LOCAL BRIEFS.

Gustaf Ling, formerly of Sweden, now of this city, has been admitted to citizenship by Judge Stewart of the district court.

County Treasurer Carls yesterday sent a check for $20,000 to the city board of education, being the first installment on the school taxes this year.

The Utah State association of Congregational churches will hold its annual meeting in the first church of this city on the 29th and 30th of this month.

G. H. Adams of Eureka, who is in the city, reports that mining is practically suspended on account of the underground fires, and nearly 400 men have been thrown out of work. But many of these have gone to work railroad grading, and on the pipe lines.

The prospects for extinguishing the fires is considered unfavorable.

Samuel Johnson, aged 17, the elevator boy in the Constitution building, stuck his foot out of the cage yesterday afternoon, and the party included the cage and the elevator and the foot was terribly bruised. The elevator was held from the rope running off the drum, and medical aid was summoned. Samuel will rest at home for the next 10 days, revolving many things in his mind.

A fine dinner was given early last evening at the Commercial club in honor of Col. M. T. Hancock, the millionaire power manufacturer and inventor from Georgia. The party included Mr. and Mrs. George T. Odell, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Odell, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Wells and Hon. Fisher Harris. The distinguished visitor was delighted with the Commercial club, and the high standard of its cuisine. He thinks such an institution is an honor to any community.

Dun's Review for the past week has the following to say about business conditions in Salt Lake City: "Business in most jobbing lines is fairly satisfactory and about normal for the season. A fairly good sorting business is had in dry goods, clothing, furnishings, notions and shoes. The trade is steady in groceries, hardware and drugs. Retail business is on the whole fair and collections slightly better, but still backward. Funds are in steady demand with a satisfactory supply and firm rates. Local commercial stocks and securities are rather quiet."

Grand Secy. Chris Diehl of the Utah Grand Lodge of Masons has been honored with the third highest degree. A telegram was received last evening by him from J. J. Greenwald and F. C. Schram, who are in Washington, where the highest council of the order is now in session. Mr. Diehl has been with Masonry ever since it was started in Utah, and for over 30 years he has been secretary of the grand lodge, and he is being widely congratulated over the honor just conferred on him. The same message stated that Dr. H. N. Mayo and Ira O. Rhoades of this city, and Walter Scott of Park City had been given the rank of knight commander.

BROWN CASE POSTPONED.

Again Goes Over. This Time Until November 11

The case against former Senator Arthur Brown, charged with adultery, was called before Judge Diehl this morning but the matter was again postponed and the preliminary hearing will not take place until Nov. 11.

County Atty. Westervelt was on hand prepared to vigorously prosecute the case, but Mr. Brown asked Judge Diehl to continue the matter. His motion was on the ground that a material witness was absent and not within the jurisdiction of the court and could not be summoned until the 11th of November. On that showing Judge Diehl granted a continuance.

THE NEW WILSON EUROPEAN HOTEL, SALT LAKE CITY. 200 rooms, 60 with bath, popular price restaurant. Rates $1.00 to $3.00 per day.

AN INCOME OF $500,000 A YEAR.

Inventor of the Famous Hancock Rotary Disc Plow in Salt Lake City.

HAS "RENTED OUT THE WORLD."

Twenty-two Thousand Plows Made Last Year and on Every One Mr. Hancock Receives a Royalty.

"M. T. Hancock, Los Angeles, Cal., Parsons F. and G."

Not many people reading this modest inscription on the register of the Knutsford hotel, and meeting face to face the unpretentious looking gentleman who claims the Hancock name, would imagine that they were gazing upon an individual whose net income last year from an invention of his own was $52,000, or $4,333.33 a month, and who this year expects to receive from the same source an even $50,000, $5,000 a month, or $166.66 for every day, including Sundays.

Such, however, would be the actual fact. Mr. Hancock, who looks more like a successful retired granger or a well-to-do country tradesman than a clipper of coupons, is the inventor of the famous rotary disc plow, and the owner of 30 or 40 patents covering improvements upon it.

The royalties received from the many factories in the United States now placing his plow, constitute the royal income he receives. "I have rented out the world to the manufacturers, and wherever agriculture is known in the United States, Europe, South America or South Africa, my plow is used," said Mr. Hancock to a "News" representative yesterday. "If there were any of planting agencies in Mars or Jupiter, I have no doubt the plow would be equally in demand there; he smilingly added.

Mr. Hancock is in Salt Lake purely on an errand of pleasure. Born and reared in the south, he devoted himself with such application to his invention, that his health suffered, and some time ago he removed to Los Angeles, where the mild climate greatly benefited him. He does little now, except to travel, and he has visited every important city in Canada, Mexico, and the United States, leaving Salt Lake, one of the most interesting of all, as he expressed himself yesterday. The last time he was here, being a close observer of men and something of a student of the customs and habits of the people whom he meets, he has taken great delight in visiting the old historic places of Salt Lake, and he also enjoyed an extended conversation with the First Presidency.

He was greatly struck with the remarks of Geo. T. Odell, general manager of the Consolidated Wagon & Machine company, and by Mr. M. B. Whitney of the Utah Implement company, both of which institutions handle his plow.

Last night Mr. Hancock was Mr. Odell's guest at the Commercial club, where a handsome dinner was served, the guests in addition to Mr. Hancock, being Mr. Fisher Harris, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Odell, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Odell.

Mr. Hancock, who is a private and quiet man, who accompanies him in all his travels, after a wait of several days to secure a drawing room for the west, left for his home in Los Angeles.

Case of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried into the blood by a wound, it causes lockjaw by percussion upon the brain, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes such injury to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.

ROBERTSON'S PARDON.

Former Bank Teller Sends in His Formal Application at Last.

The formal application for the pardon of Alexander A. Robertson was filed with the attorney-general yesterday.

Robertson at first declined to make a personal application because he felt that if his services during the recent prison break merited recognition, it should come from the state voluntarily without any request from him. It was shown that the board of pardons has no power to grant a pardon unless an application is made by the prisoner, so Mr. Robertson decided to make such application, and he doubt the pardon will be granted by the board at its meeting of Nov. 21. The application follows:

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 20, 1903. To the Honorable Board of Pardons of the State of Utah:

I hereby apply to your honorable body for a pardon and respectfully represent as follows:

First—That I am serving a term of imprisonment in the Utah state prison, under conviction and sentence on a charge of embezzlement.

Second—I was convicted and sentenced on the 19th of July, 1902, at Salt Lake City, in the Third Judicial district, Hon. William C. Hall presiding.

Third—I was sentenced to four (4) years and thereafter was imprisoned in the Utah state prison.

Fourth—Hon. D. C. Eichenor prosecuted the case against me, and I was later convicted.

Fifth—My true name is Alexander A. Robertson. I was convicted under that name.

Sixth—The names of persons charged with the same crime as mine, and the same offense are as follows: Harry T. Duke, Seventh—I have never been convicted of any offense except the one above.

Respectfully submitted, ALEXANDER A. ROBERTSON.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and 'want no other kind for their children.' For sale by all druggists.

WANT THEIR PARK.

A protest has been filed by a number of citizens near the mouth of City Creek canyon against the action of the city council in trading off a parcel of land in that vicinity which formed a portion of the plot set apart for a city park. It was intended by the council to make a park at the mouth of the canyon and a parcel of land was set apart for that purpose. The council later decided to straighten the street leading from the canyon to State street, so in order to obtain a piece of land on V. L. Halliday to carry out the latter plan, a portion of the park plot was exchanged for it. The protesters desire the council to rescind its action and leave the park plot undisturbed.

DOCTORS TANGLE.

Lively Debate Over the Admission of Irregular Physicians.

"When doctors disagree who shall decide?" It looks as though there was going to be an up-to-date disagreement among the medical fraternity in this city. A special meeting of the Salt Lake County Medical society was held at the Commercial club on Monday night, at which it was proposed to change the constitution so as to admit homeopaths and eclectics to membership.

When drafted, the constitution specified that only "reputable physicians" should be taken into the society. A resolution was proposed inserting the word "regular" for "reputable." If the resolution is passed, any "regular physician" may be admitted who applies for membership, provided only that they do not advertise the particular branch of the profession which they practice.

The resolution was introduced and it caused a wrangle. It was opposed by many of the regular school and one member said it was practically throwing down the bars and letting any one in who claimed to be a physician. He said it meant the disruption of the society. He maintained that those who would join through the adoption of the resolution would have no right to ask for membership into an organization of the kind.

Continuing, he said it was like placing a pupil in the graded schools beside a university graduate and starting them equal.

Another medico who favored the adoption of the resolution said there was no use in being so exclusive. All were physicians and some practiced one system and some another and all ought to have the right to demand admission. The vote was postponed until next Monday evening, when the next meeting of the society will be held.

SAMMON BEATEN.

Supreme Court of Wyoming Sustains Attorney General's Demurrer.

(Special to the "News.")

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 20.—The state supreme court this morning sustained the demurrer of Atty.-General VanOrdel in the case of the state ex rel Sammon. Attorney J. W. Sammon of Utah county ran as an independent candidate for judge of the third judicial district last fall, holding that the term of the judge of that district had expired. The Republican and Democratic parties got together and decided that the term had not expired and neither nominated candidate. Sammon's nomination was signed by a number of electors of the district. He filed a writ of mandamus to compel the secretary of state to issue him a certificate of election, and the attorney-general filed a demurrer to the petition. Sheriff R. C. Campbell of Gering, Neb., this afternoon arrested Morris here. He is charged with forgery.
