IDAHO'S BIG WHEAT CROP.

It Will be Near 3,000,000 Bushels in the Snake River Valley.

PRICES ARE LOW, THOUGH.

Range From Thirty to Thirty-Six Cents a Bushel—Fine Yield of Oats and Barley.

Mr. Sam Williamson, the enterprising secretary of the Utah Millers' association, has just returned from a business trip to southern Idaho, whither he went for the purpose of looking into this year's wheat yield of that section. Mr. Williamson, when interviewed by a "News" man today, said:

"The wheat crop of southern Idaho has been very large, in fact, immense, this year. The quality, too, is also good—very good. The demand for it is likewise quite brisk, though the prices are exceedingly low, ranging as they do, from 50 to 60 cents per hundred weight, which means 30 cents as a minimum and 36 cents as a maximum per bushel. Now, conditions must be extraordinary in their character when a farmer can make money out of wheat selling for those prices. Of course, the crop has been very heavy as I have stated and that will help matters out some, but not to the extent that the farmers deserve."

Asked as to what this year's yield would be in the Snake River Valley, which Mr. Williamson visited; he said: "That is somewhat difficult to estimate without careful investigation, but I should say that the crop of wheat in the Snake River Valley will easily run from two to three million bushels for the season of 1900. Some farmers will hold the product in the hope that prices will tend upward before long. Others, however, will be compelled to sell as they need the money. It must be remembered that they had a poor crop last year. That is, the yield was greatly damaged by the frost and had to be fed to stock, it being impossible to put it on the market for mill purposes.

"The oats and barley crop," continued Mr. Williamson, "is also good and both cereals are being sold at a brisk demand. Idaho has had a much better crop producing season than Utah. The dry weather has been altogether favorable for the Snake River Valley. The irrigating supply from the Snake River is practically unlimited and has furnished the farmers with all the water they needed."

Mr. Williamson further stated that a goodly crop of hay had been raised in this same section and that several Idaho sheep men had expressed their intention of coming to Utah to purchase sheep to feed through the winter, believing that the investment at the prevailing reduced prices, would be a paying one.

The wheat market has remained unchanged in Utah throughout the week 49 to 52 cents being paid for last year's wheat, and 48 and 50 cents for this.

INDIA FAMINE FUND.

It is pleasant to note that the appeals of the "News" in behalf of the sufferers from the India famine are being so generously responded to in the country, but our city friends should see to it that all the generosity is not confined to the country districts. THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL IS OUT.

Head Camp Abolishes It by a Big Majority Vote.

THE WOODMEN'S BUILDING

Will be Decided Upon Before the Day is Out—Installation of Officers This Evening.

The head camp of the Woodmen of the World Pacific jurisdiction close their labors this evening with the installation of officers for the coming term. The camp will meet again at Cripple Creek, Colorado, in August, 1902.

At this morning's session the case of Lewis G. Hunt was disposed of. Neighbor Hunt died last year of smallpox but his application papers did not show that he had ever been successfully vaccinated. At the time of the death he had a benefit of $3,000 in the order which was refused payment. A brother of the deceased member comes forward with an affidavit which shows the deceased was vaccinated thirty years ago. The head camp voted to pay the claim in full.

The discussion on the abolition of the executive council then came up. During the night the opposition to the measure came to the conclusion to withdraw, as it was evidently the wish of the membership that the council should go. When the question came up for vote this morning Head Counsel Falkenberg in explaining his position said that the will of the membership should be law and voted for the abolition. This action on the part of the head of the order turned the tide and the executive council was abolished by a vote of 1,200 to 200.

The abolition of the council throws the financial work of the order into the hands of the board of management and the judicial and executive into the hands of the head council, the legislative portion being solely vested in the head camp.

This afternoon's session was taken up in voting on the various amendments to the constitution. The matter of erecting a Woodman's building will also be settled and sites chosen for the same.

The last order of business will be the installation of officers. Owing to the absence of the drill circles, all of them having gone home, this function will be an informal one.

The California and Oregon delegations leave this evening for home. The Colorado delegation will remain over Sunday and leave by special cars spending the interim in rest and recreation.

All of the members speak gratefully of Salt Lake and its hospitality and all join in saying that they have had the best kind of a time during the ten days of their session.

WOMEN ADJOURN.

Complete Their Labors and Await the Pleasure of Those Behind.

The second biennial convention of the Women of Woodcraft came to an end last night. The convention decided by a vote of 136 ayes to 109 nays to hold biennial conventions, and the head circle will therefore meet at Cripple Creek in two years, which is the place of the meeting of the Woodmen of the World.

A motion was offered which provided that the compensation of delegates stop after that day. This motion was voted down. The circle has been in session ten days and the cost will reach nearly as many thousand dollars. It was decided yesterday that in case the war tax on certificates of membership extended to fraternal orders the cost of the stamp is to be added to the cost of the certificate.

The grand guardian was appointed to bear the greetings of the Women of Woodcraft, Pacific jurisdiction, to the Eastern jurisdiction of the Woodmen at Columbus, Ohio, and empowered her to appoint two members to act with her.

The members elect for the term were then enstalled by Past Grand Guardian Falkenberg, assisted by the Violet circle of Leadville uniformed guards.

After the installation the circle went into committee of the whole, and adopted the amendments to the constitution. The most important change being the establishment of a new equalization fund.

The grand circle then adjourned sine die to meet at Cripple Creek in two years.

The ladies all express themselves as highly pleased with Salt Lake, and speak in the highest terms of the courtesies that have been extended them by the local members of the order. Most of the ladies will remain in the city until after the close of the session of the Woodmen.

HELD A BREEZY SESSION.

A Season of Filibustering Among Woodmen Until Late Last Evening.

The proceedings at the meeting of the head camp of the Woodmen of the World yesterday afternoon were the liveliest of the entire session. It seems that there has long been a feeling among certain of the Woodmen that the executive council should be abolished. This council is made up of the officers of the order who meet in the off year between the biennial meetings of the head camp and exercise not only executive but legislative functions. Its actions have been deemed in many instances as arbitrary, and hence the desire for its abolishment.

At the meeting yesterday afternoon a constitutional amendment was offered in the form of a resolution which was passed, and upon being referred to the judiciary committee was reported back in the form of a law for adoption. It was then that the fun began, as those opposed to the amendment started a filibuster and kept it up until long after the usual hour of adjournment.

Action was taken by the head camp in the case of Mrs. Carroll, whose husband had an insurance on his life of $2,000, fifteen hundred of which was paid. Camp Clerk Miles of camp No. 338 of this city, retained $500 on a flimsey pretext and left the city.

While not considering the claim a legal one against the head camp, still it acknowledged the moral obligation it was under and ordered the money paid.

WARD ENTERTAINMENTS.

The people of the Third ward will give a missionary social in honor of Elders Edward Gardner, Wm. Leonard and Walter Scott Weller, who depart shortly on missions to Europe; the entertainment will take place on Monday evening, Aug. 27th, on the lawn of E. M. Weller, at No. 36 east Seventh South. A fine program will be given consisting of dancing, humorous sports, music and Polyphone playing.

BROTHERS-IN-LAW AT OUTS

Obadiah Armstrong Accuses W. G. Hassard of Defrauding Him.

Idaho Officials Present a Requisition to Acting Governor Hammond —Papers Honored.

The county attorney and sheriff of Bingham county, Idaho, have presented to Acting Governor Hammond a requisition for the return of W. G. Hassard, the street car man, charged with leaving Idaho Falls and taking about $1,000 with him with intent to defraud his creditors. Attorney W. R. Hutchinson, who appeared for Hassard, opposed the request of the Idaho officials on the grounds that the offense charged is only a misdemeanor and that the complaint did not state in what county the offense complained of was committed; also that it did not state the amount the defendant was owing any creditor.

Mr. Hutchinson claims that the proceedings against his client are malicious, brought for the purpose of forcing Hassard to settle a disputed account with his brother-in-law and former partner, Obadiah Armstrong. Armstrong and Hassard went into the mercantile business in Idaho the early part of the present year. Hassard put $750 into the business and after three months, it is claimed, amounted to $900. The partners did not get along well together and Hassard decided to get out. He drew out of the business the $750 he had put in and $300 for his three months' work, making $1,050 in all, when he got to Salt Lake, he says, he paid $150 to a creditor of the firm in this city. When he left Idaho Falls it is said the firm had goods on hand to the amount of $3,200 in the custody of Armstrong. The debts of the firm, it is further claimed, amounted to only $1,500.

REQUISITION DENIED.

Acting Governor Hammond today refused to honor the requisition papers on the ground that the complaint filed against Hassard does not charge a public offense.

Mrs. Hassard, the defendant's wife, is a sister of the late Francis Armstrong.

A MOUNTAIN CLIMBER.

Gains 12 lbs. on Change of Food.

When a change of food can rebuild a man 77 years of age, it is evident that there is some value in a knowledge that can discriminate in the selection of proper food to rebuild the body. A few months ago the physician attending Warren S. Johnson of Colfax, Cal., 77 years old, told him that death from old age would soon claim him. He suffered from general weakness and debility.

An old lady advised him to quit coffee and drink Postum Cereal Food Coffee and to eat Grape-Nuts breakfast food every morning. He took the advice, and has gained 12 pounds. Says he is as well as he ever was, and can take long trips in the mountains, which he has been unable to do for a long time.

There is a reason for this; in the first place, coffee acts as a direct nerve destroyer on many highly organized people, both young and old and many people haven't the knowledge to select nourishing, healthful, rebuilding food.

Both Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts breakfast food are made from selected parts of the field grains that contain delicate particles of phosphate of potash and albumen. These two elements combine in the human body to quickly rebuild the gray matter in the brain and in the nerve centers throughout the body.

Direct, sure, and certain results come from their use and can be proven by any person that cares to make the trial. Both the Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts are kept by all first-class grocers.
