WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, 6.—The President left

Washington this morning for Philadelphia.

W. W. Corcoran pushed a somewhat comfortable night, but his condition is considered critical by physicians.

NEW YORK.

An exciting accident—Roussel's position—

A commanding Strategist—Legislative debate.

New York, 6.—Cable dispatches received announced the death of General

Auber, the composer.

The Tribune says, Senator Osborn, now in Brooklyn, has received information from several private letters from Florida, that Mr. Mahoney, Republican member of the lower House of the Florida legislature, was killed in Lake City on the 25th of April. Reports are that a quarrel was provoked to secure a reason for killing him. He was a notorious and a Confederate soldier.

At some time he joined the Republican party, and was elected to the legislature in November. The senator also has been positively asserting that at the time of Mahoney's death, three men appeared in Tallahassee for the avowed purpose of assassinating Governor

Reed.

A special Versailles dispatch says

Julius Favre and Gertler, minister of Finance, started to meet Bismarck at Frankfurt. It is thought the cause of KANSAS.

Lawrence, 6.—The coroner's jury in the case of the death of Isaac M. Smith, returned yesterday night, that Smith died from the effects of poison, supposed to have been administered by Dr. Mc-Donald.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, 6.—The Medical Association, after another long and biting wrangle over the female delegation question, indefinitely postponed it and adjourned for the day. They have gone on an excursion on the Bay today.

C. Villaremo, the well known literature, a native of Dalmatia, died here this morning.

The Nebraska, of the new line for Australia, sailed this morning. She carries twenty-five cabin passengers, light freight and immense mail.

The first steamer of the town of Waukegan, Ill., has been destroyed by fire, loss $125,000.

Editors quarreling.

CHICAGO, 6.—The Tribune of this city, yesterday morning, contained an editorial concerning newspaper advertising in Chicago, in which it charges the contemporaries, and particularly the Times with using improper and disreputable means to compete with it for advertising patronage. The Times this morning notices the editorial in a slightly personal manner, saying Mr.

Horace White is the responsible editor of the Chicago Tribune. The editor of the Times has hitherto been led to believe Mr. Horace White to be a more decent person than he is esteemed to be by the generality of people, and has therefore been as such in journalistic and personal relations. The editor of the Times is impelled to acknowledge his error, and is also impelled to denounce

Mr. Horace White as a lying scoundrel and cowardly dirty dog. The editor of the Times applies this language personally to Mr. Horace White, and says it is his intention to proceed with the adhesiveness of sticking plaster.
