

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, APRIL 30.

Priesthood Meeting.—The regular meeting of the Priesthood of this Stake will be held in the Assembly Hall, on Saturday, May 5th, 1883, at 11 a. m.

WILLIAM W. TAYLOR,
Clerk of the Stake.

A Burglary.—Some time between Saturday night and this morning the premises of Tullidge and Co., opposite the Walker House, were burglarized. The thief entered by a rear door, and plundered the show case, carrying off a quantity of fine brushes and some valuable dry colors, amounting in all to the value of between $50 and $60.

Attempted Burglary.—Last night, during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Leviberg, a burglar made an attempt to enter their residence, on South Temple Street, by climbing upon the sloping roof at the rear and getting in at the second story windows facing north. An old lady on the premises heard the thieves, gave the alarm and caused them to speedily seek some other field of operations.

A Home Production.—The congregation in the Assembly Hall, yesterday afternoon, were delighted with the closing anthem sung by the choir. It was beautifully rendered, and the composition itself is excellent, having some very telling effects. We are pleased to learn that it is a home production, Brother Stephens being the composer, so we are informed by a member of the Tabernacle choir.

Immigrants Arrived.—The first company of immigrants of the season arrived here, as expected by the noon train to-day. They were a fine, healthy and cleanly lot of people, having experienced scarcely any sickness on the way. They had an excellent trip both by sea and land. They were treated with the usual marked courtesy on the ocean journey, and similarly, as a rule, with some slight exception, overland.

A Brutal Assault.—This morning an Italian was walking around with his head and its appendages in a fit condition to be carried in a sling. It appears from what we could learn as to the manner in which he suffered the damage to his cranium that he was attacked yesterday, at the Denver and Rio Grande railroad depot, by a couple of his countrymen. They first committed mayhem on his person by biting off a large sized piece of his ear, and finished the brutal assault by pounding his head with a brick.

The Matrimonial Union.—This morning Brother B. S. Young and Miss Lottie J. Claridge were united in marriage. The groom is the son of Apostle Brigham Young, an intelligent and promising young gentleman, who, a year or two since, performed a creditable mission to Great Britain. The bride is a young lady well known in this city and elsewhere as one of the most efficient teachers in the Territory and the possessor of a marked histrionic ability, besides numerous estimable qualities of disposition. We count both parties among our long list of personal friends, and there are no heartier wishes for their welfare than are felt by us.

Finishing Touches.—The Seventh Ward school-house has been receiving some finishing touches. It has been newly seated with shapely benches, which are nicely painted in imitation oak. The wood-work of the stand has also been painted, and a dado in oil colors placed around the lower part of the large hall. The painting, which is in creditable style, was done by William Lloyd, who is a good hand with the brush and gleaning tools. Besides the main hall of the building there is a basement room, 50 by 33 feet, which has been lately used for school purposes.

The building has not yet been dedicated, but will be shortly.

Back from New Mexico.—LeGrande Young, Esq., returned last evening from his trip to New Mexico, having gone there a short time since on a business visit, in company with Hon. John W. Young. He relates that his sojourn in that part of the country has increased his estimate of Salt Lake City and Utah generally, which is far ahead of any place he passed through or stopped at during his absence. He found also that the people he met with generally expressed themselves to the effect that they considered Salt Lake to be the paradise of this inland region, and many of them have it in their minds to come here to live after they have succeeded in "making a raise."

"Self Help."—Ernest Saville, a boy residing in the 18th Ward, son of Brother George Saville, who keeps a boot and shoe establishment on Second South Street, has developed quite a mechanical turn of mind. Some time since he purchased a machine, which he ordered from Boston, for cutting out ornamental scroll work in wood, and with its aid he makes numbers of neat brackets of various patterns, for which he finds quite a ready sale. He is now putting up a little workshop on his father's lot, for the purpose of carrying on this work a little more extensively than heretofore.

When boys manifest a disposition for usefulness they should be encouraged. It is a good trait. We commend all the boys of the community to read the book by Samuel Smiles, called "Self Help," one of the best works that was ever published for encouraging boys to be industrious and persevering. After reading that, then diligently peruse the work by the same author, entitled "Character," the first giving an impetus in the direction of industry and perseverance and the other of purity, and nobility and disinterestedness of conduct.

Effects of an Accident.—The many friends of Sister Mary Ann Hyde, widow of the late Elder Orson Hyde, will regret to learn that the estimable lady is now at the Deseret Hospital, suffering from the effects of an accident. A few weeks ago, at St. George, while stepping out of a buggy, Mrs. Hyde accidentally fell, causing a dislocation and other injury at the hip joint. The matter was not at first thought by her to be serious, but finding she did not regain the use of the limb, she was brought to this city, when an investigation by Drs. Anderson and Hughes developed the fact that the hurt was of such a character as to require the application of a mechanical contrivance, before the patient would be able to get about again. The apparatus has been ordered from New York, and pending its arrival Sister Hyde will remain at the Hospital. Her numerous friends will be delighted to see her able to move around again.

Elders Returned.—This afternoon we received a call from Elders David McKay and Charles Lambert, both of whom arrived home with the immigrants; the former being in charge of the company.

Elder McKay is a resident of Huntsville, Weber County, and left Ogden for Great Britain on a mission on the 19th of April, 1881, and labored while abroad in Scotland, at first as Traveling Elder, and during the last half year as President of the Glasgow Conference. He took great pleasure in his labors, and was instrumental in bringing a number to a knowledge of the truth.

Elder Lambert left on the 17th of last October, the understanding being that he would only remain abroad a short time. He was accompanied by his wife, who also returned with the immigrants. They visited numbers of their relatives, and did as much active missionary work as could be crowded into the short space of a few months.

AN ABANDONED WRETCH.
AN ATTEMPT TO OUTRAGE THE PERSON OF A YOUNG GIRL.

On Saturday last a complaint was entered before Justice Spiers of a very grave and appalling character against John Stockfield, aged seventeen years, a resident of the 11th Ward. It was to the effect that, at about six o'clock on Friday evening, on the Nineteenth Ward Bench, north of the city, he made an assault with intent to commit a rape upon the person of Selma S. Sandberg, aged twelve years, of the Nineteenth Ward.

According to information we have been able to obtain regarding the affair, the complaining witness was, in company with another girl, taking some cows home when the two were approached by Stockfield. He assaulted the girl Sandberg, who screamed and struggled with him. The other girl also screamed and ran toward a place in the locality where a number of men were getting out sand. The girl told them of the occurrence and some of the men at once ran toward the spot where the assault was made, when they saw Stockfield over the girl with a knife in his hand, she being on the ground.

Finding he was discovered the young villain ran eastward down the side of City Creek Canyon and over the other side, passing the girl's brother on the way, and thus escaped. The parties could not describe the fellow further than that he had red hair and a freckled face.

The officers and the family kept a look out for him and he was finally seen by the girl Sandberg, her father and brother, in a wagon, on Saturday, on First South Street, and they notified the police. He kept out of the way however, but the officers having located him Messrs Thomas and Hilton called at the house at four o'clock yesterday morning. He was on the look-out and as they approached was on the point of running when officer Thomas, covering him with a pistol, told him not to move or he would shoot. This caused him to shake with fear and he stood and was taken into custody.

On the way to the jail he told the officers that he would not have made the assault upon the girl if he had not been "full," (meaning intoxicated) thus acknowledging his guilt, although the theory of his being drunk at the time is not believed.

It is a matter for congratulation that the young scoundrel did not accomplish his fiendish purpose.
