NECESSITY OF EDUCATION.

THE ACQUIREMENT OF INTELLIGENCE A RELIGIOUS DUTY.

Editor Deseret News:

The Spaniards have a proverb: "Piuttosto mendicante che ignorante."

"Better be a beggar than ignorant".

The larger portion of the community composing the Latter-day Saints were found among the ranks of the humbler classes—the toilers of the world. Most of us, thanks to the liberal spirit of the age, received a common school education, enabling us to pursue the ordinary avocations of life. Very few have had collegiate or classical instruction in the higher branches of learning. We may have had aspirations for further advancement in scholarly attainments, but from surrounding circumstances they were compelled to lie measurably dormant.

But when the light of truth dawned upon our understandings what glorious hopes filled our souls. We had then an inventive which created within us anew every laudable ambition. We found that the Gospel not only redeemed us from sin, but pointed out the way for us to improve the talents which God had endowed us with.

embodied a full and complete salvation. It was intended to "save to the uttermost," morally, socially, physically and intellectually. We were to "go on to perfection." Now, a man may be a righteous man in a moral and religious cause, but if he fails to improve his mind, and develop his intellectual powers can he possibly attain the condition of a "perfect man" in the full sense of the term? God is a being of infinite power because His intelligence is infinite. Then the more intelligence we obtain the nearer we approach Him. This is an established axiom among us as a people.

We are told we cannot be saved in ignorance. We must therefore understand intelligently and thoroughly every principle of truth and knowledge that comes within our reach, for every principle of truth is a saving principle; it is one step more in the right direction.

If we in our ignorance were brought suddenly into the presence of the intelligent beings of another sphere to dwell with them should we not feel embarrassed?

How does an uneducated man feel to-day in the society of the educated be they ever so kindly disposed toward him. He feels an uncomfortable incongeniality. It is but natural that we should feel the same on the other side under similar conditions. Do we think we are going to be instantly electrified into paragons of intelligence? is it not unnatural to think so? How should we feel if it were so? We should feel that we had obtained something we had not earned. The whole spirit and theme of the Gospel teaches us different. We shall obtain what we earn, know what we have learned, and what we do not know continue to learn in the school of experience. Is this not a natural view to take? Else how can we be "rewarded according to our works?"

Joseph the Prophet taught that the knowledge we obtain we shall take with us. Reason tells us then, that there will be the same distinctions there as here between individuals. Hence the necessity of diligence in learning our lessons while permitted to remain in this life.

In the early history of our Territory we had to endure great hardships in subduing the refractory elements, battling with rude forboding nature, in order to wrest a bare existence from the soil.

had but little chance. Books were scarce and dear. But now things have changed. We are comparatively a wealthy people. Our facilities and resources are ample for great progress in this direction. True we have done much among the rising generation; but what about the middle aged, the heads of families, those who have been in the front of the battles and through circumstances in life have been deprived of inestimable blessings? Shall those of us who are thus unfortunate be content to remain in ignorance, and take a back seat, and allow the rising generation to put us quite in the shade? Is it not culpable negligence so to do, with the knowledge we possess of the Gospel, and the requirements expected of us? "It is never too late to mend;" No one is too old to learn.

ADOLPHUS.

WASATCH STAKE CONFERENCE.

The 43rd quarterly conference of Wasatch Stake convened in the New Stake House, Heber City, May 5th and 6th, 1888.

Singing. Prayer by Patriarch Thos. Hicken. Singing.

President Hatch, congratulated the Saints of this Stake for the priviledge they had in meeting in this comfortable and pleasant building. He gave instructions about the seating of the stand according to the order of the priesthood; referred to the labors of the brethren who had built, planned and taken part in the beautifying of this building, and returned his thanks to them all.

The rest of the forenoon was occupied by Elder T. Kirby, Patriarch Hicken, Elder A. Tortie and Bishop N. C. Murdock. The latter reported the condition of the Charleston Ward, as doing well and prospering.

The choir sang:

The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof.

Benediction by Bishop Duke.

2 p.m. After the usual exercises, Bishop Thos. Knowlton reported the condition of the Wallsburgh Ward as satisfactory. During the afternoon, Bishops Duke, Van Wagener and Cluff reported their Wards, which were in a satisfactory condition, health and peace prevailing and the Saints striving to live their religion. Remarks were also made by the following High Councilors: John W. Witt, J. J. Howe, John Muir and John McDonald. Singing. Benediction by Elder John Watkins.

In the evening a Priesthood meeting was held; 94 members were present. Much valuable counsel was given and the general business of the Stake attended to.

Sunday, 10 a. m. After singing, prayer was offered by Elder G. Wilson.

President Hatch said he felt well pleased to see so many present, and hoped the people would continue in faith and good works, and follow the example of Jesus.

Bishop Cluff and Councilor Lambert reported their Wards as flourishing.

Attawell Wooten and Daniel Bigelow, members of the High Council, gave some excellent instructions, after which Elder George Wilson spoke in reference to the blessings we were enjoying, and the efforts that were continually being made to destroy this work, yet the Lord had preserved His people, and would continue to do so, if the Saints would put their trust in Him.

Singing. Benediction by Elder John Duice.

2 p.m. After the usual exercises, remarks were made by President Alexander, J. M. Murdock, President of the High Priests' Quorum, and Elder Orson Hicken.

The sacrament was administered, after which G. Johnson, Frederick Giles and J. S. Murdock of the High Council, Prest. T. H. Giles and Elders W. Daybell and Empy, addressed the congregation.

President Hatch gave some excellent council and advice to the fathers and mothers, in reference to the training of their children. He considered it would be our duty as soon as the Stake House was completed to commence and build an academy.

The choir sang (congregation all rising): "Zion prospers, all is well."

Benediction by Patriarch Thos. Hicken.

Although the weather was very cold and stormy, there was during Sunday the largest congregation ever assembled in Wasatch County. During the afternoon on Sunday the general and local authorities were presented, and unanimously sustained.

HENRY CLEGG, Clerk.

AN EASY WAY.—"Say, Jimmie, let's you an' me go out west an' be train robbers," said one small boy to another as they watched a railway eating a plate, old Italian gentleman's bananas. "How'll we do it?"

"Why, easy enough. Jest go out there an' git on to trains with our pistols ready and make the passengers hold up their hands while we go through their pockets."

"Triumph I know an easier way than this to be a train robber."

"How?"

"Le's git to be train boys."—Chicago Times.

Hack Work and Journalism.

Is the hack work of literature worse for a man's body or soul than the hack work of other professions? What is here meant by hack work? In the literary profession, especially among those who write about it, it is common to hear work "done for the booksellers" contemptuously treated as hack work. The contempt is often just, but not necessarily. Johnson wrote his "Lives of the Poets," for the booksellers, Southey wrote his "Life of Nelson" for them, yet these are works no sane man treats contemptuously. Every man who depends solely on his pen for a livelihood must—even if he can steer clear of the news, papers, do much work which he, if he be wise, and the world certainly will willingly let die. If he be an honest man, a man of proper self-respect, he will do it as well as circumstances will let him; but needs must that circumstances will sometimes prove too strong for him. Yet it has been that work so done has, by happy chance, become a part of the world's patrimony. In short, as treason, says the opposition, may become patriotism, so hack work may become literature.

Can this invention be used to advantage commercially?"

"Yes. It will not cost more than $15 or $20, and is easily kept in order. I have tried it again and again, and it works more perfectly than the telephone, and is much less liable to have its usefulness interfered with by induction."—Chicago Herald.

To Eleanor F. C. Squires, Defendant.

YOU ARE HEREBY REQUIRED TO appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Utah, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county; or, if served out of this county but in this district, within twenty days; otherwise within forty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree dissolving the marriage between plaintiff and defendant, and awarding to plaintiff the custody of the minor children, issue of said marriage, on the ground of various acts of adultery committed by defendant with one James Greer, (sometimes known as James Wesley) and with one Solomon Hancock; also, on the ground of desertion of plaintiff by defendant, and on the further ground of cruel and inhuman treatment of plaintiff by defendant.

And you are hereby notified, that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded therein.

Witness, the Hon. Charles S. Zane, Judge, and the Seal of the District Court of the Third Judicial District, in and for the Territory of Utah, this 11th day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

[SEAL.] HENRY G. MCMILLAN, Clerk.
