At 216 west One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, the home of Mrs. King. Mrs. Dehim of Salt Lake is stopping for a few weeks. Mrs. Dehlin, a former teacher of domestic science in the L. D. S. school is here to perfect herself in the art of cooking, in order to open a school later in Salt Lake City. She comes araned with letters of introduc-tion to the leading spirits in this home-iy but most necessary profession, and but most necessary profession, and has met with several societies in the last few days with prospects for a very husy two weeks ahead, all tending in the direction of professional cooking.

Another young woman from Utah made her appearance at chapel services today, Miss Rith Moench, of Logan, a teacher of the Agricultural college, who is here for the winter to atudy physical education at Columbia, taking a special course. Miss Moench will also study the pasts under Mrs. Sarah Cowell Le Moyne, if that lady is in the city iong enough during the senson to take pu-pils. At present Miss Moench is local-ed at 529 west One Hundred and Twanty-third street with Mrs. Robin-son, a few streets from the college. Mr. and Mrs. John A. Barnes are at

VALUE

The New Fall Most Beautiful Assortment Ever Brought West. It was an auspicious week in Silks and Dress Goods. A week of wonderful activity, brightened with encomium falling from lips of delighted women. Never in the history of the store have such beautiful fabrics been shown. Never have the stocks so nearly met all demands The counters are piled high with weaves of every conceivable pattern. And conspicuous among them are the rich, delightful plaids, now in vogue. Of course Madam Jones' arrival from Paris drew scores of Ladies to the store. And yet the inpouring of women who buy with exceeding taste the materials for the new gown which needs must see long service-the dress which is made at home or by the average dressmaker was greater than we had anticipated. ISo altogether the week which has just ended is a memorable one---and which will tax our energies, a year hence, to beat.

FOR THE COMING WEEK Every effort will be made to give our customers careful and considerate attention. IIt will be a pleasure to show goods and assist in making selection. And these goods will be offered at the very lowest prices consistent with good business.

The Neat Dresser Looks to Keith-O'Brien For Correct Interpretations.

It is simply marvelous the manner in which the section, where women's apparel is handled is forging ahead of last year's splendid business. The story of its success is due to two important factors. The right goods are carried --- the very latest suits, coats, jackets, skirts, etc., and only moderate prices prevail. Just one price to all.

As regards style it is safe to say that in this part of the country Keith-O'Brien Company leads. No house in New York or Chicago shows later and
