BREVITIES.

Every sin buys pleasure at the price of peace.

Sixty-one newspapers were started in the United States during May.

Fecber, the tragedian, has married an English lady with a million pounds dowry.

It is proposed to establish a josh factory in Connecticut for the purpose of furnishing the Chinese with patent idols.

A Russian paper relates that a boat belonging to a troop of horses brought from Asia, traveled fifty-five English miles on the day of its birth.

A Leavenworth editor is in quest of special attractions for his paper. He says: "What we want for this column is personalities, as mean as possible. Expense of libel suits to be defrayed by the writer—funeral expenses by us."

Jenny June sums up an article on the woman question in these words: "The modern wife, who demands everything but gives nothing in return, is a libel upon womanhood, and has a claim upon nothing but toleration or contempt."

Dr. Hall assails the idea that men rest by doing nothing. He says the only healthful rest, as long as our physical condition remains as it is, is to be busy. Men of force and industry will everywhere tell you: "It is the hardest thing in the world to do nothing."

Walter Phillips, night operator in the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company at Providence, R. I., has received a letter from Professor Morse, with a gold pencil-case and pen, "as a token of admiration for his masterly performance of recording 2,731 words an hour."

A Peruvian newspaper speaks of an extraordinary phenomenon discovered in the road of Iquitos, which appears to have been caused by the late earthquake. Every beast that reaches a certain spot immediately falls dead. This has so often taken place that immense numbers of carcasses are heaped on the spot.

A young German merchant in Boston lately asked a young lady in Austria a very interesting question, and received the "happy yes" by the Atlantic Cable. A Vienna paper, in chronicling the fact, says: "Perhaps the bride and bridegroom may exchange in the same way their first kisses, which would be electrifying indeed."

We find the following in an exchange: "A blind horse wandered into White River, at Indianapolis, and getting beyond his depths, swam around in a circle, trying to find his way out. His distress attracted another horse not far from the bank, who first went to the water's edge and tried to direct the blind horse by neighing. Falling in this, he took to the water, and swam about him for nearly a quarter of an hour, he finally got the blind horse to understand in what direction the land lay, and the two horses came to the shore side by side, amid the cheers of upwards of one hundred persons who had become spectators."

A joke was perpetrated not long since upon Judge Barker, who was presiding over the Supreme Court, in session in Lockport, New York. A jurymen was absent from his seat, all the others being occupied. A dog, looking for his master, very quietly took the vacant place. The judge, addressing the Hon. A. P. Lanning, of Buffalo, said: "You see, Mr. Lanning, that the jurymen's seats are all occupied. Are you ready to proceed?"

The distinguished pleader raised his glasses to his eyes, and after a brief survey of the jury box made the witty reply: "Your honor, that fellow might do for a judge, but I should hate to trust him for a jurymen."

The good-natured judge joined heartily in the merry laugh that followed, and proved that he could take as well as give a joke.

Annual flowering plants resemble whales, as they come up to blow. Flowers are very warlike in their disposition, and are ever armed with pistols. They are migratory in their habits, for, wherever they may Winter, they are sure to leave in the Spring, many of them very polite and full of boughs. Though there are no vegetable beaux, there are a number of spruce trees. It is considered only right and proper to ax trees before you fell them. Fruit trees have military characteristics; when young they are trained, they have sentries, and their shoots are straight. Grain must be treated like infants; when the head bends it must be cradled, and thrashing is resorted to to fit them for use. Grain and seeds are not considered dangerous except when about to shoot. Several trees, like watchdogs, are valued mostly for their bark.

Chrysostom before the Roman emperor, furnishes us with a beautiful example of true Christian courage.

The emperor threatened him with banishment if he would still remain a Christian.

Chrysostom replied: "Thou canst not for the world be my Father's mansion—thou canst not banish me."

"But I will slay thee," said the emperor.

"Nay that thou canst not," said the noble champion of the faith again; "for my life is hid with Christ in God."

"I will take away thy treasures," said the emperor.

"Nay that thou canst not," was the reply; "for, in the first place, I have none that thou knowest of; my treasure is in heaven and my heart is there."

"But I will drive thee away from man and thou shalt have no friend left."

"Nay, and thou canst not," once more said the faithful witness, "for I have a friend in heaven, from whom thou canst not separate me. There is nothing you can do to hurt me."
