

ONE AD. in the home is worth a hundred on the highway. Our circulation is home circulation.

LAST EDITION—24 PAGES.

No Immediate Fear of Change

Pope Continues in an Enfeebled State—No Indication of an Approaching Crisis—Heat in Rome Increasing—An Electric Fan May be Placed in His Room—Italian Cabinet Discusses Certain Eventualities in Case of Death.

Rome, July 18, 9:10 p. m.—The following bulletin has just been issued:

"His holiness has rested only a little during the day. His breathing is tranquil. Respiration, 31; pulse, small and feeble, 92; temperature, 36.3 centigrade. His general condition is depressed. (Signed) "LAZZONI."

Rome, July 18, 7 p. m.—The pope is reported to be somewhat better. His respiration is easier. Nobody is allowed to enter the sick room.

"WE SEE LITTLE HOPE."

Paris, July 18, 4 p. m.—A special to the Temps from Rome says that Dr. Mazzoni was questioned at length and told the correspondent of that paper that the pope's illness was necessarily fatal; that his death was only a question of time, but that it might not occur for days, even a week.

On the other hand, the Journal Dispatch publishes a dispatch from Rome which quotes Dr. Mazzoni as saying that the condition of his holiness is better from day to day and adding:

"We see a little hope. If his holiness holds out a few days longer without fatigue, and takes a little nourishment, as he did last night, we may definitely hope for a cure, perhaps more prompt than generally believed."

POPE'S MUCH ENFEEBLED.

Rome, July 18, 12:45 p. m.—The pope continues in the same enfeebled state, but there is no indication of an approaching crisis. His condition appears to have lapsed into one of indefinite suspense, with the ever-present danger of a fatal turn. Yet there is no immediate fear that such a change is near.

During the morning the pontiff remained comparatively quiet, getting some sleep and seeing no one except the doctors and his immediate attendants. For three days the official bulletins have practically been unchanged, showing the patient's condition to be almost stationary. An Italian proverb says: "When the patient does not get worse he improves very much," but with the pope after the last two weeks' experience everybody has renounced making any predictions; undoubtedly symptoms of amelioration exist while on Thursday morning when the pleuritic liquid re-accumulated, his respiration reached 36; today when the liquid is lowering, it fell to 28. In fact, it is known that Dr. Lazzoni and Dr. Mazzoni discussed the question whether to announce an amelioration in the patient's condition but abandoned the idea, so as not to raise excessive optimism.

The heat is beginning to increase. The shutters of the pope's bedroom window are almost closed, the windows in the study and the curtains are drawn back. It is reported that steps will be taken to install an electric fan in the room.

The cabinet ministers have held several meetings today to discuss the attitude of the government on the death of the pope and it has been decided that

LAST ACT IN RAILROAD DEAL.

Deeds Conveying Short Line Property South of Sandy to San Pedro Road, Filed in County Recorder's Office Today—Also Deed of Trust Limiting Bonds to $50,000,000.

The last act clinching the Oregon Shore Line-San Pedro deal was recorded this afternoon with the filing with the county recorder of three deeds transferring from the Oregon Short Line to the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company all of the lines south of Sandy and west of the Jordan river, the consideration, as set forth in the deeds, being $5 in each case. In addition, a copy of the first mortgage or deed of trust from the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company of New York was filed at the county clerk's office.

The deeds from the Short Line bear the date of June 8 and cover respectively the properties known as the Leaning cut-off, with the Garfield branch, 11 miles; the lines south of Sandy, including the Pease branch, 22.68 miles, and the Terminal branch, 33.36 miles.

The deeds and mortgage will be filed in every county in which the property involved is located.

FIVE PARDONS GRANTED.

State Board Liberates This Number of Prisoners—Applications Denied.

The state board of pardons held its regular monthly session today and granted five pardons. Those whose applications for pardon were granted are: Claus de Loeuw, convicted of a felony and sentenced by Judge Booth in Wayne county on March 13, 1903, to 18 months in the state prison; Fred Wilson, convicted at Ogden of a felony and sentenced by Judge Rolap on July 23, 1906 to six years; Lawrence C. Morris, convicted in this city of obtaining money by false pretenses and sentenced by Judge Johnson on Jan. 19, 1907, to one year in the state prison; Lee McDonald, convicted of grand larceny in Emery county and sentenced by Judge Johnson on Dec. 26, 1901, to four months in the county jail; Leonard Willardson, convicted of criminal assault in Sanpete county and sentenced by Judge Johnson on Jan. 19, 1907, to one year in the state prison. The application for pardon of Joseph Bridge, convicted of a criminal assault, was postponed for one month. The application for commutation of C. H. Maxwell, convicted of robbery, was for the second time continued for one month.

UTAH HONEY AT ST. LOUIS.

State Exhibit Will be One to Be Proud Of, Says Mr. Lovey.

President E. S. Lovey of the Utah Beekeepers' association returned during the week from a tour of the southern counties where he went to work up an interest in the contemplated exhibit of Utah honey at the St. Louis fair. His travels took him into and through the counties of Utah, Juab, Sanpete, Beaver, Carbon, Emery and Uintah, where he found apiculture generally in favor of a good showing and willing to do all in their power to place Utah at the front in the matter of an exhibit at the big fair. Mr. Lovey is lavish in his praise of the Ashley valley which he deems the beekeepers' paradise of the state, and is not at all surprised that the product from that section is of such excellent quality. He says it is the purpose of the state beekeepers' association to get the Utah product before the consumer, as in this largely livestock country the future of the industry in this state. From the spirit manifested by all visited, he returns with the impression that the state's exhibit at St. Louis will be one to be proud of.

REJECT TABLETS TO SLAIN PRESIDENTS.

That it would be poor policy to impress upon the youthful mind the violent deaths of Presidents Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley, was the chief argument against the request made yesterday before the board of education, says the New York Herald, for the erection and presentation of tablets to the public schools of the city.

The plan was the idea of several men, represented by Mr. E. St. John Matthews. It was voted by 27 to 6.

Jacob W. Mack voiced the sentiment of the opposing party when he said:

"We all know in what esteem should be held the sacred memories of Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley. We can never honor them too highly for the service they have rendered to their country. Yet in looking at the careers of these three men we find that they had nothing in common. Garfield was only a few months in the presidency. McKinley was 10 contemporary with our own."

"I think it would be unwise to force upon the young boys and girls our public schools, where children of all nationalities are brought together, this deplorable circumstance of the tragic ends to which our presidents have come. Not that I think that by so doing would be brought about a direct cause for a repetition of the deed in history."

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Ryan Murderers Still at Large.

Most Theories, Except That of the "Gypsy Woman," Run to the Ground—No Importance Attached to Discovery of Female Attire Near Kayville—Officers in Several Counties Still on the Lookout.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

PROBABLE LYNCHING IN MINNESOTA.

Montevideo, Minn., July 18.—Helen O. Olson, aged 17 years, was assaulted early today by a man supposed to be a negro, and although alive at noon, she will die.

Helen Olson, who was living alone in her father's home at Watson, during the latter's absence in Minneapolis where he is ill, had Miss Julia Torgerson, with her last night. Early today she was assaulted by a man who demanded that she give him a ride. The man dragged Miss Olson down stairs where he struck her on the forehead with an axe.

The other girl had been ordered to remain in bed and not to move, but hearing a noise down stairs, stepped out of a window to the roof. The negro fired a shot at her as she fled. Her screams aroused the neighbors and a search was at once begun for the negro.

At 3 o'clock Marshal Woodworth rang the bells of the town hall, calling a posse of citizens together. When a crowd had assembled Atty. L. A. Smith addressed the citizens on the steps of the city hall. While he was speaking Sheriff Harrison drove up in a buggy and immediately summoned every man present responsible for the negro. The crowd immediately took to the streets and if the man is caught, may be a lynching. Six negroes who have been living in a shack near Montevideo, have fled because of the excitement.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.

It is now believed that the gypsies camped some distance north of Beck's Hot Springs and that Ryan took up with them when he returned from Ogden on the evening of July 1. It is known positively that he camped at Beck's Hot Springs on the evening of July 1, and remained there until about noon on July 8, when he drove to this city. Oran Cary and James Enid, who live at the Springs, gave Sheriff Emery the above information. They knew Ryan well. They stated that on the morning of July 2, a woman went to Ryan's camp. She stayed all night and left the morning of July 3, going northward. She returned to Ryan again on the evening of July 7 and stayed with him from that time until he was murdered.

The men both had a good look at the woman and could easily identify her. It is the opinion of the authorities that the woman belonged to the gypsy band that passed through Farmington and thence some distance north of the Hot Springs.

Nothing of importance was discovered today by the officers in connection with the Ryan murder mystery.

Sheriff Emery is hard at work on the case here and Deputy Sheriff Burbridge and Detective Chase, of the police department, are running down some clues in Ogden. Some discarded wearing apparel of a woman was found yesterday about a mile south and west of Kayville and was turned over to Sheriff Emery at Farmington. The articles consist of a woman's white vest, a white undershirt, a white shirtwaist and a box containing an oddly shaped hairpin.

It is not believed that the articles have any connection with the case at all as they were found in a place about a mile off of the wagon road and in an unfrequented spot where travelers would not be likely to stop. However, Sheriff Bowman is keeping them awaiting further developments. The sheriff is in the city today and stated to a "News" representative that he had been unable to find any trace of Ryan having passed through Davis county on his return from Ogden. He stated that a band of gypsies passed through Farmington on July 1. They wanted to camp near that place but the sheriff said he would not allow them to do so and sent them on towards Salt Lake.