SPLENDID WORK IN FLORIDA.

The annual conference of the of-ficers and members of the Florida con-ference was held Saturday and Sunday Nov. 23 and 24, in the Jacksonville chapel. The interior of the building was tastefully decorated with ferns and choice flowers. There were five public meetings and the large attend-ance of members, friends and strangers indicated spiritual growth and increas-ing interest and investigation. A Bap-tist minister and a Methodist preacher were present at one of the meetings and appeared to be deeply interested in the discourse of Prest. Rich, who took for his text, "Adam fell that man might be, and man is that be might shave Joy." The Methodist minister, aterwards, asked for a copy of the minutes of the conference and made many inquiries about the growth of the Church in Florida. The annual conference of the of-

Chronic Bright's Disease may have been an incurable disease in the past, but it is certainly curable now. M. L. Walley, the druggist, tells us of a re-markable recovery in this city. There was no question about the genuineness of the case. The patient, a lady, is connected with one of our prominent families. She was in a hospital swollen with dropsy, and the albumen was in such enormous quantities as to solidify in the tube.

Rich gave the elders timely and beneficial counsel as to the manner in which missionary work should be perform-ed. It was resolved to thoroughly canvass the cities and large villages in the southern part of Florida this winter and hold open air meetings therein. The newspapers and mun-icipal authorities generally manifest a friendly spirit and we have met with little difficulty in securing per-mission to preach on the streets. In Jacksonville our regular Saturday evening open air meetings have been largely attended. Every elder in the conference is imbued with the spirit of humility and gratitude to the Lord. He has bleesed us in proclaiming the truth and we are determined, with His help, to do our duty. Missionary work deepens our faith and brings us nearer to God. Elder Robert B. White has been transferred to fhe N. C. conference and Elders Decker and Pay have been appointed to labor in Key West during the winter months. C A. CALLIS, President Florida Conference.
