THE EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, - - - April, 20, 1871.

PRICE OF GOLD,

As quoted daily by HOOPER, ELDREDGE & Co., Bankers:

SALT LAKE CITY, April 21, 1871.

Buying at $1.08; Selling at $1.11.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRICAL.—The playing of M'lle Ravel in "The Angel of Midnight," last night, was all that could be desired; her dancing, in the third act, is worthy of special mention; it was simply superb. The bill provided for M'lle Ravel's farewell benefit, to-night, is a "huge" one. It comprises the melo-drama entitled "The Dumb Boy of Manchester" and "Cynthia, the Gypsey Queen." This fine bill should draw a good house.

GOING TO PROVO.—President Young left town this a. m. for Provo.

ALDERMAN'S COURT.—James Baker was examined before Dr. Clinton, to day, on a charge of stealing blankets. The case was deferred till monday.

Peter Dye, for being drunk and insulting a young lady was fined $15.

RETURNED.—Brother Wm. C. Rydalch, who has been east purchasing blooded stock under the auspices of the Association for the Importation and Improvement of Stock etc., returned last evening, having made a successful trip. The stock will be in by the train this evening, all in good condition. They were purchased in Canada. The horned stock are of the Durham breed, and Brother Rydalch is prepared to furnish the pedigree of each animal. He has ten bulls from one to four years old, and three from six months to one year; two blooded cows, five graded heifers, five mares from three to six years; two geldings, one three and the other four years; three yearling colts, four bucks, ten ewes and eight lambs.

SNAPPER.—By a communication from George Farnsworth, Mount Pleasant, dated April 19th, we learn that the weather has been very cold and stormy in that region lately causing planting to be very late.

HANGED TO DAY.—Boyer, the half-breed murderer who lately escaped from prison, at Cheyenne, was recaptured and was to be hanged to-day. He announced, a few days ago, that he was quite prepared to go to the "happy hunting grounds." He objected to having the cap drawn over his eyes, saying that he wanted to die brave with his eyes wide open. So says the Leader.

LECTURE LAST NIGHT.—Elder Miles Grant delivered his second lecture last evening, in the Old Tabernacle, which was attended by a much larger audience than on the preceding evening. The interest increases, as the Elder proceeds with his subject, in which all present seemed deeply interested. He will continue it to night and we advise all who have not attended to go and hear for themselves; we have no need to advise those who have already heard the gentleman, as they will be almost sure to go again.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES.—The funeral obsequies of Mrs. Ann Leaver Musser took place at the Thirteenth Ward Assembly Rooms yesterday, at one o'clock p.m. A large number of the relatives and friends of the deceased were present and the Tabernacle choir was in attendance.

The remains of deceased were borne from residence by Teachers of the Ward and followed in order by the members of the Female Relief Society, of which Sister Musser was the Treasurer.

Elder John Taylor offered the opening prayer.

Elder Geo. Q. Cannon and President Brigham Young made interesting remarks upon the resurrection of the dead.

Elder Orson Pratt pronounced the benediction.

A large concourse of relatives and friends attended the remains of the deceased to the cemetery, where President D. H. Wells thanked the assembly for the sympathy shown on the occasion and offered the closing prayer.

PROBABLE CLUE.—Mr. Henry Pusey, of the Twentieth Ward, informed us, this morning, that he had good reasons for believing that the remains spoken of in yesterday's News were those of George Marchbanks, a youth who came to this Territory, with his parents, two years ago last fall, from Southampton, England. The lad was demented and subject to fits and would occasionally wander long distances from home. He was last heard of a few months after his arrival in this city, when he went to Camp Douglas, where some of the officers, seeing his condition and with a view to sending him home inquired of him where he lived, but he could not give an intelligible answer. He was brought to town by a soldier who, being unable to discover the lad's residence, left him in the eastern part of the city. Since that time he has not been seen nor heard from, and the supposition is that he must have wandered off, fallen into the water somewhere and got drowned. Mr. Pusey thinks that if the lately found remains are his, there will probably be near them a piece of cut crystal which he used to carry around in his pocket and by looking through which he used to amuse himself. The parents of Marchbanks, we understand, live in Springville. The time of his being missed and the advanced state of decomposition in which the remains were found seem to agree. Mr. J. S. Brown, who informed us of their discovery, was of the opinion that they must have lain for not less than two years.

FINED FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT.—The other day, during the progress of the trial of Mrs. Fair, in San Francisco, for the killing of Judge Crittenden, Emily Pitt Stevens, a reporter of the Pioneer, a free-love paper, was fined for applauding a remark of the prisoner.

"Mrs. Fair had said that Judge Crittenden was her friend and protector, and that if he were living he would make the lawyers of the prosecution apologise on their bended knees for the insulting questions they had put to her. This finely flavored remark was too much for Mrs. Stevens, and she shouted "Good!" slammed her fist upon the table, and took a fine of $25 for so contempting the court."

PROVO.—Bro David John writes from Provo on the 20th inst.:

"All is well in Provo. The factory is being pushed to completion with great rapidity. Every man is speculating as to the location of the railway depot in or near this city. The Utah Co. Co-operative stock herd company is unanimously sustained among the people. It is in my opinion the best thing started yet. The soldiers are still; no trouble between them and the citizens. The officers deport themselves in a very gentlemanly manner. Our Sunday schools in this city and throughout the country are healthy and prosperous. Zion is onward in our midst, and God's kingdom will triumph."

CO-OPERATIVE STOCK RAISING.—The Cheyenne Leader, in a recent editorial, advocates strongly the carrying on of this branch of industry there on the co-operative principal. The article proceeds to show the organization and modus operandi necessary to make it successful, which are about the same as have been adopted in this Territory. With regard to co-operative cow herds it says:

"Let twenty men each put $50 into a common fund for the purchase of stock, or if preferable begin by putting one cow each, into a common herd, and add to his interest from time to time, as his ability may permit. Such property can be herded together, and trustworthy persons be placed in charge of the stock, which is nearly all the expense that need to be incurred. On this plan, one herd, composing milch cows, can be kept near a town, or settlement, and driven in each evening to a common enclosure, and the families of those interested, enjoy the benefits of a plentiful supply of pure milk, and at less trouble and expense than by any other mode. The saving of expense in this way alone, is a strong argument in favor of herds owned on the co-operative plan."
