

This morning a serious accident occurred on the Minneapolis & St. Louis road, about two miles beyond Shakopee, at the foot of the steep grade known as Shaska Hill, by which four men were killed. Two freight cars were coming into Shakopee, when the rear portion of the first section broke loose and ran into the other section, which was just rounding a curve in the ascent of the hill. A portion of the forward freight derailed, and the engine and several cars of the last freight were badly wrecked, killing almost instantly the engineer and fireman, and a brakeman; also a man supposed to be a cattle drover, whose body has not yet been recovered. The body will be brought to this city tonight. Almost a whole carload of cattle were killed.

Minneapolis, Minn., 28.—Tribune's Fargo special: About 5.30 this morning the east bound passenger train on the Northern Pacific, a few miles east of Valley City, came in collision with an engine which had been helping up hill and was returning, both running at full speed, and both were badly wrecked, the passenger engine being thrown from the track, followed by the tender and baggage car. The engineer of the passenger train was badly injured and his fireman, T. Collins, was caught between the boiler and tender and wedged so tightly that required four hours to release him, during which time he was literally roasted alive. Death did not ensue until he was rescued and being taken to Valley City. The passengers were shaken up but none seriously injured. The blame is attributed to the engineer of the lone engine, as he knew the passenger train was late and had the right of way. The engineer and fireman of the lone engine jumped and escaped with a few bruises.

St. Louis, 28.—The Grand Jury made a report this afternoon, in which they stated a ring existed in this city, formed by gamblers and notorious individuals who use money and threats to corrupt the police and other officials. They further declare that Governor Crittenden has the power and it is his duty to investigate the matter.

Lafayette, Ind., 28.—The murder of Ada Atkinson is still enshrouded in mystery. Many detectives, prompted by the heavy rewards, are at work. A bloody new handkerchief, found in the attic, has been identified by a merchant in Oxford as sold by him, but as he sold many others of the same kind that gives no clue. Two more bloody handkerchiefs were found to-day, hidden in Mr. Atkinson's buggy seat.

On the 16th twelve deaths were recorded from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., with a large increase of new cases. It is estimated that 1,000 people are down with the fever. Seventy-five per cent. of the houses had one or more sick. The heat was oppressive, ranging from 86 degrees to 103 degrees. In Guaymas the fever was diminishing. There were only eight deaths since the 24th. No new cases are reported. Other points visited showed few cases, and generally of a mild form.

Fleetwood Park.—The great trot for $5,000 between the celebrated trotter Jay Eye See and St. Julian, caused the largest concourse of people to assemble on the track that has been seen on any race track in America for twenty years. At 2.45 p.m. there was scarcely an available spot left to witness the race from on the grand stand, quarter stretch, or club house grounds, while its field was lined with spectators from the three-quarter to the quarter post. At least 5,000 equipages of every description were within the enclosure, and the lines extended from the gate as far as 125th street, a distance of two miles. Many notables were present: among them, Wm. H. Vanderbilt and Frank Work, and Vanderbilt drove into his private shed behind Early Rose and Aldine, while Work drove Dick Swiveller and Edward. The betting was very heavy. St. Julian had the call at 100 to 90. The track was very heavy in spots.

Jay Eye See appeared on the track in excellent form and when he finished his exercise he was greeted with thunders of applause. Bithers will handle the reins during the contest. Orrin Hickok will drive St. Julian. Both horses were put in the sheds on the track and guarded by a large force of policemen who had an arduous job in keeping the great crowds back.

Fleetwood Park, 29.—Jay Eye See won the first heat in 2.24.

CHICAGO, 29.—The appointment of John C. Gault, late vice-president of the Wabash and formerly general superintendent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, as commissioner of the new California Pacific, gives general satisfaction in railroad circles here. Gault, who is now in the city, says he will accept the position provided he will not have to move his headquarters to San Francisco. Members of his family object to that city on account of the climate, which does not agree with them. He would prefer to make his headquarters in this city, believing this to be the most central point from which to direct the new pool, which comprises all the Pacific lines including the Sunset route from New Orleans and the Northern Pacific from St. Paul. It is quite probable that the managers of the roads in the new pool will consent to the location of the commissioner's headquarters in this city, as this is certainly the most unobjectionable point that could be selected.

DODGE CITY, Kansas, 29.—The Cannon Ball train on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road was attacked at Coolidge by a gang of cowboys this morning. The engineer was killed and the fireman so badly injured that he will die. The conductor was shot at several times, but escaped injury. The express was attacked, but the messengers repulsed them. A posse of men is now in hot pursuit of the robbers and a desperate battle will no doubt ensue when they are overhauled.

CHICAGO, 28.—The Daily News special from Richmond, Va., says: R. King, J. Evans and C. Younger, negroes, were hanged at Chatham to-day at noon. A few days ago King and Evans sold their bodies to the doctors for $10. Younger refused to sell his, saying $10 is too cheap. King and Evans, when they got the money, gave a fine dinner to their friends, with calves' head, roast pig and roast beef for the first course, and wound up with wine and cigars. The condemned men confessed their crime at the banquet and afterward recanted and then confessed again. The execution was private in the jail.

The Daily Chronicle has issued a postscript stating that there is great excitement in Dublin, owing to a rumor that Orangemen shot Parnell. There appears to be some truth in the report. At any rate, it is certain that Parnell is wounded. It is stated a bullet went through his body. Another account says the affair was accidental. No further details have been received.

A dispatch from Dungannon county states that a covered car containing a supposed Parnellite was fired into, but the occupants were not hurt. This probably explains the rumor that Parnell has been shot.

Resolutions were passed pledging those present to resist the treasonable aims of the National League, and denouncing the establishment of Ultramontane communist tyranny in Ireland.

The Nationalist meeting passed resolutions expressing confidence in Parnell, demanding home rule, and claiming that the land act is a failure. Healy, O'Connor and O'Brien, members of Parliament, were the principal speakers.

At the conclusion of the meeting they were escorted to the railway station by soldiers and police.

O'Connor was attacked at Portadown, County Armagh, by Orangemen, but escaped unhurt.

LONDON, 28.—O'Donnell, the murderer of Carey, was brought up this morning before Magistrate Flowers in Bow Street police court, when the examination was resumed.

Sullivan, counsel for O'Donnell, cross-examined Parrish and Jones, witnesses for the prosecution, but nothing new was elicited.

O'Donnell was brought to court under a strong guard. The court room was crowded. Among those present were J. C. McCoan, M.P. for Wicklow, and Arthur O'Connor, M.P. for Queen's County.

Sullivan, counsel for O'Donnell, cross-examined James Parrish, a servant on the steamer Melrose and Thomas Jones, boatswain, but elicited from them nothing new. When the latter repeated O'Donnell's expression to Mrs. Carey, "I did not do it," the prisoner, who had maintained a cool demeanor throughout the examination, smiled as if the expression amused him. Parrish testified that he saw no evidence of passion on the part of O'Donnell during the shooting. Both Parrish and Boatswain Jones testified that they saw no struggle between O'Donnell and Carey. A son of Carey, being cross-examined, stated that O'Donnell was sitting when he fired the first shot at his father, and that his father did not grapple with O'Donnell. He admitted that he might have testified when under examination at Cape Town that O'Donnell said to Mrs. Carey: "I had to do it," or "I did do it."

Witness maintained, however, that his statement on Tuesday was correct, namely, that O'Donnell used the words, "I was sent to do it," until he was closely pressed by his cross-examiner, when he said he was not quite clear what were the words really used by O'Donnell.

Mrs. Carey, widow of the murdered informer, was called. She appeared in deep mourning and excited special interest among the spectators, and several murmurs of sympathy were heard. In giving her testimony she recounted the incidents of the voyage, corroborating the other witnesses in regard to the circumstances of the murder, except she swore that after her husband was shot, and she said to O'Donnell, "You shot my husband." O'Donnell replied, she said, "Don't blame me, I was sent to do it," whereupon the woman who was with him said, "Don't mind, O'Donnell; you are not an informer." The cross-examination of Mrs. Carey by Sullivan, failed to shake her testimony. She denied she had talked to her son about his evidence.

Magistrate Flowers asked O'Donnell if he had anything to say in answer to the charge of murdering Carey. He replied: "Not at present." The prisoner was then ordered to stand committed for trial at the next session of the criminal court.

China claims both banks of the Red River, with the neutral zone south.

Leeds, 29.—The Irish National League Convention met here this morning in the Town Hall; a hundred delegates were present. To-day's meeting will be held with closed doors. During the meeting the convention will be addressed by the following members of Parliament: Parnell for Cork, Sexton for Sligo, Biggar for Cavan, Power O'Connor for Galway, and James O'Kelly for Roscommon.

The business transacted by the convention occupied much less time than on former occasions. Although some warmth was shown, there was a remarkable absence of the exciting scenes usual to these gatherings. The conference was enthusiastic throughout. Parnell's appearance was the signal for an outburst of cheers. The rumor that delegates from America would attend the convention proved to be unfounded.

After speeches by O'Kelly and O'Connor, the meeting unanimously passed resolutions expressing confidence in its present leaders, pledging itself to the policy in local Parliamentary elections best calculated to promote the Irish cause, promising the support of the executive, and congratulating Ulster on its campaign against landlordism and bightry. Resolutions were also unanimously adopted denouncing mob violence and reproaching journals hounding protestants to outrages.

Paris, 29.—At a cabinet council to-day, President Grevy presiding, Prime Minister Ferry and Challemeil Lacour, Minister of Foreign Affairs reported to the cabinet the present position of the negotiations pending between France and China. Admiral Peyron, Minister of Marine, also furnished a statement of the military situation in Tonquin. The cabinet, after consultation, decided to convene the Chambers October 8rd.

Orders have been forwarded to the naval depot at Toulon to enrol three companies of sailors for service in the fleet in Tonquin.

President Grevy, accompanied by his cabinet ministers, met King Alfonso at the railway station. The crowd hooted and hissed the king upon his appearing, crying, "Down with the Uhlan King." The soldiers and police had great trouble in keeping order. The people were very much excited, but good-naturedly cheered the French troops. Houses and balconies along the route travelled by the King of Spain were thronged with people. As soon as the king appeared at the station, the crowd made so great a clamor that the Spanish national anthem, which was being played by the band, was almost inaudible. The clamor continued in all the streets through which the cortege passed. Insulting cries directed at the king were continually raised.

King Alfonso alighted at the Spanish Embassy, and afterward visited President Grevy at the Palace of Elysee. On returning to the Embassy the king was again hosted and assailed with insulting cries. The hostile demonstration is attributed in official quarters to the Carlists and other foreigners. A number of arrests were made during the king's progress to the Embassy.
