LOCAL NEWS.

Another Prisoner Released.—Today Brother W. V. Wiley, of Bountiful, Davis County, was released from the Penitentiary, having served a term of five months for unlawful cohabitation, and thirty days for the fine and costs imposed as part of the judgment. During his incarceration his health was quite feeble most of the time. He is naturally a strong man, but the change of conditions operated against him greatly. He was affected with what the prison surgeon called muscular rheumatism, from which he suffered severely.

Police Court.—On Saturday last Judge Fryer, in the case of Laura Cornell, charged with keeping a house of ill-fame, found the defendant guilty and sentenced her to pay a fine of $50 and to be imprisoned 30 days. Defense gave notice of appeal.

The case of four little boys, charged with breaking the window of Mrs. Wilkinson's store in the Fourteenth Ward, was continued until this afternoon.

The only business this forenoon was the forfeiture of $5 for the appearance of a common drunk, who failed to show up.

A Wagon Upset.—A man named J. B. Hill, who hails from Cache Valley, was driving a team attached to a wagon, in the Seventh Ward last Saturday, when, owing to his careless driving, the wagon ran off a bridge and upset. Two elderly ladies and an old gentleman named Hill were in the vehicle. The ladies were shaken up somewhat, but not seriously injured. The old gentleman, however, was rather seriously hurt. He was cut and bruised about the head and otherwise injured. He had to be picked up and carried into a house near by, where he was attended to.

The Last Tribute.—The funeral service over the remains of Sister Jane White, wife of Brother James White, was held in the Eleventh Ward school house yesterday morning, Bishop McRae presiding. The attendance was so large that additional seating accommodation had to be procured from the adjoining school room and brought in to the main hall. The opening prayer was offered by Elder Wm. A. McMaster. The speakers were Elder John Nicholson and Bishop Orson F. Whitney. Their remarks were well calculated to comfort the bereaved family, as well as being instructive to the entire audience. The benediction was pronounced by Elder Jeter Clinton.

Funeral of Richard Jones.—The Fifteenth Ward Chapel was filled to overflowing yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the funeral of Richard Jones, an account of whose accidental death was mentioned last Saturday. A large number of people who attended were forced to remain outside the building, it was so crowded. The pulpit was draped in an appropriate manner, and the services were solemn and impressive. The following speakers made appropriate addresses: Elders James Dunn, Jr., and John Peters of Provo, and Elders James Sharp, John Sharp, and George J. Bywater of this city. Many of deceased's fellow employees of the Utah Central Railroad were present, and 45 carriages formed the procession that followed the corpse to the cemetery.

A Brutal Husband.—The husband of Mrs. Bailey, whose child was fatally poisoned, as detailed elsewhere in this issue, was in jail at the time, serving a sentence for drunkenness. Under the circumstances the City Marshal allowed Bailey to leave the jail and go home to attend to the burial of his child. This morning he got drunk and beat his wife with a broomstick as she lay in bed, still in a precarious condition from the poison she had sedulously taken. The corpse lay in the room at the time. A neighbor telephoned for the police, and an officer repaired to the house. As he entered it, Bailey seized a bottle containing enough whisky to make an ordinary man drunk, and drank it before he could be prevented from so doing. He was put in jail, where he now resides.

An Immense Business.—In an editorial in our issue of March 23 last, we urged the people to patronize their friends in purchasing agricultural machines, wagons, etc., and referred more particularly to the firm of Grant, Odell & Co., of the co-operative Wagon and Machine Co. We learn that our advice has been followed to a remarkable and highly satisfactory degree, for since the appearance of that article that company has sold fully twelve hundred wagons and agricultural machines, and also of business never before equalled, we believe, in this Territory by any one firm. Of course, the item of wagons and machines exclusive of the corresponding sales of other goods handled by this company, which we wish again to endorse and recommend as being worthy of the confidence and patronage of the people.

District Court.—The following business was transacted in the Third District Court last Saturday.

Laura Switzgabel vs. Mary Worrell et al.—Findings settled. Plaintiff excepts to refusal to find as requested, and judgment granted for plaintiff.

Julius Diebenow vs. Casper Fisher.—Thirty days order to answer, by consent.

Thomas Fenton vs. Salt Lake County.—Execution stayed ten days.

W. B. Jackson, receiver vs. W. H. Bancroft receiver.—Stipulation filed and cause dismissed.

The Rio Grande Western Construction Co. vs. D. & R. G. E. Co.—Same order.

Wm. Castle vs. Thomas McCoy.—Hearing on order to show cause and motion for injunction by plaintiff. Injunction refused and restraining order dissolved.

Lewis Goldsmith vs. John Rock.—Default and judgment as prayed.

Washack Mining Co. vs. Wm. Jones.—Death of defendant suggested that executor substituted.

Christine Christensen admitted to citizenship.

Court adjourned to July 24, 1886.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Religious services in the Tabernacle Sunday, July 17th, commenced at 2 p.m., High Councilor Wm. Edgington presiding.

Bishop Watson offered the opening prayer.

The Priesthood of the Eleventh Ward officiated in the administration of the sacrament.

Bishop C. D. Evans, of Salem, Utah County, was the first speaker. He referred to some of the differences that exist between the religion of the Latter-day Saints and other Christian sects, and dwelt at some length upon the personal existence and character of the Latter-day Saints.

He also referred to the present condition of the Church and the oppression from which it suffers, and exhorted the Saints to faithfulness under the present trial that might be brought to bear upon them.

Elder B. F. Cummings was the next speaker. He stated that the Latter-day Saints were pre-eminently a people who believed in prophecy, and he would present and explain the prophecies of ancient and modern, the first of which had been fulfilled, the second was now being fulfilled, and the third would be shortly. Then speaker then read from the Latter-day account of a people called the redeemed of the Lord, who wandered in a wilderness, or rather a wasteland, where they were blessed and multiplied, and stood water and dry ground into water, and the speaker then read from the Latter-day account of a people called the redeemed of the Lord, who wandered in a wilderness, or rather a wasteland, where they were blessed and multiplied, and stood water and dry ground into water, and the speaker then read from the Latter-day account of a people called the redeemed of the Lord, who wandered in a wilderness, or rather a wasteland, where they were blessed and multiplied, and stood water and dry ground into water.

A Child Fatally Poisoned.—On Saturday last Mrs. Eliza Bailey, who resides opposite the Fourteenth Ward school house, was coming to this city from Brigham by team. She was accompanied by several children, one a daughter aged three and a half years. At West Jordan the latter wanted a drink, and one of the other children handed her a soda water bottle, supposed at first to contain water. The child drank some of the liquid in the bottle, but strangled in swallowing it. The mother, supposing that it must be a bottle of soda water, also, partook of the contents, but spit out nearly all that was taken into her mouth. The bottle contained carbolic acid, which the teamster was using on a lame horse. Water for drinking had been put in the same kind of a bottle, hence the terrible mistake.

Shooting Affair at Nephi.—On last Saturday evening, at about 10 o'clock, the sheriff and constable being out on duty, heard shots fired in the direction of the Chamber's saloon, the same disreputable place where young Green was shot dead last January. The sheriff found outside of the saloon John Pitt, Jr., who had been shot by the Chamber's. He and the party with him said the shooting was without any provocation. The officers proceeded to the saloon, and Chambers and J. W. Hartley were ordered to come out and surrender. Chambers called the officers hard names, and said he would shoot them down if they attempted to enter. He said he had three pistols and some one to help him. The sheriff then went to the place where he was shot and got more help. Before the sheriff returned Hartley had come out. He was told by the officers to go and get Chambers to give himself up. He replied that Chambers was not in the saloon, but had just left. Hartley was arrested. He was asked again to go and see Chambers and persuade him to surrender, which he did. Chambers made more threats. A pistol shot was fired, then he dropped his pistol and gave himself up.

Chambers and Hartley are in jail and will have an examination to-day. The bullet entered Young Pitt's shoulder and came out of his arm, taking some of his clothes with it and making a fearful wound.

Distinguished Clergymen.—On Saturday last a representative of the News had the pleasure of meeting and conversing with Rev. I. K. Funk, D.D., of the publishing firm of Funk & Wagnall, New York City, who is the editor of the Harvard Review, and also of the Voices, the national organ of the Prohibition party, having a circulation of 100,000 copies, in company with Mr. Funk during an interview, which took place at the Continental, was Rev. Lyman Abbott, D.D., editor of the Christian Union, one of the most widely circulated and influential religious journals in the United States. Both clergymen asked many questions regarding Utah affairs, and listened with much apparent interest to the replies and explanations given in response to their inquiries.

Released from the "Pen."—Yesterday Brother Robert Morris, of this city, emerged from the penitentiary, after having served six months' term and paid a fine of $100 and costs, for unlawful cohabitation, to which he pleaded guilty. During a considerable part of the time of his imprisonment his health was poor. We congratulate him on his freedom.

A WITNESS ARRESTED.

A WITNESS FOR THE GOVERNMENT BECOMES A DEFENDANT.

The case of Bishop McRae was called as per continuance in Commissioner McKay's court this morning. Among the witnesses present in answer to subpoenas was Isaac Pierce, a son-in-law of the Bishop's. While all were waiting for proceedings to commence, a deputy marshal invited Mr. Pierce to step aside with him. The two went to the rear of the room, and the officer read to Mr. Pierce a warrant of arrest on a charge of unlawful cohabitation. This was quite a surprise to Mr. Pierce.

This little piece of business having been transacted, the case of Bishop McRae was proceeded with. Defendant's wife, several of his children and other relatives were put upon the stand. Some of them testified to having heard a vague rumor, several testified to the effect that the defendant had contracted a marriage with some other woman than his first wife, but none of the witnesses knew anything of the facts of the matter, and none of them had heard anything of such rumors for a number of years past.

The immediate members of the defendant's family testified that for many years past he had always taken his meals and slept at the home of Mrs. McRae, who was present as a witness. From their testimony it would appear impossible that defendant could have lived with, cohabited with, or sustained any of the ordinary relations of a husband with any other woman than the one who was generally understood to be his wife. There was not a particle of evidence going to show that he had ever been known to perform a single act indicating any relation of unlawful cohabitation, but there was a great amount of evidence from members of his own family, showing that they had never known of any such conduct on his part, and that he invariably ate and slept at his house in the Eleventh Ward.

There was an utter absence of tangible evidence against the defendant, but a great amount of it in his behalf, and of a very positive character too. Instead of discharging him, however, the Commissioner continued the case till to-morrow morning, evidently in the hope that the government might in the meantime secure further testimony against him.

MR. PIERCE'S CASE.

was proceeded with at once, as soon as that of Bishop McRae was disposed of.

Eleanor Thomas, Mr. Pierce's alleged plural wife, was present in the Commissioner's court as a witness, as she supposed, in the case of Bishop McRae, and all of the other witnesses designed to be used by the government in the examination of Mr. Pierce, at that time, had been subpoenaed by witnesses in that case, a little sharp practice in which those who carried it out doubtless feel much pride.

The first witness examined to prove the charge against Mr. Pierce was Bishop McRae, who testified that several years ago, the defendant had married his witness's daughter, Mary Jane, and that she had three children, the youngest about a year old.

Eleanor Thomas was next put in the witness chair. Mr. Dickson asked her: "Are you married to the defendant?" The witness replied: "I am not prepared to answer."

The question was pressed, but the witness still declined to answer it. The Court instructed her that she must answer it, when Mr. Dickson, switching off as it were, asked her if she had any children. She answered that she had two. She had been living in the Sugar House Ward.

Who provides for you?
My husband.
Is the defendant your husband?
I do not choose to answer.
You must answer or be punished.
Very well, you may punish me.
Mr. Dickson moved that the witness be committed for contempt, and the Commissioner gave her ten minutes in which to think the matter over.
