EDITORIAL NOTES.

Some of the States in this country are getting into the way of having two governors and two legislatures, and there is some cause to fear that this republic will soon have two presidents. Mexico has three just now—Lerdo, Diaz, and Iglesias. But the country is not well enough governed to brag about, notwithstanding. Parties from Mexico inform Galveston, Texas, papers that the republic was never in such a lawless condition as now. "There is no safety for persons or life or property beyond the Rio Grande. Might gives right, and the master to-day is the flying guerrilla of to-morrow, and levies tribute upon every defenseless traveler."

The Hong Kong Daily Press of November 4th says, "A vessel has lately sailed from the Clyde for Fort Desire (Patagonia), on the east coast of South America, with building materials and mechanics of various trades, for the purpose of commencing a Scotch colony there. Port Desire is situated in lat. 47 deg. 50 min., long. 65 deg. 54 min. west, is said to be of easy access for vessels of any size, having at all times of tide six fathoms at low water, and safe anchorage within six miles of the entrance."

Tungstic acid, combined with soda, forms tungstate of soda, a solution of which renders cotton cloth incombustible.

This is important about the nose, a very prominent member, from the Mammifer and Bird—The habit of keeping the mouth shut, breathing through the nose alone, if persisted in for a long time, has a tendency to widen the nostrils and improve the shape of the nose, while the habit of breathing through the continually opened mouth tends, on the contrary, to make the nostrils useless, renders them smaller, and also influences the shape of the nose, interfering with its proper growth. According to the theory of evolution, the habit of not using the nose for breathing must, after several generations end in producing a race with small, miserable, turn-up noses."

PIOUS LIES.

The Rocky Mountain Christian Advocate is not famous for either its truly Christian spirit or its veracity. It is particularly addicted to lying about "Mormonism" and the "Mormons." Pious lies, of course, these "Christian" Advocate lies are, but none the less sweet-scented for all that. Lies are not specially well commended in the Bible, but the Advocate does not mind that, as it does not go to the Bible for its peculiar "Christianity."

Here are a few specimen pious lies from this most "Christian" Advocate—

Lie 1—"The people did not come to the mountains to make homes, build churches and serve God. A few came because they enjoy the climate and scenery, but nearly all came to make money."

Nine-tenths of the people in these valleys, except those born here, came here not to make money, but expressly to make homes, build churches and serve God. If their main purpose had been to make money or to enjoy beautiful scenery, they never would have come to Utah to live. This is all beyond truth and denial.

It is well known that, considering the relative circumstances of the people, Utah will compare favorably with any of the surrounding Territories or States in matters of education and civilized culture generally. Any school district in Utah, if its people choose, can have free schools by taxing themselves for the same. Some districts have done so, and some have not.

Lie 3—"Utah to-day in her business interests is suffering beyond all calculation from the insecurity to property, from the acknowledged fact that the jury system is a practical nullity and a farce, when Mormons are brought into litigation with Gentiles, giving the latter but little chance of justice."

Everybody knows the falsity of the above extract. "Mormon" juries are noted for rendering fair verdicts when "Gentiles" are in litigation. Besides, the manipulation of the jury system in Utah is almost exclusively in "Gentile" hands, although the "Gentiles" are overwhelmingly in the minority of residents, and half the jurors, at least, are chosen by "Gentile" officials. The fact is, in the Utah courts a "Gentile" has a far greater chance of being leniently, or even justly, dealt with than a "Mormon" has, as all the chief court officers are "Gentiles," and some of them are very bitterly prejudiced against and exceedingly hostile and unjust towards "Mormons."

It is a question how this "Christian" lying is supported. The Advocate gives the answer thus—

"We are debtors to our noble Church Extension Society for every one of the seven churches in Utah. Without their aid they could not have been built. Therein we feel the relative importance of this society."

Last September, at its quarterly meeting, in New York, the tract society of the M. E. Church provided, for a period of one year, for the circulation of nine hundred copies of the Rocky Mountain Christian Advocate among our Mormon population. Already the work is well advanced. Over one hundred Mormon settlements and thousands of Mormon people now regularly receive the Advocate, and as fast as we can secure the cooperation of persons who will become bona fide subscribers in the other settlements, according to the terms of the postal law, we propose to add to the work provided by this appropriation."

Like Col. Sellers, the lying "Christian" Advocate believes in what it believes "and an appropriation by the following extracts—

"The Doctor [C. C. McCabe] said of our work that it was one of the most difficult in the whole church. He doubted if any of our foreign fields were more so."

"He exclaimed, while conversing with several members of the conference and Judge J. B. McKean (the immaculate):

"Brethren, how can you stand it in the midst of this infernal system?"

"One of the reasons why Methodism does not make more rapid progress in the Rocky Mountains is, that very few, comparatively, read our church papers."

"We are going it with a looseness [yea, verily,] to use a vulgarism."

"Class meetings neglected; prayer meetings skeletons; all church work without life or power, what can follow but death?"

"We must say, too, that no hardier field can be found on the continent. The population is peculiar, active, earnest, industrious, intelligent, money-making, liberal, worldly, and indifferent. Preaching is admired as it is eloquent, short, and interesting, but if it be pure gospel, in dead earnest, it seems to glide over the heads of the people like a fleecy cloud over a snowy peak. Where is the power we read of, the power we have seen in other days? Where are our great revivals? Every true minister feels it, mourns over it, and some almost despair in the general darkness."

This is certainly not very encouraging. The "Christian" lies do not appear to be well received by those who have arrived at years of maturity—

"Nearly all our hearers, in many places, are adults. They are already fixed in habits of thought, and are not easily moved."

"With all these reasons for our want of success, we continue work hopefully."

"What can we do?"

"Look well to the children and youth."

How long may these efforts be expected to continue? How long can these pious lies stand? As long as the money comes in, according to the following—

"We will stand it, Doctor, so long as we have success, and make progress in our work for the Master, and the Church Extension and Missionary Society stand by us."

"Herein, again, we must plead the Church Extension cause, for with it is our main hope."

Here is a rather disconsolate conclusion—

"Is there any more power in prayer, any hope of an outpouring of the Spirit?"

"What can we do but to pray and not to faint?"

that is, in the "Mormons," and particularly so much good as to "put to shame many a Christian man and woman" of the type manifested by the Advocate, which reminds us that liars, even "Christian" liars, do tell the truth sometimes, though only by accident. A lapsus linguae, or a lapsus calami, when it declares that which is true and commendable, is better than never speaking or writing the truth, even in the "Christian" Advocate, though its authors cannot be credited with the virtue of good intent.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 22.—Mitchell's Oregon resolution was, after discussion, agreed to without division.

Bayard spoke in favor of his substitute for the preamble of a resolution recently offered declaring that it was wrong to reflect upon Grover by a preamble offered in advance of the investigation.

Mitchell accepted Bayard's preamble, and it was agreed to. It recites that it is alleged that Grover issued a certificate of election to Cronin, alleging that Watts was ineligible, and providing for inquiry by the elections committee into Watts' eligibility and the facts attending the appointment of the electoral college of Oregon.

Mitchell presented joint resolutions of the Oregon legislature asking Congress to make liberal appropriations for the opening and free navigation of the Columbia River, Oregon. Referred to the committee on transportation and routes. He also introduced a bill to make an appropriation for continuing the improvement of the Upper Wapinitia River, Oregon. Referred to the same committee.

The Senate insisted on its amendments to the House bill providing for the sale of certain Cherokee lands in Kansas, and the Chair appointed as its Senate conference committee, Allison, Padonk and Boggs.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 22.—Bills to remove the political disabilities of George S. Hawkins of Florida and A. C. Myers of Maryland, were passed.

Garfield offered a resolution directing the appropriation committee to report in the deficiency bill provisions to pay to the widow of Speaker R. a sum equal to the mileage of the Speaker during the time of his death to the end of the present Congress; adopted.

The House then went into committee of the whole, Wilson, of Iowa, in the chair, on the private calendar.

Reported Massacre.

NEW YORK, 22.—The Herald's Bozeman, W. T., special says a painful report is in circulation here stating that Major Randall, of Gen. Crook's staff, and his entire party had been massacred by Indians in the Big Horn mountains. The report is discredited.

A Double-Headed Appeal to the Republicans.

The Star issues a double-headed appeal to the republicans, in which the following passages occur: Spare us the national shame of the election of President by palpable fraud! Spare yourselves that last damning disgrace to your party, and its original character and principles. The opinion will, sooner or later, overwhelm the actors, as it has always overwhelmed the crimes, of violent and corrupt politicians, in case they will go into the historic disgrace, along with every other set and class of men who have, at some time or another in our history, aimed to accomplish political results by fraud and crime.

Col. Randall and the Indians.

WASHINGTON, 22.—No information has been received in regard to the reported massacre of Major Randall and party, but it is thought the report may be true. Col. Randall is with Gen. Crook's command, and it is feared they have been sent on a mission to obtain scouts, and run into Crazy Horse's band, for which Crook has been looking for some time past.

Payment of Bond Interest.

The Treasury will pay the January interest on United States bonds on the 23rd inst., without rebate, and the interest on the District of Columbia bonds, due January 1st, on the same date, without rebate.

Appointment of Committees.

The Speaker has announced the following committees to ascertain and report what are the privileges, powers and duties of the House of Representatives in counting the votes for President and Vice President: Knott, Spears, Marsh, Burdick, Seelye, Munroe and Tucker. ## An Order Compelled With.

BALTIMORE, 22.—In the supreme court, yesterday, the question of producing original telegrams in court came up. In the attachment case of Claffin & Co., of New York, against Robert H. Robinson, and the local managers of the Western Union and A. & P. Telegraph Companies, who were served with a summons to produce the papers, they stated to the court that the rules of the company prohibited the production of the originals without an order of court, as they regarded telegrams privileged communications. Judge Dobbin directed them by oral order to produce the original telegrams, and the order was at once complied with.

Disregarded.

The report is discredited from the fact that Randall was at Fort Reno on the 14th of December, 400 miles from the Big Horn, and ninety miles from Fort Tetterman, from which point the report should have been first received.

ceived had there been any truth in it.

The Senate Investigating Committee.

NEW ORLEANS, 22.—In the Senate investigating committee the question of adopting McDonald's resolution requiring the returning board to produce the original record of the vote of the State for presidential electors was discussed. Senator McDonald stating he had been advised that the aggregate vote would not correspond with the total vote furnished by the supervisors, and wanted to see by the exact condition of returns as made by the supervisors.

Howe said the board had furnished certified copies not only of the aggregate vote of the State, but also of those rejected.

McDonald said the copies furnished did not show the votes rejected by the supervisors.

The chairman stated that the returning board had to complete its work for State officers before the 5th of January, and this might prevent its completion, and preferred that the matter be postponed till the labors of the board were complete.

The democratic members opposed the postponement, asserting that, in order to fully comprehend the whole question, it was necessary to examine not only the work of the returning board but those polls which were rejected by the supervisors, and by the board, in other cases, went behind the action of the supervisors and rejected the polls.

Wadleigh said he did not have the time to compel the production of the papers, and would endeavor to pass the labors of the board; he would like to see the original papers.

McDonald, of the democratic counsel, claimed that the board could not reject a poll save on the statement or notes of the supervisor, and that polls had been rejected without their protest, and it was in order to determine this fact that the original papers were ordered.

The resolution was defeated by a party vote, the republicans opposing, stating that they were ready to agree at the proper time to any motion that would throw light on the subject, but thought the resolution impracticable at present.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

A Berlin telegram to the Standard says it is reported that the appointment of Midhat Pasha Grand Vizier is regarded at St. Petersburg as a challenge to Russia.

The Berlin correspondent of the Times reports that the banking firm of Baimhoff, in St. Petersburg, has failed with a deficit of a million roubles. The commercial crisis continues, and is especially severe in the south of Russia.

Sweeping Reforms Adopted by the Conference.

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph, from Pera, states that the reforms adopted by the preliminary conference are very sweeping. They include the admission of Christians into the Ottoman army, and the transformation of the village of Sophia into a Christian province under a Christian governor. Opinion is equally divided as to whether the Porte will yield to the representations of the Powers. The correspondent represents that Midhat Pasha's appointment means a more vigorous action and resistance to undue foreign influence.

GERMANY.

The Emperor William and the Eastern Question.

BERLIN, 22.—The Emperor William closed the session of Parliament, to-day, by a speech from the throne.
