Mr. and Mrs. David Cameron announced the engagement of their daughter, Sarah J., to J. Edgar Watson, the marriage to take place early next month.

Last Monday the Misses Amy and Jessie Osborne entertained a party at a delightful afternoon affair for two of the August brides, Miss Wanda Jones and Miss Katherine Thorne. The house was decorated throughout with flowers, music and an interesting game forming the chief diversion of the afternoon. The dinner was in red and white, a buffet of red velvet pone forming the centerpiece of the table. The place cards were decorated with cards. Red ribbons reached from the chandelier to the four corners of the table in large bowls of green. The Misses Louise Osborne and Adelaide Jacobson served in the dining room. Those present, besides the guests of honor were: Mrs. A. T. Warren, Mrs. Hamilton, Miss Elsie Schindler, Miss Florence Sears, Miss Irma Walker, Miss Ella Auer, the Misses Bertha and Jessa Travis, Misses Herrietta Wallace, Miss Ida McDonald, Miss Goldsworthy and Miss Eberhardt.

Miss Edith Edwards entertained at a china shower for Miss Genevieve Smoot, who was married Wednesday to W. R. Spittkeus last Monday. Games and music and many refreshments made the time pass merrily. A mock marriage being one of the laughable incidents. Miss Smoot received many beautiful gifts in china ware.

Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Porter entertained six at dinner at their home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Walker, Miss Florence Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Thomas and Mrs. James Stephenson.

One of the three large weddings that took place Wednesday evening was that of Miss Genevieve Smoot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. A. Smoot, Jr., and R. Spittkeus, at the home of the bride's sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Iverson, Blahon H. C. Iverson performing the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of white mouseline trimmed with long tulle veil, and carried a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas. Miss Zina Edwards, the bridesmaid, wore a gown of pink organdy and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. Little Jane Iverson, the ring-bearer, was delightfully gowned in white. The house was decorated throughout in pink and white with wreaths of smilax.

A reception from 6:30 to 10 o'clock followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. A. Smoot, parents of the bride, assisted in receiving. After a short wedding trip to Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Spittkeus will make their home in Salt Lake.

A large number of invitations have been issued for the wedding reception of Miss Ethel Genevieve Rogers and E. Leroy Bourne, which takes place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orson P. Rogers, 111 Third avenue.

Tuesday evening the Misses Pearl and Nora Van Cott gave a dinner for Miss Jenna Budd Goldes, who was married Wednesday evening to Hooper Dunbar. The young girls belonging to the bride party and a few intimate friends were the guests. The wedding colors, pink and white, were prettily carried out in a beautiful arrangement of sweet peas, while pink shaded candelabra lighted the whole. Ten were present.

A beautiful wedding took place Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCoy, when their daughter, Zola, was married to Lansing Foote, Roy, Benjamin Young performing the ceremony. The bride wore a pretty white silk tulle made princess, with veil, lace trimmings, and a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Rives, the bridesmaid, was in pink silk mull and carried carnations, the flower that was used in the house decorations. Donald Foote, brother of the groom, was best man. Miss Pearl Moore served punch in the library. The bride party resided under a canopy of pink and white carnations with a background of palms. The table in the dining room was covered with a drawn work cloth over pink satin, pink and white streamers of ribbon stretched from the chandelier to the corners of the table which had a large bowl of pink and white carnations for a centerpiece. Mr. and Mrs. Foote left on a wedding tour, after which they will reside in Evanston. The bride's traveling dress was of tan and hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur James Lowe have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lina, to J. Ray Carson, the wedding to take place soon.

Miss Marjorie Day gave a pretty luncheon, followed by an Orpheum matinee party, on Wednesday.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Lella Sjodahl was hostess at a "500" party given for Miss Madsen, a bride of the near future. The decorations were in flowers and hearts, red dahlias in the library, the reception hall in yellow dahlias and golden glow, where the punch was served by Miss Eylon. Pink and white sweet peas were used with effect in the parlors. The dining room was in white, the refreshments carrying out the heart idea. Miss Vera Sjodahl and Miss Clara Rasmussen assisted. Prizes were won by Miss Carrie Patrick and Miss Irene Hunter. Six tables were played.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Madsen have issued a large number of invitations to the wedding of their daughter, Florence, who is to be married to Oliver R. Meredith, Jr., Wednesday, September 4.

Perkins performing the ceremony. The young people are well-known in the community and have a large circle of relatives and friends, about 75 of whom attended the reception held after the ceremony. The house was decorated beautifully with flowers; shaded lights and soft music adding to the delightful scene. The bride wore a white linge gown and was attended by a maid of honor in blue and white, the four bridesmaids being in pink. Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar will take a wedding trip east, after which they will live in Los Angeles, where the groom is in business.

Another large wedding of Wednesday, was that of Miss Winona Jones and Austin Park Larabee, which took place at St. Mark's cathedral, the Rev. Herbert S. Hansen, performing the ceremony. The church was prettily decorated, a maid of honor, two bridesmaids, the best man and two ushers completing the bridal party. A supper for these ladies was given at the home of Dr. and Philip T. Jones, on Third South street, following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Larabee will go for a short trip to the mountains, after which they will be at home in the Harvest flats.

THE NEW WINGED SAILOR.

The very broad brimmed fashionable straw sailor of the late summer with trimmings of long white is duplicated in the early fall seasonings in soft French felt bound around the edge with ribbon in self color, or finished with a stitched velvet edge. The dark felt is more often trimmed with light colored velvet dark wings, and a very attractive combination is that of white and the same color as the hat which the wings adorn. The wings are placed on the front of the crown and in many cases so arranged that they completely cover the front and sides and extend out broadly over the front and side brim. Two and even four pairs of wings are used on a hat, and the smartest effects are given when no other trimming is combined with these wings, unless it may be a couple of those large headed pins inserted through the wings as if to hold them in place.
