not of age, hence the court appointed E. P. Armstrong as his temporary guardian.

COMMITTED TO PROVO.

Clara Sullivan was examined as to her sanity this afternoon before Judge Armstrong by County Physician Calderwood and Dr. E. G. Gowans, and was found to be insane. She was committed to the state mental hospital at Provo.

Lindley will be united in marriage at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harvey Weaver, 618 South Main street. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. C. E. Perkins of St. Paul's and will be witnessed by only the immediate relatives. The contracting parties. The bride and groom went to school with each other in Ogden and were sweethearts when they first met at the removal from that city of Miss Luggan's family. Several months ago they were again brought together and since then Cupid has made very rapid progress. After the ceremony the happy couple will leave for a trip east. They will be at home to friends at the Virginia flats on east South Temple street after Sept. 15. Miss Luggan was for some time a deputy in the city of Miss Luggan's family. She has been an employee of the United States land office. Mr. Lindley is a well known business man, being a member of Rleser & Lindley.

Harry Jacobs, president of the union, will preside.

Flurry Noted Here.—The flurry this morning in the New York stock market occasions only a disinterested interest among the Salt Lake banks, as it has been well established that the western money market is no longer so dependent on the eastern money marts as to feel a sympathetic shock every time there is a ruction in Wall street.

State Bank of Salina.—A new bank has been started at Salina, Sevier county, to be known as the First State Bank of Salina. The incorporation papers of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state today. Its capital stock is $25,000, divided into shares of the par value of $50 each. N. E. Smith, president; J. W. The creation of the new revenue agent's division makes no changes in the collection districts.

WESTERN MARKET LETTER.

Special Correspondence.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Aug. 6.—A large reduction in cattle receipts last week, as compared with the previous week, enabled salesmen to secure advances on all kinds, ranging from 10 to 25 cents. The supply is 15,000 today, several thousand less than was expected, and the market is firm. A feature lately is the strong demand for country grades, this class showing most advance last week, and supplies below actual requirements. One train of medium class Colorado stockers came in last week, and sold at $3.85, but the movement from the west is not started as yet. A train of the Parsons beef steers are expected today or tomorrow, which will give a pretty line on the market as compared with last year; they are expected to sell at $4.75 to $5.00, if as represented. Top fed steers today sold at $7.15, and bulk of grass cattle from native territory brought $4.40 to $5.00, native feeders up to $5.50, bulk of stockers and feeders, $3.75 to $5.15, grass cows $2.60 to $4.25, heifers up to $4.75, bulls $2.50 to $3.50, veal calves 25 to 50 cents higher than a week ago, at $4.50 to $5.25. Receipts from quarantine territory are only about one-half as heavy as during July and volume of supply from that section will continue moderate till the close of the season, in October.

Sheep receipts are extremely small, only 14,000 head here last week and is firm today, top lambs $7.65, Colorado spring lambs today at $7.60, Colorado ewes $6.20, top ewes $5.50, wethers worth up to $5.85, and yearlings $6.25. A bad break in eastern mutton markets last week was almost unobserved here, as the ratio to other sections from this point has been sufficient to absorb all that came at prices. A few Arizonans were included last week, but supplies were mostly from the west. There is a strong inquiry for stock and breeding stuff, and this would sell on the same basis as mutton grades.

WHO ARE THE GOULDS?

At Monte Carlo Passed as People of Respectability.

Monte Carlo, Aug. 8.—The finding of the dismembered body of a woman at Marseilles Aug. 6 in the baggage of two travelers who were at first referred to as Mr. and Mrs. Gold, but who have been identified as persons who were known here as Sir Vere and Lady Gould, has created a great deal of interest here, where the parties were regarded as people of respectability. The police say the investigation indicates that the woman, whose name has now been definitely established as Emma Levin, was murdered by the Goulds. Jewels believed to have belonged to the victim were found in the prisoners' satchels. A commission has been dispatched to England to investigate the antecedents of the Goulds. The man prisoner passed as an Irish baronet of Montreal, where his wife was a Miss Graudon, earned her living as a dressmaker some 25 years ago.

WILD-CAT INVESTMENTS.

How the "Get Rich" Corporations Are Faring—How Victims Are Caught.

"Now that gilt-edge railway securities are hard to sell and great, prosperous companies are suspending improvements for lack of money or borrowing at high rates," writes the Railway Age, "as a result of the distrust of corporations which makers of public opinion have fostered, it would be strange if the promoters of get-rich-quick schemes did not experience a decline in the demand for their dubious securities. Within the past year many millions of hard-earned and ill-spaced dollars have been handed into the possession of strangers, solely on the strength of advertisements promising fabulous returns. Almost invariably the stocks thus alluringly offered have been unbacked by tangible security, representing only the capitalization of an idea in the hands of a few instances these blind speculations may have brought a profit which is pretty sure to be lost in the next venture; in many cases the 'dividends' which allure to further investment were obtained from the money of fresh victims; but in the great majority of cases principal and interest have gone altogether. The promoters have the cash and the investors acquired the experience.

"Generally, the victims of stock selling advertisements, widely scattered, without organization, pocket their losses and kept still. Sometimes, however, they attempt to organize and get legal redress. This was the case of a handful of the 10,000 confiding people in this and other countries who are said to hold stock in an airline electric railway scheme that for a year or more has been proposing to bring Lake Michigan within 10 hours of the Atlantic. The original advertisement promised that the first section of 100 miles would be in operation within a year and figured that the earnings would then pay at least 12 per cent on the investment, while after 20 per cent would probably be the minimum return to the fortunate investor. Other inducements were offered, as that the stock bought at $25 a share would sell at $300, that the stock would be received at par for transportation over the entire length of the line, and that the shareholders would be the favored selections for the 5,000 or more positions which the service of the great road would require.

"None of these expectations has been realized. The road, the dividends, the delightful journey at 75 miles per hour, and the lucrative positions all are only things once hoped for. Some 30 of the stockholders have started suit for a rescissory, which, while not likely to profit the investors, will probably have the effect of making some other people cautious about buying stock in paper promises and the times of enthusiastic expectations.

"It is a sign of returning financial sanity that the half-page and whole-page advertisements of stock companies, and the promotion of rubber plantations, coffee groves, mining schemes, unappreciated patented devices, and stupendous electric railways that are to revolutionize the science of transportation, which so long enriched the Sunday newspapers, are now few and growing fewer. The rich field where the nifty promoter and skillful advertiser writer, powerfully aided by the tacit endorsement of the great newspapers, labored so successfully for a year or two, seems to be getting worked out. People—plain people to whom these promoters appeal—are learning that enterprises promising enormous profits which shrewd capitalists decline to undertake do not offer safe investments for the savings of the poor. With the source of supplies—the money of the uninformed and credulous—stopped by this discovery the collapse of such enterprises is inevitable.

"Credit for the suppression of some more open get-rich-quick schemes is due to the postoffice department, but some that ought to have been suppressed continue to victimize the ignorant and needy. May it not be possible that in its eager prosecutions of such promoters, the department is overlooking the duty to protect its citizens from promotion schemes whose deceptive character was evident, and whose operations have brought loss to multitudes for the enrichment of the few?"

Some Business Men Are Too "Conservative." If a farmer concluded not to plant seed, but to "conserve" it, because crops sometimes fail, he would be as wise as the merchant who "conserves" the money which should be invested in publicity, because he has it in bank, and because he fears that publicity may not be completely profitable.
