rince of Peace, preparations for advent are now so strongly in in the preaching of the recospel. The speaker quoted Ten-poem, "Universal Peace," and om the Book of Abraham, con-the visions of Enoch relative

The selections rendered by the choir were in keeping with the subject under consideration, "Hark! Listen to the Gentle Breeze," "Behold the Mountain of the Lord," and the "Hallelujah" chorus. The invocation and benediction were pronounced by Elders Arnold II. Schultess and Angus M. Cannon, President John R. Winder presided, ELDER ORSON F. WHITNEY.

Elder Whitney said that the subject peace among the nations had claim-the attention of good men and wo-n in all ages of the world. Pro-its have predicted that a time would pnets nave predicted that a time would come which war would be no more poets have sung of such a consumma-ion to be, and to such a period phil-inthropists have looked forward with anthropists have looked forward with fond anticipation. Sometimes it has seemed that the hopes of lovers of seacc would be realized, but each time e would be teached to defer the eithing has arisen to defer the tion. The Lord of heaven is the loc of Peace. Earth, His footstool fallen, but the Almighty designs resteration, and the bringing about universal peace when promised peace disappointments nee. to the Latter-day Saints have come no such disappointments. They have builded more broadly. The discourage-ments have come to those who be-lieved that the kingdom of God was established when the Saytor first came to earth. The first coming of our Lord was but a preparation for His second was but a preparation for His second coming. He came not to bring peace, but a sword. His mission, while one of peace, brought strife, setting brother against brother. Men were free to receive or reject the gospel, and those who opposed it would naturally be embittered against Christ's followers.

THE ADVENT OF PEACE.

It is plain that there are two com-ings of the Lord Jesus Christ, and to ascertain the time spoken of when peace shall reign on earth, these two advents must be taken into considera-

To make ready for the millennial reign of peace, God raised up a prophet in the latter days, restored to earth the ancient and everlasting gospel, and established anew the Church of Jesus Christ. The mission of Mormonism is to prepare for the second coming of the Lord Jesus Christ, at which time there will be a reign of peace on earth for a thousand years.

Lucifer brought strife and contention into the world, but he is not going to have his way altogether. His power over earth is for a little season. The warfare between Satan and the King of Heaven is manifest in the turnoil going on in the world, but finally the power of the evil one will be overcome and his banishment will follow. Mormonism is God's work, and will not cease until peace and good will shall have been fully realized.

yesterday afternoon, after services at the residence of W. S. Ferris. 1072 east First South. Rev. P. A. Simpkin was in charge, and delivered a touching discourse, teeming with charity and good will toward the deceased. Remarks were made also by President A. J. Davis of the city council, and Councilman Fernstrom.

A quartet, under the direction of Miss Nora Gleason, sang, "Lead Kindly Light," "Abide With Me," and "Neurer My God to Thee." Mrs. Corinne Harris Hammer sang "The Plains of Peace."

About 100 friends of the dead man were present. There were many flowers upon the casket, and afterwards placed upon the grave. A. J. Davis Mark Reedall, A. T. Moon, F. S. Fernstrom, Dr. Michael A. Hughes and Jack May were the pallbearers.

may become members of this society.

Sec. 2. Any organization, the object of which is the furtherance of the aims of this society, as set forth in article II of this constitution, may become a branch of the society, and through it of the American Peace society.

ARTICLE IV.

The annual dues for membership shall be $1 for adults and 25 cents for chil-dren under 16 years. One-half of the annual dues of the adult members shall be paid to the American Peace society, in return for which the Advocate of Peace, the monthly organ of the society, will be furnished to the adult members of the Utah branch.

Sec. 1. The officers of this society shall be a pesident, first and second vice presidents, secretary and treasurer, and these, with seven others, shall consitute the board of directors. These shall be elected at the annual meeting of the society, and can be re-elected at the pleasure of the voting members. Sec. 2. The duties of these officers, in addition to those usually assigned to such officers and directors, shall be to provide for public meetings, lectures, the circulation of suitable literature and the promotion of the objects of the society by any other lawful means at their disposal.

The annual meetings of this society shall be held at a date nearest convenient to the 18th of May of each year, at such place as may be decided on by the board of directors.

These officers were elected by unanimous vote:

PRUSSING'S SHORT LIBERTY.

Hours for Forgery.

After being out of jall only a few hours, Nick Prussing, alias Martin Brown, finds himself again behind the bars and for the same offense for which bars and for the same oftense for which he served a term in the county jail. The man is charged with issuing a bogus check and obtaining money by false pre-tenses. He secured two blank checks on the State Bank of Utah and filled them on the State Bank of Utah and filled them out each for $20, made payable to Martin Brown. The name "J. P. Moran" was signed to each check. Prussing went into the drug store of B. H. Townsend, at South Temple and First West street, and purchased some cigars. He tendered one of the checks in payment and Mr. Townsend cashed the same. After Prussing left Townsend looked at the check and discovered the name J. P. Moran instead of P. J. Moran. He at once became suspicious and notified the police when he learned from Moran's office that the check was bogos.

Townsend started out on a still Munt for Prussing and located him. He compelled the man to accompany him to the trug store and placed the man under ardecorated with orchids and ferns. About 10 months ago the man was

About 10 months ago the man was sentenced to six months in the county jail on the charge of basing bogus checks. While a trusty at the jail he came up town one day and tried to cash a bogus check for $65, signing the name "J. P. Moran." For this offense he was given an additional four months. The sentence expired Saturday and Prussing had only heen out a short time when he again tried one of his old tricks. This time he stands an excellent chance of serving a term in the state prison. Supt. W. W. Phelps and officers and cachers of the Seventh ward Sunday teachers of the school paid a s home of T. H. ward Sunday party at the oury (Waterloo woodbury ward), who was a former teacher in the Seventh ward. The surprise was a complete one, and the 65 guests pres-ent had a most enjoyable time. The evening was spent in music and dancing, after which refreshments were surved, the guests departing in the wee sman hours.

A number of affidavits and papers are yet to be received, and until they arrive the contents of the report will not be made public, which may be a week yet. Mr. Ivins met with Levi Chubbuck, special investigator from the office of Indian affairs at Washington and Indian Agent Speer of Navajo Springs, representing the Indians and Smith Eller. Agent Speer of Navajo Springs, repre-senting the Indians, and Smith Riley, chief inspector of forest district No. 2 and Supervisor O. C. Snow in behalf of the settlers. During the week meet-ings were held at Monthello, Grayson and Bluff, in San Juan county and evi-dence was presented showing the Indence was presented showing the Indians were guilty of many threats and netty depredations. The settlers of the district are up in arms against the redmen and are asking that they be removed to their proper place in southern and western Colorado.

Mr. Ivins learned that the Indians have been residing in Utah for 20 years, and the people of Colorado object to their removal to the Centennial State on account of their long residence in Utah. Indian Agent Speer had no objections to their removal, but difficulties would more than likely be encountered if such a move were attempted. The policy of the government has been to allow the Indians to scatter about the country with a view to doing away with the reservations. Mr. Ivins thinks if they are not moved to Colorado a new reservation will in all Colorado a new reservation will in all probability be created for them in the Montezuma canyon in San Juan county and placed in charge of the citizens of that county.
