MISS HAZEL BARNES, CONTRALTO.

Who Will Go to Paris to Continue Her Studies.

Utah people at Seattle during the recent visit of the Tabernacle choir were most pleased with the reception given Utah's young contralto, Miss Hazel Barnes, who leaves Monday next for Paris to continue her musical studies. Miss Barnes remained in Seattle after the departure of the choir, to assist Mr. Evan Williams, the noted tenor, in a concert. He spoke most highly of her work, and the fair managers made even more flattering offers for her to sing a solo at the fair.

Anthony Carlson, who was removed by the trustees, the school's director, has said that his brother used unorthodox methods. Charles Carlson, who was a teacher in the school, declares that he only insisted that certain branches should not be taught by incompetent instructors, and that he brought about friction, which made necessary for the governing board to interfere.

Letters from Berlin state that the fall season of the Royal Opera House in that city is now in full swing, and that Mrs. Louis Lortzing, the director, called upon to sing several new parts. She had been furnished with books during her vacation in Switzerland and was entirely prepared for performances. One of the roles was in "Fidelio's Hochzeit," and another was a repetition of the "Mignon" performance, while all the more recent news from the fact that the regular soprano, whose place she took last season, had returned and reported for such other parts as Musette in "La Bohème," the page in "Hugenots," which she sang last year. Frasquita in "Carmen" and one of the soprano parts in "Tannhäuser."

The account further states: "The school is making energetic protest against the published statement of his brother and former dean at the school, Anthony Carlson, reflecting gravely upon the manner of his succession to the deanship."

Hopes are expressed that the American Music Society, which was founded by Arthur Shepherd, will resume its meetings this fall, notwithstanding its absence, and the temporary removal of its president, Dr. W. H. Summershays.

An Itinerary is being arranged for a state tour of the immediate quartet, who made such a favorable impression last summer on a trip through the northwest. The quartet is composed of Fred C. Graham, Thomas Ashworth, Victor Christopherson and Willard Squires. Mr. Graham is arranging for the trip, which it is to extend as far south as Monroe, Utah.

Hold's band is in receipt of a set of carillons, chimes, from the Toledo manufacturers, at a cost of $25. They are of a very fine tone and appearance. The band continues, through this good weather, giving Saturday evening concerts on the balcony in front of the Amusement building on Main street.

New York letters say that Mr. Brines has a $900 per annum church choir position in New York, with other opportunities to keep him busy teaching until the Shuberts find a second opening for him in their dramatic companies.

A. J. Kisselburg has opened a studio for the instruction of vocal culture at 414 Security & Trust building.

Miss Emily C. Jessup is supervisor of music in the Grantsville schools.

Edward Fitzpatrick, the violinist, will give a complimentary reception concert next Friday evening in the First Congregational church, for which Mr. Skelton is arranging a program.

Mr. J. H. Robinson will sing an Ave Maria" by Bartley at tomorrow's 11 a. m. service in the Cathedral cathedral.

Mrs. Emma Ramsey Morris is in receipt of a beautiful pair of polished snakewood drumsticks from Dr. Hermon of Bell Center, O., one of the veteran musicians of the Civil war who participated in the late G. A. R. encampment. Mrs. Morris had promised the doctor she would learn to drum if he sent her the sticks, and now she promises to carry out her part of the agreement.

Miss Jennie Sands of this city, who is studying vocal culture in Europe, has left Dresden for Berlin, where she is now studying with Mme. Corelli. Miss Sands has won many compliments for the rapid and intelligent progress she has made.

The passenger department of the short line has been notified through government sources that the Philippine Constabulary band, which created such a stir in this country, will be in the states again next summer for a general tour. The band will then visit Denver the last three days of last week, followed by a tour of the country where it is to fill an engagement. As the command went via Granger to Pocatello, there was no chance to visit Salt Lake. It has 39 men, with the greatest reed section of any band in the world, and has for its conductor, Capt. W. H. Loving, a negro graduate of the New England conservatory at Boston, and an accomplished musician.

Mr. D. P. Parsons, who will sing two solo parts in the organ service in the Union church tomorrow, is well known among musical people in Ogden, where he has sung with acceptance in the principal churches. This will be his first appearance as a singer in Salt
