

Games and music and a dainty lunch were enjoyed by all.

Mr. R. D. Sutton of Park City spent the week with family and friends in this city.

LOGAN.

A very pretty affair of last Saturday afternoon was the chaffing dish luncheon, given by the girls of the U. A. C., who have just finished that course at the college. The table decorations were most appropriate and pretty, consisting of a miniature Christmas tree and maiden hair ferns. The hostesses were the misses Brett Morrison, Lizzy McKay, Lillian Foster, Myrtle Ballard, Adams, Ina Stratford, Barton, Hybee. The guests were Mesdames G. W. Thatcher, Jr., J. C. Walters, E. P. Bacon, L. A. O'Brien, Stratford, Nellie Sloan, Barton, Guy Thatcher, Miss Elizabeth Smith.

Mrs. Geo. H. Champ entertained at

In Women's World.

In the modern American house there is usually a small room between the kitchen and the dining room and commonly called, for the lack of a better term, "the butler's pantry." This is a proper title for such a room in the larger houses where the butler is a reality, for here he reigns supreme; but in the majority of American houses the term is rather a misnomer. The room is sometimes modestly called the "china closet," but this also conveys rather a wrong impression, for while it is truly a china closet, it is also something much more than this. Perhaps the term which would best suggest the true character of the room is that which is occasionally used—the

SALT LAKERS IN GOTHAM.

Special Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The Barnabee-McDonald benefit went off with a swing last Tuesday afternoon, not common with all testimonials; almost every number was responded to with an eagerness that reminded some Salt Laker present of the good old benefits given local Utah families in the long ago. And let it be known right here, that the playlet given by Eleanor Robson, "A Tennessee Tragedy," in which a Salt Lake girl, Ada Dwyer, played an important part, was far and away the most artistic thing seen on the Broadway theater boards that afternoon. "The Chorus Lady" and "The Great Divide" were close seconds, but the "Tragedy" won the race and was so acknowledged by all. It was an afternoon of rare pleasure given two Utah people through the generosity of the manager of your Salt Lake theater, to witness such an array of talent on one program. New York turned out generously and a huge sum was collected for the beneficiaries. One of the charming features of the day was the army of pretty young professionals, who actually forced patrons to buy programs at the rate of 25 cents apiece and numerous other little trifles which helped to swell the fund. The two in whose honor it was all given—Mr. Barnabee and Mrs. McDonald—silently watched from a stage box, the interesting proceedings, and no doubt their hearts were filled with gratitude to the friends who gave so liberally for the comfort of their old age.

Many elders have arrived in the city on their way home from fields of labor, and some are going to their different places assigned them by the president here. M. C. Holbrook of Bountiful is on his way home from a two years' residence in Baltimore. President H. Ashley Rands, who has labored for some time in West Virginia, has been released to return home, and T. T. Mendenhall and T. A. Storey of Ogden, also released, are anxious to eat Christmas dinner with loved ones in Zion.

The Baltic, White Star Line, which arrived Friday, Dec. 14, after 10 days of the roughest sea weather known for some time, carried a big portion of Utahns as passengers, among others Elder H. J. Grant and family, Elders Robert Thomas, C. M. Bell, William Neely and Miss Arvilla Clark, Mrs. Price, Miss Sophia Wahlgren and the two Misses Magill of Edinburgh. Elder Grant and family are stopping with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Easton; Miss Clark and Mrs. Price with relatives and friends. Mrs. Price leaving Monday for the west in company with the elders.

Miss Arvilla Clark is home for a rest and change from hard work. She has been studying in Berlin, but her teacher advised a few months' rest, and she concluded home was the best place to enjoy it, so unexpectedly she arrived in Liverpool in time to sail on the Arabic with the Utah party.

Elder Heber J. Grant spoke at the afternoon and evening services on Sunday. Messrs. Oscar Kirkham and R. C. Easton sang at the afternoon and evening services, and at the conclusion of the evening exercises Miss Maud May Babcock gave the "Song of Miriam," and an impromptu concert was rendered by the different singers present. The visit of Elder Grant has been an event of rare pleasure to the Utahns here. He will visit friends at several points between here and Salt Lake.

Friday and Saturday at the Waldorf Mrs. James Ferguson, who is a prominent member of the Professional Woman's League, had a booth at the fair with Mrs. W. G. Jones and Mrs. Fernandez. Many of her Salt Lake friends were present the last evening to see the finish, and incidentally to catch a glimpse of Lillian Russell and other stage celebrities, who added lustre and dollars to these famed bazaars.

Mr. D. H. Peery of Salt Lake was a visitor at chapel services today. He is a guest at the Twenty-eighth and Madison avenue, where he will be for several days.

The ever welcome J. P. Meakin was also a visitor at the chapel Sunday, where friends were eager to greet him and extend Christmas and New Year's greetings. Mr. Meakin's stay is uncertain, but it is hoped he will remain as long as his business will permit.

Elder Wallace Hunter, who is a patient at the J. Wood Wright hospital, and who has passed a very critical week, is showing some signs of improvement today for which his friends are giving thanks. Little Alice McQuarrie is also beginning to improve, and giving her parents and family a rest from the terrible anxiety they have felt in the last six weeks.

New York is showing beyond a doubt, thus far, that she can support two grand operas; the Metropolitan and Manhattan are crowded nightly and vied to the music lover who cannot afford a subscription seat; he stands a poor chance of hearing any favorite opera, no matter how willing he may be to pay the price. So far the Metropolitan leads in favorite singers; Caruso is still the people's idol; Bonel, even with his high heels, has not quite reached the height in note, in breadth or popularity that his distinguished rival has attained, but he is so close in the race that his presence at the Manhattan has had quite a disturbing influence on Caruso. It all goes to prove how great a city of the world New York has become.

JANET.

STUDENT RATES—SALT LAKE ROUTE

To all points in Utah. Half fare. Tickets sold Dec. 20, 21, 22. Limit returning Jan. 7th.

HIGH GRADE WATCHES

Low Prices. A. S. Reiser, Jeweler, No. 12 East First South street.

Sothorn and Marlowe to Play "Hamlet" on Hallowed Ground

ONLY a few yards from the pile of stones marking Hamlet's grave and the flowing stream known as Ophelia's Well, E. H. Sothorn and Miss Julia Marlowe will, during their forthcoming European tour, give a performance of "Hamlet." The theater stands in the very shadow of the castle of Elsinore and all the place is hallowed ground. The City of Elsinore is situated 25 English miles from Copenhagen, the capital of Denmark on the shores of Oeresund, and only a cannon-shot away from Sweden. Elsinore is steeped in memories of the immortal poem of "Hamlet." It offers a rugged, picturesque landscape in harmony with its romantic traditions. A great tumult on the outskirts of the town, surrounded by an enormous moor, is revered as the "Tomb of Hamlet." In the park of Marlenlyst, a suburb of Elsinore, there is a beautiful statue of Hamlet, the work of the famous sculptor Peterson. Near by is "Ophelia's Spring," a clear stream of water, purifying from the rocks and shaded by great trees. The immortal legend of the Danish prince, the fate of the ill-starred Ophelia; the fearful apparition of the murdered king are known to the humblest inhabitant. Elsinore is a favorite haunt for Shakespeare lovers visiting Denmark. One may see them look in hand, following the lines which allude to the scene before them. With the approach of evening a profound melancholy, typical of northern countries, seems to descend upon Elsinore. It is then that the full significance of Shakespeare's masterpiece dawn upon the visitor. Out of the deepening shadows emerges the phantom monarch "revisiting the glimpses of the moon." The "eternal blazon" uttered to Hamlet by those fleshless lips echoes through the mind, and "thought beyond the reach of our souls" throng upon the tourist.

THE BEST CHRISTMAS GIFT.

A great many people think that because they are not able to give Christmas gifts, because they cannot give money or what it will buy, they can give nothing. How little we realize that the best thing anybody can ever give in this world is not money, not clothing, fuel, or provisions, but himself.

I know a lady who is very poor. She has no money to give to the poor at Christmas. But she goes around for days before Christmas, visiting every person she hears of being sick or crippled or unfortunate, every one who has any trouble, whether she knows him or not. And she gives out such a wealth of love, of sympathy, of encouragement, good cheer, and sunshine, that these people feel enriched for a whole year. The material things they receive are cold and unsympathetic in comparison with what this poor woman gives them. On the other hand, I know a man, wealthy but selfish, whose conscience is to trouble him just before Christmas, and he sends out checks, coal, clothing, provisions to the poor people. Then he feels a sort of relief; he has eased his conscience which troubled him. But he rarely, I ever, goes to see these poor people; never gives them anything of himself; his encouragement, or good cheer.

This is not the spirit of Christmas. The spirit of Christmas is the Christ spirit, the helpful spirit. It is the giving of what Christ gave. He had no money to give—He was the poorest of the poor—but did ever any Croesus have so much to give? Did any millionaire ever radiate so much power and hope to the discouraged, or so much comfort to the sick and the sorrowing? O. S. Marden in Success Magazine.

Keeley Ice Cream Co. has removed to 269 South State. Both phones 3223.

PAQUIN'S LATEST SUIT MODEL.

One of the newest coat suits of the mid-season is this model with coat made long and tight-fitting and with swallowtail skirts, fitting faultlessly over the hips and close enough to the figure generally to prevent an awkward flare. The material is black and white checked suiting, appropriately relieved with collar and cuffs of black velvet, and with two black silk frogs fastening the coat over the bust.

her home on Saturday afternoon last at a Kensington complimentary to her sister, Mrs. Butterfield of Seattle. The rooms were most tastefully decorated and an elaborate luncheon was served, dainty hand painted cards, the work of the hostess marking the places for the following guests: Mesdames Butterfield, Barratt, Perry, S. A. Langton, W. S. Langton, A. M. Plummer, A. H. Thompson, J. E. Shepherd, Misses Cassidy, DeGraff, Annie Raymond, Katherine Smith.

A pleasant event of the week was the evening with Dickens, given under the auspices of the Y. L. M. I. A. stake board in the B. Y. C. chapel, on Tuesday evening. Dickens' Christmas carol was splendidly read by Miss Ruth Evelyn Moeck, and excellent music was furnished by the U. A. C. quartet. A large number of people attended and thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Farrell have returned from a ten days' visit in Salt Lake.

Mrs. A. H. Thompson was a visitor to Salt Lake this week.

Prof. Thomas McKay and Miss Lizzie McKay are spending the holidays with home folks in Ogden.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Thatcher are spending a few days in Salt Lake, having gone there to attend the celebration of Mrs. Thatcher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Crismann's, golden wedding.

Miss Claire Eldredge has gone to her home to spend the holidays.

Mr. E. C. Bacon and Mr. H. P. Giberson of Ouray, Colo., are Logan visitors.

Miss Nettie Maughan accompanied her father to Brigham City on Monday.

Miss Reda Ricks has gone to Bingham Junction, where she will spend some time with her father, Mr. Joel Ricks.

Mr. C. W. Nibley, Jr., has returned from a trip to Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Naylor are visiting in Salt Lake.

CLUB CHAT.

The current events and current literature section of the Ladies' Literary club gave a special program yesterday afternoon in honor of the season. Mrs. Marie Gerrans sang some French Christmas anthems. Mrs. Walter George Tuttle played some harp selections. Miss Marjorie Brooks and Miss Helen Hartley rendered a violin duet, and H. L. Morton of the Mount Pealy company, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Clelland, played a piano selection. Following the program tea was served and the season's greetings exchanged.

The Utah Archaeological society held their annual meeting tonight, Dec. 22, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the president and Mrs. E. A. Wall, 249 east South Temple street. An address will be given by Dr. W. M. Padon on "The Value of Christian Archaeology." The annual report by the secretary will be read and election of officers take place.

At a meeting of the Orphans' home directors the following officers for the year were elected: President, Mrs. C. B. Sprague; treasurer, Mrs. E. I. Thorne; secretary, Mrs. V. H. Pease; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. M. Johnson. The directors are: Mrs. Jay T. Harris, Mrs. Ferdinand Dickert, Mrs. J. E. Oglesby, Mrs. C. W. Boyd, Mrs. George Hancock, Mrs. Rachel Miller, Mrs. Sol Street and Mrs. J. F. Grant.

HOTEL KNUTSFORD BUILDING

MEHESY

THE FURRIER

UNPRECEDENTED Price Cutting to insure quick clearance right at the time you need the Furs. Values are so unusual that this ought to be the greatest Christmas week we ever had in

FURS

There will be the swiftest kind of selling these next couple days. Need we urge you to make your selections early? This unrivaled

SALT LAKE

Means Furs of unquestionable worth at practically cost of production. Our store is a wonderland of Furs a wonder of YULETIDE FASCINATIONS in Furs of known integrity represents to the recipient the highest ideal of the Furrier's art—Fashions that you might expect at a season's grand opening; prices that you might look for long after Christmas had come and gone—these are the attractions at the Mehesy Store now.

When you consider that this is essentially a "Fur Season", the greatest in the history of the country, you will understand what these remarkable sales mean to a Fur store from which to make your Christmas selections that overshadow any assemblage of fashionable and popular Furs ever seen in the west.

Watch for Monday's Extra Special.

MEHESY, The Furrier.

Opening Evenings. Established 16 Years. Hotel Knutsford Building.

HAY'S Hairhealth
Keeps You Looking Young
Always restores youthful color to faded hair; stops hair falling; positively removes dandruff; a high-class hair-grower dressing, keeping hair soft and luxuriant; does not stain skin or linen. Large 50c bottle, drugists. Hairhealth Treatment with Hay's Hairhealth is a valuable aid in Hairhealth. Send for free sample to Philip Hay Co., Newark, N. J., for FREE SAMPLES. Treatments with Hay's Hairhealth.