OBITUARY.

Died, at Kingston, February 23, 1879, at 4:40 a.m., of heart disease, THOMAS RICE KING, aged 65 years, 10 months and 23 days.
The deceased was of English descent, and was born in Marcellus, Onondaga County, N. Y., March 9th, 1813; married to Mathia Robinson, December 25th, 1831; moved to Palermo, Oswego County, N. Y., where he embraced the gospel, July 19th, 1840; emigrated to Nauvoo in 1841; in company with others he crossed the Mississippi River and settled in Zarahemla, near Montrose, August, 1842. At a special conference, he was ordained an elder and appointed a mission to the East; started September 12th, in company with Bro. Rufus Fisher, and traveled to Branch County, Michigan, a distance of 400 miles on foot, in 12 days; preached in that vicinity; baptized and organized a branch of the following February, 1843, assisting the Prophet Joseph to escape the diabolical schemes of his enemies; he endured the sufferings and privations of the Saints, during their expulsion from Nauvoo in 1846; was among the first companies that settled Winter Quarters where he was left destitute with a large family, none able to assist him in the least. The following spring he moved into Missouri, where he remained four years, and by his industry and frugality was enabled to emigrate his family comfortably to these valleys in 1851.

On his arrival in Salt Lake City President Young counseled him to settle in Southern Utah. He was appointed first counselor to Anson Call, who was organizing a company to settle Pahvan Valley, now known as Fillmore City, Millard County. He completed the first dwelling house in that valley and there he spent twenty-five years of his life, extending hospitality to all. He was the first Probate Judge in Millard County, which office he magnified with honor many years. He was appointed a mission to Europe April 6th, 1858, where he labored until Jan. 14th, 1858, when he was notified with all the European Missionaries to return to Utah; and returned home in safety, June 25th, 1858.

He served two terms in the Legislature, as Representative of Millard County. Was President of the High Priest Quorum of that county, also a member of the High Council. He performed a mission to the States in 1861, returning the following spring. He adopted the rules of the United Order, and entered into the organization at Fillmore, and labored for its interest diligently. Feeling his health declining, and being desirous of seeing his children laboring in the United Order, with his sons and a few families, he located in Circle Valley, Platte County; organized a branch of the United Order, May 1st, 1877. He being sustained President successfully managed the business of the people, who now number one hundred and ninety-five souls. He never seemed so happy as in the last few months, surrounded by his family and so many kind friends all having one common interest.

He was father of six sons and two daughters, grandfather of forty-seven children, and two great grand children. He leaves the wife of his youth five sons, one daughter, forty grand children, two great grand children, and many dear friends who deeply mourn his loss.

The funeral services took place at the public Hall, February 4th, at 1 o'clock p.m. where his relatives and friends were addressed by Brothers David Savage, Joel White and others, after which his remains were deposited in the new burying ground to await a glorious resurrection.—COM.
