 A decision has been reached in the "smoke" cases at Butte. Last Sat-urday Master in Chancery Crane sub-mitted his findings in the case filed by William Bilss and others to recover damages and to secure an injunction against the Anaconda Copper com-pany and the Washoe company res-training the companies from further damaging the lands of Deer Lodge valley by the precipitation of arsenic and sulphur fumes from the smoke of the Washoe smelter. The master finds that the farmers of the valley have been injured by the arsenic, but not from the sulphur fumes, but in conclusion he finds that the damage to the ranchers would he far greater it by order of the court, the smelter were closed down, as irreparable lost would result from such action, both to Buite and Anaconda and the cop-per industry throughout the state. There is a wide diversity of opinion concerning the findings of the master. While a large majority of the lawyers look upon it as favorable to the com-paties, there are some, and very prominent ones, who say that it is decidedly unfavorable.
