

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, APRIL 11.

The Two Bruisers Arrested.—Last week we noted the fact that B. Mitchell and Bart Flowers went over Jordan the Sunday previous and engaged in a regular pugilistic encounter, in the presence of a number of spectators. The two principals in the affair have been placed under arrest and were to be tried before Justice Spiers this afternoon.

The Suicide at Logan.—We learn from the Utah Journal that an investigation into the suicide last Friday, in Logan, of Martha A. Izatt, wife of William Izatt, showed that death ensued from strychnine, administered by her own hand. The inquiry also developed the fact clearly that the unfortunate woman had been for some time previous of unsound mind.

A Domestic Tragedy.—On Sunday, at Denver, Mrs. Jane Hamilton, being weary of life, adopted a novel method of trying to get rid of it. She jumped into a well, the descent being twenty feet. The water on the bottom was only eighteen inches deep, and she endeavored to strangle herself by kneeling and holding her head under. She was pulled out, but died in a few hours from acute congestion of the lungs, from the effects of being so long in the water. Her husband, Thomas Hamilton, who was ill from pneumonia at the time, only survived the wretched woman an hour or two.

Received Certificates.—Dr. Romania B. Pratt's obstetric class passed a very creditable examination before Drs. Anderson and Fowler, both of these professional gentlemen expressing themselves well satisfied with the progress the students had made and very willingly signed their certificates. The especial design of these classes is to render as efficient and practical assistance to the settlements as may be within the reach of their circumstances. The record of those taking this course has to far been very good, the students having been able to meet and overcome emergencies which otherwise might have resulted fatally. The following named ladies have received their certificates and been duly set apart for their work: Phoebe Holdaway, Provo City; Mary Hansen, Salt Lake City; Alice Taylor, American Fork; Hannah Wild, American Fork; Mary U. Overhansley, Payton; Henrietta McCloy, South Cottonwood; Christina Anderson, Big Cottonwood. Dr. Pratt's success is evidenced by the opening on April 11th of the largest class yet assembled.

Sudden Death.—The Territorial Enquirer states that on Friday last a party of three persons hailing from Grand Junction City, Colorado, passed through this city on their way to Salt Lake. One of the party owned the team and wagon with which they traveled, and had been hired by the others—two brothers—to take them through to Salt Lake. On getting on to Provo bench, the driver of the team and one of the others got out and walked, while the third sat on the spring seat and drove the team. When about two miles north of the river the owner got up into the wagon and discovered that the driver was dead. They then turned back and came with several other men whom they met on the way to Provo and stated the occurrence to the city marshal and his aid, Policeman Strong. Dr. Simmons was sent for, who examined the body and concluded that the man had died of apoplexy. The body was interred the next day in the Provo city cemetery. The brother of the deceased, an entire stranger in Utah, expressed his gratitude to the marshal and policeman, for their kind, timely and gratuitous aid. The name of the man who died was A. A. Alerly, and the party were on their way so the Oregon Short Line Railroad.

THE KANAB POISONING.

THE INDIAN "WHITE EYE" SAID TO BE THE MURDERER.

Brother John Rider, of Kanab, sends us the following about the poisoning case at that place, of which we made mention a few days ago: "By request I forward you the coroner's verdict and obituary of the deceased. Since the inquest was over one of the Indians has confessed that Indian "White Eye" placed the strychnine in Brother John Phelps' flour, and was held to appear before the grand jury at Beaver, at an examination before Justice Broadbent.

TERRITORY OF UTAH, Kanab Precinct, Kane County.

An inquisition holden in Kanab, at the residence of T. G. Smith, on the 2d day of April, A.D. 1883, before Nephi Johnson, Esq., Justice of the Peace for Johnson Precinct, in the county aforesaid, on the body of John Phelps there lying dead, by the jurors whose names are here-to subscribed.

The said jurors upon their oaths do say that the deceased came to his death from the effects of strychnine, feloniously placed in his food by persons unknown, but supposed to be two Indians who entered his house in a secluded part of the canon in which his home was. No evidence of the fact, however, could be proved.

In testimony whereof the said jurors have hereunto set their hands the day and year aforesaid.

JOHN RIDER, B. T. BAIRD, TAYLOR CROSBY, Jurors.

[Attest] NEPHEI JOHNSON, Justice of the Peace.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, APRIL 12.

First Company.—By telegram from James H. Hart, New York, to President John Taylor, we learn that the first company of this season's emigration left Liverpool yesterday, on the S.S. Nevada. It numbers 352 souls.

Riter—Jennings.—Yesterday, W. W. Riter, Esq., Superintendent of the Utah & Western Railroad, and Miss Priscie Jennings, daughter of his Honor Mayor William Jennings, were united in marriage. The occasion was celebrated last night by a fete at Davereux House, the residence of the Mayor, where a gay and happy throng of invited guests assembled. The reception was a very brilliant affair, and on a scale of munificence usual to Mr. and Mrs. Jennings, whose liberality, excellent taste, and generous hospitality are widely known here and elsewhere. The happy couple received the congratulations of all, and we unite our best wishes with those of others so cordially expressed for their welfare and happiness.

Among the numerous handsome and costly presents received by the bride and groom was one of which Mr. Riter is doubtless specially proud. It was in the shape of a massive silver tea service, accompanied by the following note:

Union Pacific Railway, Salt Lake and Western Division. Superintendent's Office, Salt Lake City, Utah, April 11th, 1883.

To Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Riter:

We the undersigned employees of the Salt Lake & Western and Utah & Nevada Railways, herewith present to you the accompanying service, as a slight testimonial of our esteem and respect for our superintendent, and for whom and his bride we wish a life of unalloyed peace, prosperity and happiness.

To this was attached forty-three signatures.

The many amiable qualities of the happy couple admirably suit each for the other. May adverse clouds never dim the serenity of their conjugal sky.

Died in Jail.—This morning, a young colored man named Marine Valentine, who, some time ago asked permission to stop at the city jail, died in that building from consumption. He was quite low from the complaint when taken in. He was told to make application to the County authorities to be taken care of, but he begged to be allowed to stop at the jail, as he preferred being there. Arrangements had been made with the County, however, to take him in charge, but he expired before he could be removed.

A Railroad Town.—Shoshone, until recently known as Naples, is a town in Oneida County, Idaho, and although the Oregon Short Line is about twenty miles beyond that point on the way to Hailey, it is still the terminal town. Three months ago it had a population of not more than 200 all told, now the inhabitants number somewhere between 1,500 and 2,000. At present it is principally noted for bad whiskey, gambling dens and shooting scrapes. A few days ago a miner's hard hat was put into a slender building called a jail, for being uproariously drunk. A gang of ruffians soon broke into the structure and set them all at liberty. Such is life along a railroad in course of construction in the West.

Murder in Montana.—A Helena, Montana, correspondent informs the Butte Miner that, on Monday last, a colored man named William Brooks, but better known there by the nickname "Tex," was shot and instantly killed by Patrick Muer alias Lamb, on Sunday night

Brooks had an altercation with a brother of Lamb's, resulting in a fight in which the brother was knocked down and pretty severely handled by Brooks. On Monday morning Muer, alias Lamb, and Brooks met on the sidewalk in front of the postoffice, and Lamb made some insulting remark to Brooks, who instantly resented it, and ran toward Lamb with clenched fist as if to strike him, but before he could get close enough to strike the blow Lamb drew his revolver and fired, the ball hitting Brooks in the head and penetrating the brain. The wounded man fell upon the sidewalk and expired almost instantly.

PROBABLE INFANTICIDE.

A NUMBER OF BOYS FIND THE DEAD BODY OF AN INFANT.

About half past four o'clock yesterday afternoon Charles Bullock, John Sandberg, both aged about 12 years, and a number of other boys were playing near the mouth of the City Creek aqueduct, on North Temple Street, when they discovered in the stream the dead body of a female infant. The boys consigned it to the care of Mrs. Bacon, who lives in the vicinity, until the officers could be notified of the discovery. The infant was in a perfect state of development, even to the nails upon the toes, and was probably of six or seven months advancement.

There were evidences upon the body of a forced premature birth, and probable murder. A mark was on the upper part of the back of the head, and another on the forehead, plainly indicating that it had been held by some such instrument as forceps. So a gentleman who saw it informs us.

The body had evidently been dead for several days, as when found it showed evidences of decay having set in.

Last evening an inquest was held by Coroner George J. Taylor, and a jury, the verdict being to the effect that the child came to its death some time between the 1st and 8th of April, at the hands of some party or parties to the jurors unknown.

THE BOKOFSKY ROBBERY.

THE MYSTERY DISSOLVED AND THE TRUTH BROUGHT OUT.

In the NEWS of Tuesday it was stated, on the authority of the gentleman himself, that Mr. N. Boukofsky had been robbed on Monday night of $5,000 by a man named Charles W. Davis. We are informed by the police that they entirely discredited Mr. Boukofsky's story, and immediately set to work to find out the facts, in which they have been eminently successful.

In addition to the robbery tale, it also transpired that Mr. Boukofsky took a couple of metal bricks to Mr. McVicker, the assayer, for the purpose of being tested, when that gentleman at once discovered that they were brass, washed or plated with gold.

The way it all came about was that a man named Tipton Hamilton and some other parties from Colorado brought the bricks to this city. They claimed they were pure gold, taken from the Kansas City Bank at the late robbery there, and they were anxious to dispose of the wealth of about one-half its intrinsic value. The bricks, had they been the pure metal, would have been worth nearly $14,000.

Mr. Boukofsky was approached on the subject, Davis acting as a go-between for Hamilton and others, and he agreed to purchase the bricks, doubtless in the hope of doubling his money. The bricks were "plugged" with gold, in order to deceive the purchaser. Hamilton bored into the end of one, and the side of the other, the result being a quantity of pure gold scrapings or granulations. On the strength of this test Boukofsky, probably in conjunction with another party, paid $7,000 for the bricks, at least $5,000 of that sum being paid by him.

There can be no doubt that the cause of Mr. Boukofsky concocting the robbery story was that he was ashamed for the truth to be known, as he would have appeared, as he does now, in the position of a person purchasing property which he believed had been stolen. Had he made a "clean breast" of the affair there is a probability that he would have, by the aid of the police, been now in possession of his money, for they ascertained that Tipton Hamilton and one of his companions only left this city at one o'clock yesterday on the Denver & Rio Grande train. The man Davis who had aided Hamilton in the swindle had disappeared before that time. Had Mr. Boukofsky told the truth the officers could have arrested Hamilton before he left town.

These being the facts in the case the sympathy for Mr. Boukofsky is exceedingly small. He made affidavit before Justice Spiers this morning against Hamilton, charging him with robbing him of the sum of $5,000. It is presumed that the remaining $2,000 was the property of another dupe who has not yet appeared prominently on the scene, except inferentially.

Correspondence.

CANNONVILLE, Utah, April 3, 1883.

Editor Deseret News:

Permit me to say, through the columns of your paper, a few words for Cannonville, its location, prospects, etc. Cannonville is located on the headwaters of Pahreah, near the south line of Garfield County, directly on the route from Salina to Lee's Ferry, via Grass Valley, the East Fork of the Sevier River and the Pahreah. There is more water and grass on this route to Arizona than on any other, and when the people of Grass Valley put the road in order on their end of the route, and the people of Pahreah repair the road through the canyon, it will become a favorite route from Northern Utah to Arizona.

The land about Cannonville and vicinity is mostly a sandy loam, and with proper cultivation is capable of producing excellent crops of vegetables, wheat, oats, barley, etc.

The people are making an effort to bring the water from the east fork of the Sevier River to the Pahreah, which will be accomplished during the coming summer, as a large part of the work is already done. When this is done there will be water enough for about 100 families. At present we have only about 20. The soil and climate of this place are as favorable as that of any portion of the Territory, and persons desiring cheap and comfortable homes will do well to come and look before going elsewhere.

The Cannonville Ward is presided over by Bishop Ira B. Elmer, with William J. Henderson, Sen., as first counselor and spiritually is in a flourishing condition, as the people here are not cursed with the vices incident to more populous and less remote localities.

The health of the people here is usually very good. During the winter and spring the measles have passed through the Ward but so far without fatal results. Our brother Garduer G. Potter, died on the morning of the 19th of March from the effects of a cold which brought on nervous or muscular fever. His funeral took place at the church at 10 a.m. on the 21st, where appropriate remarks were made by Bro. Wm. J. Henderson and others including Bishop Elmer.

Your brother, etc. W. L.
