It has been the effort of Keith-O'Brien Company for several seasons to bring about a general lowering of established millinery prices. The company is pleased to announce the perfection of such arrangements with factories, as will permit of a decided reduction in Millinery in its entirety. Beautiful headwear is now possible for every lady of refined taste, at prices lower than is customary. The following houses have contributed to the opening:

PATTERNS FROM PARIS:

Georgette, Esther Meyers, Susanna Blum, Carmille Rogers, Veriot, Paul & Bertha, Veriot.

NEW YORK MODES:

PROGRESS IN MILLINERY.

AN INTERESTING STORY RELATIVE TO INEXPENSIVE HEADWEAR.

The high degree of excellence attained by Keith-O'Brien Company in exclusive displays of Correct Millinery has given impetus to the impression that this is essentially a store for the display only of the more expensive hats.

The remarkable attainments of our expert help, influenced in their conceptions by the style atmosphere peculiar to this store, are revealed in the surpassingly beautiful selections of Fall modes that are now ready—ingenious copies of artistic Patterns.

The demand for refined, exclusive, yet moderately priced Trimmed Millinery leads us to cater to the trade desiring hats at $8.00, $10.00 and $12.00 with interest equal to that extended those customers who demand the very best.

Our prestige has increased until our Millinery Section has taken precedent as the greatest source of original conceptions and for the cleverest adaptations of French Millinery known in the annals of local trade—an aggressiveness appreciated by our patrons.
