

WATER! WATER! AND TALK! TALK!

No Definite Plan Reached at Last Night's Special Meeting.

SENTINEL AGAINST BONDS

Leading Citizens Participate in the Discussion—Hatter Finally Goes
Over Until Next Thursday.

No definite plan was adopted at the special session of the city council last night for providing means for the construction of the storage reservoir in Parley's canyon. A number of prominent citizens were present and took part in the discussion of the question and the general sentiment was decidedly against a bond issue at this time. After discussing the matter for about two hours and a half, an adjournment was taken until next Thursday night, when the question will again be considered by the council alone. Among the citizens present last night were Angus M. Cannon, State Engineer, Doremas, City Engineer Kelsey, Colonel Nelson, Fisher Harris, W. W. Riter, Dr. S. B. Young, Joseph A. Silver, John Snell, George C. Lambert, J. E. Dooley and J. M. Thomas.

FERNSTROM'S PLAN.
After the roll call the council resolved itself into a committee of the whole, and J. J. Thomas was selected chairman. Fernstrom explained his scheme for the benefit of the visitors. His idea is to authorize the board of public works to construct a dam and divert the water from the reservoir to a steel-faced, rock-filled dam, reserving the right to contract for $75,000 worth of the work. Once the dam is built, the water would be released and the $75,000 would be used to take one million from the street department's tax levy and add it to the waterworks department and the revenue from that, together with the money received from the sale of the city hall corner would be sufficient to pay the amount required to start the work. Owing to the season being so far advanced he stated that there could not be more than $75,000 worth of work done on the reservoir this season.

SHARP FOR BONDS.
Councilman Sharp favored a bond issue. He was opposed to using any of the surplus funds of the waterworks department in the construction of the reservoir for the reason that it should be used in extending and enlarging the watermain which has become absolutely necessary. Should the bonds be issued, he stated that the increased revenues of the water department would pay the interest on them.

SILVER OPPOSED.
Mr. Joseph A. Silver opposed a bond issue this year, as only a small amount of the work could be done this season and if the bonds were issued the money would only be idle in the bank for several months and the city would have to pay interest on it when it is not needed at all. He thought that some work could be devised to start work on the reservoir at once without issuing the bonds, and if necessary, they could be issued next year or later. He also stated that this is not a good time to contract for steel for the dam as prices are high but will probably be lower next year.

DAVIER AND DAVIS—YES.
Davier and A. J. Davis, spoke in favor of the bond issue and Robinson opposed it. In answer to several very important questions put by Mr. Riter, City Engineer Kelsey stated that the cost of the first 30 feet of the dam would be one-half of $250,000, the total cost, or $125,000. This 30 feet, when completed, he said, would only impound four per cent of the total amount of water to be impounded.

COLONEL NELSON TALKS.
Colonel Nelson said that the statements of the city engineer were the best arguments he had heard for the piece-meal construction of the dam. He thought that the contract for the work should be let at one time and not by piece-meal. If there is uncertainty about getting the $75,000 to start the work, he argued that there would surely be uncertainty about getting the remainder of the money to complete the work and then there would be no certainty that the dam would be built by piece-meal. He thought some provision should be made for the entire cost of the construction at one time. He favored a bond issue, but didn't think it necessary this year.

THOMAS WANTS BONDS.
Chairman Thomas, at this point, called Councilman Viter to the chair and made a vigorous argument in favor of the bond issue. He urged that now is the time to put the city's water system on a substantial basis in a business-like way without adding one cent to the burden of taxation. He not only favored voting bonds for the construction of the reservoir, but he thought enough should be voted to buy the Cottonwood water, too, as it could never be bought cheaper than at the present time.

ENDORSER FERNSTROM.
Eardley spoke in favor of Fernstrom's scheme. Mr. Riter made the statement that this is a very bad time for a bond issue, as the best bonds on the market are now selling below par and others are going begging.

STATE ENGINEER TALKS.
State Engineer Doremas was the next speaker. He was not sure that he favored the Parley's canyon site for the reservoir, as he doubted very much whether water stored up there would be fit for culinary purposes. He favored getting an ample supply of water for the city no matter where they had to go to get it. The question of where to get the water should be gone into thoroughly and extensive experiments should be made as to the quality of the water before any other steps should be taken. He thought that question should be solved at no matter what the cost, but was opposed to spending $100,000 or $200,000 on every little project that was advanced.

JOHN SNELL'S VIEWS.
John Snell advanced the idea of bringing the water which flows underneath the city to the surface by boring wells and using it for culinary purposes. He stated that there must be an abundance of water flowing under the city from the watershed between City Creek and Emigration canyons, and that a few well-bored would demonstrate that fact.

UP AGAINST IT.
Chin Chin Fink It Difficult to Get Back Again.
Mayor Chin Chin of Salt Lake's Chinatown is having a sad time in San Francisco with the customs house officials. It will be remembered that last winter Chin left Salt Lake for his old home in China for the purpose of bringing back with him his children. While in the Flowery Kingdom Chin married again, and decided to bring his bride back with him. When he left here he thought he had every detail arranged so that he would experience no difficulty whatever in returning to his Salt Lake home. But it appears that when he landed at San Francisco, the immigration authorities stopped his wife and refused to permit her to enter. Chin at once set about to prove that he was a merchant in Salt Lake, and in good standing. He wrote several letters to friends here. Among these he asked for help at Gov. Wells and County Clerk John James. The writer also received a letter from him, dated Hongkong, May 21. The letter set forth practically the same as in the following communication to Clerk

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For colds, coughs, bronchitis, consumption. We have been saying this for 60 years. The oldest doctor in town says so, too. Or ask the youngest one just from college.

Dr. S. B. Young made an argument in favor of a reservoir at Mountain Dell, about a mile above the present site. He stated that the water in Parley's creek was sufficiently pure for culinary purposes, but that a reservoir should be constructed at a point where it could be kept clean and the flood impure waters could be diverted from the reservoir. At Mountain Dell he said a reservoir could be built and run around it on each side of the property now owned by the city, and the flood waters could be carried away in these canals and not be allowed to enter the reservoir. In order to have pure water, he argued that the receptacle in which it is stored must be absolutely clean and it would be impossible to have a clean reservoir at the site chosen.

MOUNTAIN DELL RESERVOIR.
Dr. S. B. Young made an argument in favor of a reservoir at Mountain Dell, about a mile above the present site. He stated that the water in Parley's creek was sufficiently pure for culinary purposes, but that a reservoir should be constructed at a point where it could be kept clean and the flood impure waters could be diverted from the reservoir. At Mountain Dell he said a reservoir could be built and run around it on each side of the property now owned by the city, and the flood waters could be carried away in these canals and not be allowed to enter the reservoir. In order to have pure water, he argued that the receptacle in which it is stored must be absolutely clean and it would be impossible to have a clean reservoir at the site chosen.

PRESIDENT CANNON IN OPPOSITION.
President Angus M. Cannon opposed a bond issue. He took issue with Dr. Young that the proposed site would not be suitable for the reservoir. He said that a reservoir at that point would receive 10 times as much water as one at Mountain Dell. He urged that the amount of money to be expended as much money as is available at once. Mr. Kelsey's scheme, he said, is feasible and the site is the best, and after the dam is built there the city can build dams in other canyons and get plenty of water.

THE LAST SPEAKER.
George C. Lambert was the last speaker. He was going ahead with the work as suggested by Mr. Fernstrom on the site selected by the city engineer and spend what money the city had available and not vote on a bond issue this year. At the conclusion of his speech the committee arose and reported progress to the council, after which an adjournment was taken until next Thursday night.

BROWN TALKS RIGHT OUT.
Says He Will Straighten the Wife Matter Out All Right.
The Telegraph of Kalamazoo, Mich., has the following interview with ex-Senator Arthur Brown:

Former Senator Arthur Brown of Salt Lake City, Utah, arrived Thursday night and registered at the Burdick House. Not much bent by the tales of domestic woes which have kept the wires running from the Mormon city hot during the past few months, he was fitting about town, greeting old comrades at the bar and others with a cheery smile and a vigorous handshake. The senator, perhaps a trifle grayer than when he last visited here, but still with the old fire in his eyes, talked entertainingly of Mormonism and other Utah things.

"How is the wife senator?" was asked.
"Never you mind about that," he replied. "Everybody here who knows Brown is confident I will straighten that matter out all right. Just because I attained a little prominence out there the newspapers printed sensational stories about the whole affair which had no foundation in fact. "Brown will take care of himself, all right," he added.
"Senator, what do you think about the forward march of Kalamazoo?" was asked.
"I was about town this morning and I was surprised and gratified at the wonderful city. When the whole affair was over, she is a hummer and I am proud of her."
"And Salt Lake?"
"Going ahead very fast now and is a wonderful city. When the whole affair is completed we will go ahead by leaps and bounds."
"And Reed Smoot?"
"All newspaper talk. There is no prejudice against him because he is a Mormon. Not one man in a hundred out there pays any attention to it. He is a plain ordinary sort of a chap who won't get the world on fire one way or the other."
"No I don't believe that there is much polygamy practiced in Utah now. Of course, where a man has several wives before plural marriages were abolished he still takes care of his families and visits them occasionally. Isn't anything wrong in that is there?"
"The grand jury at Salt Lake is now investigating charges of polygamy, but I do not believe that they will make much out of it."
"There is much divorce business in the Salt Lake country?"
"No. Don't need any divorces out west."
Mr. Brown smiled and disappeared through the door of E. S. Ross' office. The former senator is awaiting some telegrams, and expects to return to Salt Lake immediately. He visited his son at Ann Arbor, who is ill.

What She Learned at the Old Home.
After being away from the old home for years folks sometimes go back and find some surprising changes. An Ohio lady says: "I learned something valuable about coffee when I went home. I had been sick all the time with heart trouble and headaches and used a great deal of medicine without getting better. One time I went to my old home on a visit and there found my father and mother using Postum Food Coffee and both feeling so fine and well."
"They both begged me to try Postum and I finally did so to please them and to my great surprise I began to improve immediately. After using Postum in place of coffee for a short time the heart trouble stopped entirely and did not return except when I tried some coffee, while on the salt to my father's house. Now we use Postum exclusively in our family and husband and the children enjoy the fine drink as much as I do and we are well."
"There is a lady living near us who had been sick for years, doctoring all the time and not getting any better. We sold her a package of our Postum and she is better than for years before and says Postum did it all. Her name is—"

"Now, I am taking my wife and child with me, about the same as you said. I can find a steamer for Port Townsend, and hope that you will tell my friends the same."
"My wife is 29 years old and my child is 16 months old. My wife and myself were married before the registrar general in Hongkong, and I hold a marriage certificate to show; and I hope you will make out a paper and send to the customs officers at Port Townsend for my wife and child to land without trouble. I shall feel grateful to you for the favor, and as soon as I arrive at the custom house there I will let you know by telegram."
"With kind regards to my friends, yours truly, CHIN CHIN."
Chin's friends here would gladly do anything in their power to assist him, but it is not known just what is required of them. It is believed that Chin will finally overcome the difficulties now in his path and be able to return to his home.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve Cure Cured Me.

"I send you my testimonial hoping it will influence someone to use your remedies for the relief and cure of the diseases for which they are recommended. I am constantly recommending them in this locality—often indirectly to strangers. The worst case of nervous prostration I ever saw or rather heard of was that of a young man, a stranger whom I met at the hotel in Bakersfield. He was afflicted with heart trouble and nervousness due to the excessive use of tobacco which I had used from boyhood. A man whom my medicine had cured of tobacco heart met me on the street in Bakersfield and told me that he was badly swollen. I told him to use Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve. I bought three bottles of each and when they were gone the aggravating symptoms had disappeared, but to make a sure thing of it I bought two more bottles of Nerve and am today perfectly well. I have used the Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and consider all of Dr. Miles' medicines the very best of household remedies and wish that every sufferer might learn of their value."—J. M. Mountain, Idaho, June 25.—The dead body of Frank Carruthers was found yesterday on the Grand View road about 10 miles beyond Grand View. The discovery was made by R. Grove, driver of the Oregonian. He made an examination and found that the man had been shot through the heart from his wagon, and that his neck had been broken.

Near by was his wagon, and a little distance off the horses were found. The indications were that the team had run away.

Deceased was between 50 and 60 years of age. He was an old-timer, having settled in Boise some 25 years ago. About 10 years ago he moved into Ogden county.

The supreme court has decided that these warrants to be valid, and only an act of the assembly could make them legal.

His Body Found Ten Miles Beyond Grand View, Idaho.

Mountain, Idaho, June 25.—The dead body of Frank Carruthers was found yesterday on the Grand View road about 10 miles beyond Grand View. The discovery was made by R. Grove, driver of the Oregonian. He made an examination and found that the man had been shot through the heart from his wagon, and that his neck had been broken.

Near by was his wagon, and a little distance off the horses were found. The indications were that the team had run away.

Deceased was between 50 and 60 years of age. He was an old-timer, having settled in Boise some 25 years ago. About 10 years ago he moved into Ogden county.

The Cost Of A Piano.

Don't measure the cost of a piano altogether by the price you pay. The permanent satisfaction it will give, the quality of tone it possesses and will possess after years of use, and the amount of repairs it will then need, are important points. If these things count you'll find no piano cheaper than a STEINWAY. Therein lies its merit.
