FIFTY-SECOND YEAR.

OGDEN'S MAYOR TO ENFORCE LAW.

Declares That' He Will Suppress Vice as Far as Possible-What He Proposes to Do.

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, June 1.-This morning President L. W. Shurtliff and Rev. J. W. of the Citizens' Reform comittee, had a conference with Mayor swning to see what steps are going looking to the suppresar future of the vice that These gentlemen say emphatically proposes absolutely, all the slot machins no matter whether or not license lav been paid on them. He also sil that the Sunday closing of saloons we de enforced to the letter; that all side and back entrances would be locked up, and that the screens and blinds would be removed so that the public might command a view of the whole interior of the saloons.

The members of the committee are accused of working with undue haste in regard to the reform, and moreover they are charged with being too radical. But they say that all on earth they re-quire is obedience to the law. The latter provides very clearly that no sa-loon shall be permitted to stand within 200 feet of 300 feet of any school house or church, while on one street there are at least eight or ten saloons operating within those limitations.

made at police headquarters of late about salcons selling liquor to young men below the age of twenty-one, and charges have actually been made that young girls have no difficulty in obtaining intexicants. Chief Hilton at once began a rigid and determined investigation of the charges and made the startling discovery that while there were one or two saloonkeepers guilty of the offense complained of, the source of the growing call is elsewhere, namely in certain drug stores of this city. Several days ago a case of a respectable young lady, who was given a f whisky and socia under some fancy name, was reported to the po-lic; and that is not the only one by any means. Not many days ago Detecney notified some of the drug

Numerous complaints have been to these places on the pretext of being "treated" to soda, and were siven "treated" to soda, and were siven whisky and soda under some "innocent" fancy name. He says that it is a start for many young men and women to become confirmed drunkards. Some of the drug stores have taken out a liquor license, and the chief is determined that if they persist in selling intoxicants to minors and women, and especially after 7 o'clock p. m., the proprietors will be arrested and treated the same as any other violator of the ordinance. A most lamentable spectacle in connection with the practice has been the flagrant sale of liquor by drug stores to school students. Not long sin ditions became so had in this particu-lar that complaint was officially made to Chief Hilton that High School stu-dents frequently went back to their studies from recess in an incapacitated measures condition, and that heroic must be resorted to to abolish the sale of Hauor to them. But it is still patent that the signs above indicated are being worked to the demoralization of those who employ them. Of course, only a small percentage of stu-dents have been addicted to the habit, but there were enough of them to thoroughly alarm those in charge of the in-inquiries regarding the health of Mrs. McKinley and then expressed their best wishes and sincere sympathy with both the President and Mrs. McKinley.

Hay has directed Abmassador Choate at London to issue passports to the two Filipinos who appeared at the embassy yesterlay "as residents of the Philippine islands, and as such entitled to the protection of the United States." The decision upon this point is of importance, as having, perhaps, some bearing upon the status of the people of the Philippines, Porto Rico and Guam. A year ago the decision was reached to regard the Porto Ricans as entitled to the protection conveyed by an American passport, but a formal decision of the test case was prevented through the withdrawal of the application. The Foraker act determined the right of Porto Ricans as "citizens of Porto Rico" to the protection of the United States government. It is now held that the Spooner law conveys the same privilege to the inhabitants of the Philippines.

The United States statutes prohibit the issue of a passport to any but American citizens. But those later acts, the Foraker act and the Spooner

REFERRED TO WASHINGTON.

London, June 1 .- The officials of the United States embassy inform the Associated Press that the matter of granting a passport to the Filipino who applied for one yesterday had to be referred to Washington as it was the first time such an application had been made by a person of this nationality. The Filipino desired to travel in Russia and though the applicant took the oath of allegiance to the United States in Spanish and English, the embassy considered it advisable to submit the matter by cable to Washington, as it has frequently done when passports were requested. The embassy is now awaiting a reply. The applicant was quite concat, impose obligations in their turn | tented and thanked the officials of the

GRAND JURY ADJOURNED

Alturas, Cal., June 1 .- Details have been received here of the causes leading to the lynching at Lookout yesterday morning, of five men-Calvin Hall, his sons, Frank, Jim and Martin, and his son-in-law, Daniel Yattis. It is claimed that for some time past, these men had been systematically pilfering, stealing and robbing throughout the entire lower end of Big Valley, and that hundreds of articles in their possession had been identified as stolen property by the persons from whom they had been taken. Last Tuesday, May 29th, three prominent citizens of Lookout came to Alturas to get the grand jury to take some action against these men, but the grand jury had adjourned just three hours before the delegates from Lookout arrived here and hence could do nothing. The three Lookout citizens then went to District Attorney E. C. Bonner and asked him to go down and attend to the matter. He replied that he was too busy to go. They then went to Judge G. F. Harris of this place, and mployed him to take charge of the He agreed to do so, if he could affair, get the district attorney to deputize him for that purpose. He was not able to get the appolutment, but instead the district attorney appointed C. C. Auble,

About 1 o'clock in the morning the door of the room was suddenly thrown open and the ms rushed in and seized the prisoners, in spite of the remonstration of the three guards. One of the guards fired his pistol and tried to prevent the infurated men from caring out their awful purpose, but all in vain. The mob overpowered the guards and compelled them to go along and assist. With ruthless hands the five victims were taken along Main street to the large bridge which spans the Pitt river. Upon arriving there a hempen noose was quickly placed around the neck of each of the doomed men and the rope made fast to the timbers of the bridge. Then, without a mo-ment's hesitancy, the furious men pushed their five victims off the bridge and launched them into eternity.

The arguments for the defense in the Garland murder trial were opened by Attorney Straup this morning. He impressed upon the jury that they must find that the shooting by Garland had been done not only wilfully, unlawfully and feloniously, but of malice aforethought beyond a reasonable doubt before they could find him guilty of murder in the second degree. "Where is the evidence of malice aforethought?" asked Mr. Straup. "Take the evidence of all the witnesses and you will find none. A declaration made after the act will not justify you in guessing at the state of the defendant's mind before the shooting. Hopkins is something of an athlete and a trained boxer. The prosecuting attorney scoffed at the mea of a man like Garland, so much larger than Hopkins not throwing the disturber out of saloon when he became a disturbing element, but I recall how Jack Demp acknowledges in the same document that his title of "allim slill," (highest chief.) is granted to him by the imsey, the light weight pugilist, treated a much heavier man who thought that he could throw the little prizefighter around.

Judge Powers took up the argument at twenty minutes past 11 o'clock Facing the jury he commenced by say-ing: "Gentlemen of the jury, you are here to determine whether or not this man (pointing to Garland) shall go to the penitentlary for ten years or per--chance for life. To unlawfully take a life there must be shown to be express or implied malice. If a man is suddenby struck in the face, passion will take the place of malice, and this is where manslaughter steps in. The prosecution has absolutely failed to show any express malice. There could be no implied malice unless the active agent in the killing can be shown to have an abanloned and malignant heart. These men came into the saloon riotously. abused this defendant, insulted him and insulted his mother. Had the district attorney believed that there was im-plied mulice he would not have changed the charge from murder in the first to murder in the second degree." Judge Powers then gave careful and explicit definitions of the different kinds of manslaughter and homicide.

The meanest man, charged with a crime must be put on trial with the presumption of innecence. To find him guilty this presumed innocence e overborn by such a weight of evidence as shall serve to satisfy every man on the jury beyond a reasonable doubt that the man is not innocent. This defendant must not be convicted on any more theory, whim, caprice suggestion. The great law of self de-fense is born in a man, and the Al-mighty has placed it in the breasts of the meanest creatures. Self preservation has truly been said to be the first laws of nature,

When the gun was fired the man was in great fear for his life. Gentle men of the jury, think what you would do under a similar excitement, when you were being abused and insulted without cause and even the name o your mother was dragged in and cov-ered with salamny. You may preserve your life and limb from threatening acts. You may kill when it appears to you that you are in danger of great bodily harm.

Counsel then made a strong argument to show that there was mallee showr upon the part of Hopkins when he made assault on Garland who juietly attending to his business behind the bar, "If he had killed Garland he would "If he had killed murder in the first have been guilty of murder in the first degree. Therefore it is evident under the circumstances that Garland could not have been guilty of such a crime.' Counsel then read at length from the testimony of Olson and other witnesses for the stale who, he endeavored to show, were too busy with their card game to pay much attention to anything else going on in the saloon,

2 o'clock. The taking of testimony was concluded at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and Prosecutor Elchnor occupied the emainder of the afternoon argument to the jury.

Garland was put on the stand during the afternoon, and testified that he heard violence on the part of Hopkins and his companions, and used his revolver for the purpose of defending himself. He swore that he did not inhimself. He swore that he du not he tend to shoot but merely used the weapon to strike Hopkins and had no thought of hitting Williams. George Davis, Andrew P. Mayberry, B. B. Quinn, George A. Whitaker, Stephen Hays and C. W. Watson testi-ind to Gasigastic reputation for having fied to Garland's reputation for having aceable and quiet disposition. The district attorney gave a searching review of the testimony during his opening argument, He will close the arguments this afternoon and the case will go to the jury.

HISTORICAL CLASS. University Students Who Are Pursuing a Pleasant Study.

Among the prominent features today at Saltair is the visit of the Historical Society of the University of Utah. The organization consisting of about two hundred members, each with an American flag, went out on the 2:15 train. On arriving at the resort the afternoon was spent in talking over the prominent features and characteristics of the lake and surrounding country. A brief talk was given the students Mr. Levi Young, who told of the early explorations in this part of the coun-try from the time of La Hontan, a French explorer of the seventeenth century down to the time of the ad-vent of the "Mormon" ploneers. The remaining portion of the day was in dancing and merry-making, The His. torical Society was organized in 1900 under the supervision of Mr. L. E. Young of the University of Utah, and it has for its motive the study of Utah history. On Friday the following offloers were elected to take charge organization the coming season: President, Arthur Adams; vice presi-dent, Amy Lyman; screetary, Claude Barnes; assistant secretary, Ellen Tib-bits; executive corumittee, John Deal, John Hume, Elise Ward, Ruby Wonn.

Mr. Willyms was in Rome in the days of Pope Plus IX. He was known as "the pope's little black." The outbreak of the civil war made it impossible for Mr. Willyms to return to this country as a priest. He was never ordained, He saw that it would be a mistake for him to attempt to take orders. He decided to devote his life to teaching and to literary pursults. He spoke Latin, Italian and French with fluency.

Several years were spent by him as assistant librarian of the Pratt library in Baltimore. He was afterward sacris tan and assistant librarian in the Catholic university in Washington. His services as sacristan at the church of St. Benedict the Moor extended over eight years. Mr. Willyms was regarded by persons of his race as an oracle. He knew all about the old families of the South and their history. It is thought that among his papers will be found many documents which will prove of literary and historic value. He was a frequent contributor to magazines and church pub-lications. The journals devoted to the aterests of the negro race in this con try contained many contributions from his pen.

Concerning his age there seems to be a confusion of dates. He said he was 64 years, but it is believed he was a little older.
