result. At the present time of writing twenty horses are eligible to face the barrier for the $10,000 prize, and everything depends on the condition of the weather today as to how many of them will respond to post call. A light rain began failing at an early hour this morning, and the indication are favorable for a muddy track, which will upset all calculations based on will upset all calculations based on overnight betting, and result in several scratches of horses not partial to heavy going. On the other hand there are several entries whose chances will be greatly increased by the change in the track conditions. Altogether the big race has a very open appearance under any condition of the weather. There is lively competition in the bid-ding for the services of competent

COUNTY TEACHERS MEET

Miss Adelaide Holton Delivers an Excellent Address-Van Cott Speaks.

The teachers of Salt Lake county met in the University building this forenoon, and listened to an excellent program on school work. Superintendent Yan Cott presided, and introduced Miss Adelaide Holton, supervisor of the primary work in the city schools, who spoke on the subject of "Monotnies in School Work." The lecturer empha-sized the point that a teacher must first live up to his ideals in daily life, before he can expect good progressive living and development on the part of his pu-pils. Monotony comes sooner or later

After the Bad Cider.

Washington, March 3 .- It has come the notice of the commissioner of aternal revenue that "manufacturers of so-called ciders are placing on the market a compound or adulteration under the name of cider, containing wind spirits in such quantities as to render the manufacturer liable to a special tax as rectifiers." The commissioner, in view of these facts, has instructed offiters of internal revenue to see that manufacturers of this class of adulterations qualify as rectifiers and place their product in merchantable packagaes, marked, stamped and branded as rectified spirits. The use of wines for-tified under the act of March 1, 1890, in this connection or otherwise than for consumption as fortified and as contemplated by law, is prohibited.

Army Order.

Washington, March 2 .- By direction of the secretary of war the following is published to the army for the informaden and guidance of all concerned: The frequent efforts which are being made to procure personal favors and consideration in behalf of post non-commissioned officers of the army in the matter of assignment to stations, etc., has suggested to the secretary of war that an impression may exist that para-traph five of the regulations, which pecifically prohibits the procurement of personal favors except through the reg-ular military channels, does not relate to enlisted men, and he therefore directs that the that the attention of all concerned be called to the provision of the said para-raph and that in the future a strict charvance thereof be enforced.

into every school room as a result invigorating power of disinterested pupils and teachers. Dis-couragement is always a result of such condition, and an utter disregard and love for things about us. Many suggestions were offered to obviate such a condition. Teachers in taking up their work in the spring time should try to put something new into each lesson. Pleasant surprises should be in store.

The school should be a living society. Mr. Van Cott, in a very spirited and interesting talk, rather deprecated the growing tendency in our schools to entertain rather than to encourage real solid work. The meeting was brought to a close after a general discussion among the teachers present. Owing to the absence of Prof. Cummings, his lecture was not given. Prof. Wm. M. Stewart will lecture at the next meet-

Interesting Visit of Elders Grant, Clawson, Kimbail and Maeser.

Special Correspondence.

Thatcher, Graham Co., Ariz., Feb. 21. We have had a most enjoyable time during the past week. A visit to the Gila valley by Elders Heber J. Grant and Rudger Clawson of the Council of Apostles; J. G. Kimball of the First Council of Seventies; Dr. Karl G. Maeser, assistant superintendent of the S ser, assistant superintendent of the S. S. Union, and Sister Augusta Grant, member of the Young Ladies' general board in the interest of the Sunday school and Mutual Improvement associations.

On the 14th we had a council meeting. Then there were various meetings, socials and banquets, and the series closed with a musical recital last evening.

On Friday night, the 16th, there was a very enjoyable party and reception given in Weeck's large hall in Pima. The Latter-day Saints' Academy pupils gave a banquet in the academy building the same day, in honor of the visit-ors and the board of education.

This was one of the most delightful affairs ever enjoyed in Thatcher. A most pleasing feature was the part played by the members of the Domestic Science class on their new range and their equipments of new stove furniture. The girls got up a dinner good enough for a king.

Throughout the many meetings, the counsels and admonitions of the visitors were timely and seasoned with the Spirit of the Lord.

BIG CANAL PROJECT.

The first day in the valley, the Apostles accompanied the board of direc-tors of the Enterprise Canal Co., and & large company of people, to the head waters of the great canal system. The board had a propesition before them, made by capitalists who desired to ad-vance the means and push this canal through for something like two-thirds of the land already located. The Apostles recommended the board to go ahead and do this work themselves, the farmers and people generally to secure stock for themselves in exchange for labor. This they propose to do.

Our academy and the heads of departments were very much encouraged the kind words coming from visiting party, who acknowledged that every department of the St. Joseph Stake is up to a high standard of perfection.
