

Who lesale and Retail of Every Description.

MARION McDONALD.

Although Miss Marion McDonald only succeeded to the well established business of Mrs. E. Madsen on Feb. 1, 1903, she has since then, by her trade and extended the patronage, and has for her patrons many of the best dressed ladies of our city. Miss McDonald is an artist in her business, whose taste in all matters relating to ladies' headwear is unquestioned, and her wide experience, sound judgment and great business ability have been the factors of her unequalled success. Her millinery parlors are located at No. 59 east First South street, where she occupies very finely appointed premises and shows at all times an exquisite and well selected stock of all the latest London, Paris and New York millinery novelties and many of her own artistic designs in ladies' headwear, as well as a grand line of hats, frames, ribbons, chiffons, laces, silks, velvets, flowers, feathers and ornaments all most moderately priced. Only expert trimmers are employed and orders are promptly filled with attention being given out of town orders.

HOYT FRUIT AND PRODUCE CO.

This is one of the most reliable produce commission houses in Salt Lake City and has been established here for the past four years. Its proprietor is Mr. Wellington Hoyt, an experienced business man, and an excellent judge of all the goods he handles, and he always has on hand the choicest and freshest goods in his line in the city, receiving fresh consignments of fruits and vegetables daily; also dairy products and in fact a complete line of country produce. Orders are carefully filled and promptly delivered.

D. S. WALLACE.

One of the most widely known and best conducted pharmaceutical establishments in Salt Lake City is that so successfully conducted by Mr. D. S. Wallace, who is a gentleman of the soundest professional training, an accurate and expert dispensary chemist and an honorable and reliable business man who is highly esteemed in the community. This pharmacy, which is attractively fitted up and equipped with a fine soda fountain is located at West South Temple and South West Temple streets, and he carries at all times a very large and well selected stock of drugs, fresh roots, barks, etc., and is a specialist in the prompt and accurate compounding of physicians' prescriptions and household remedies, for which his charges are very moderate, and these are filled day or night. No house in its line carries a finer stock of toilet and fancy articles, choice soaps and perfumery, rubber goods, medicinal wines and liquors, patent medicines and general druggist sundries, popular prices prevailing on all.

VOGUE MILLINERY STORE.

A leader in fashion and a very artistic milliner and designer is Mrs. M. Miller, proprietor of the Vogue Millinery Store, at 44 south Main street, and since establishing the business she has built up a large patronage among her best dressed ladies, who appreciate her good taste and her elegant creations of the milliner's art, and she is highly regarded by them. Her store always neat and attractive, is especially so at the Spring and Fall openings, when she shows all the latest Paris, London and New York novelties with many of her own exquisite creations. Only the most expert trimmers are employed and her stock is always in excellent taste. It includes silks, velvets, chiffon, ribbons, laces, hats and frames, French and American plumes, feathers, ornaments, etc., and all are marked at very moderate prices. City and country orders are promptly filled and Mrs. Miller always accords her customers entire satisfaction.

SORENSEN & LARSEN.

In the matter of clothing, one of the best places in the city to get a fine suit of clothes and with a fit that is sure to please, is the elegant fine tailoring establishment of Sorensen & Larsen, of which A. C. Larsen is the accomplished cutter and fitter, and M. Sorensen is the manager of the entire establishment. This is a new business in an old place and Messrs. Sorensen & Larsen are recent successors to the E. A. Sakuth Tailoring company, for many years a well known firm, and the new company took charge of the place, No. 145 west Second South street, (tel. 1401) on the 29th of June, 1903. Although the new people have only just made a beginning, such is the excellent quality of their work and the splendid stock of goods carried by them that there is no doubt of them retaining their good reputation for the best class of fine tailoring while they have already proved that they are thoroughly expert and artistic in making clothing to fit; and they have already proved themselves worthy of a trial.

ATLANTIC TEA CO.

The success of this business which was founded in 1890 is due solely to the superiority of the goods handled. Goods are sold on their merits, no premiums being given away to draw trade, and when once a patron of the house always a patron. They are dealers in teas, coffees, spices, and baking powder, all of which are pure and fresh as well as being of the best quality for instead of giving away presents, the money used for such purposes is put into buying a superior line of goods. Mr. Monter, the proprietor, is an expert in his business and does his utmost to please patrons. The company owns several unique and handsome delivery carts. The address is 42 Richards street, Tel. 955 k.

WOMEN'S CO-OP.

In most cases where the co-operative plan of commerce has been adopted in Salt Lake it has proved quite a successful enterprise. The enterprise of which Mrs. M. I. Horne is president and Miss Mary Morgan is manager has proved to be one of the schemes for the production of satisfactory work with a good profit. This is one of the most artistic millinery establishments in the west, and it is one of the most popular places of trade in Salt Lake. The ladies above named employ only the most artistic milliners, and keep in their elegant store at No. 51 south Main street a complete line of the latest fashions and also keep on hand several suits of every description for the trade. Mrs. Horne and Miss Morgan are most accomplished in their lines and have great encouragement in the work from the various classes of people who form the social life in Salt Lake. They have a complete establishment and turn the best class of work on short notice, and under the co-operative system their prices are the most reasonable in the city. This business is the property of the State Relief Society and they give a percentage of business done to all benevolent societies.

WESTERN JEWELRY COMPANY.

The handsome store of the Western Jewelry company at 64 Main street, is a most sprightly and refreshing attraction to the people of the city and is destined to be one of special charm to all visitors. We speak of the house thus prospectively because it is a brand new place, established only five months ago. It is a complete and charming jewelry store in the city in the way of ornaments, watches, rings, diamonds and gems to please every eye and gratify every taste. Mr. L. Lachman, formerly a traveling salesman, and he has stocked his store from a knowledge of the people's wants and fancies. His collection of native stones will especially please the visitor from abroad, while he carries everything in the optical goods line. Mounting diamonds, making rings and repairing watches are specialties of the house. Great reductions will be made on all watches sold during the Fair and Conference week.

THE CORNER GROCERY.

The Corner Grocery, located at 189 west South Temple street, is not only one of the best and most progressively conducted groceries in this city, but is noted for the very superior grade of goods, it sells at very moderate prices and its very large trade is steadily increasing. It is at the corner of south First West, phone No. 1424 x, and its proprietor is Mr. C. W. Peck, a thorough grocer, well posted in every detail of the trade, a keen buyer in the best markets, and a gentleman of sound integrity, who is highly regarded in business circles and by his patrons. He carries at all times a very large and carefully assorted stock of imported and domestic, staple and fancy groceries, table delicacies, dairy products, cheese, canned goods, provisions and his pure teas, coffees and spices to be obtained in the city. His stock of grocers' sundries is always complete and his qualities will always be found at the top and his prices at the bottom, while orders are delivered by wagon to all parts of the city.

F. P. SHERWOOD.

For the past four years the corner of Fifth South and State streets has been greatly enlivened and brightened by the presence of Mr. F. P. Sherwood's cheerful and inviting drug store, and it has been from the date of its establishment one of the most popular resorts alike for the people who reside in that section and the throngs of people who pass that way in their daily walks. Mr. Sherwood has been engaged in the drug business for the past ten years, and besides his large acquaintance and personal popularity, he is well known as a thorough druggist and a careful, accomplished, prescriptionist. He is most attentive to all his patrons and enjoys a large patronage from all classes of people. He keeps his store in handsome order, well stocked, neat, clean and cheerful in all its aspects. His stock includes full lines of perfumery and toilet articles generally for the ladies, cigars for the gentlemen and for all people, a beautiful soda fountain that flows perpetually its cooling and refreshing beverages.

MILLER COMMISSION CO.

Among the many well conducted and very successful commission and retail houses of this city is that of the Miller Commission Co., whose store is located at 10 west First South street, where it occupies spacious and well appointed premises. The line of goods handled includes hay, straw, grain and all kinds of feed of the best quality and these are received from the best growing and producing centers of our country and bought with an expert knowledge of qualities and are sold at very low prices, while all orders are promptly delivered. The business has steadily increased since its establishment, and this is owing to the liberal and honorable methods on which the proprietor conducts the business and the fact that he gives prompt and accurate attention to all orders. Farmers who have either hay or grain to dispose of in this section, of good quality, will always find a good market for it at the Miller Commission Co., and the business is most flourishing.

HINES MERCANTILE CO.

A very successful wholesale commission house in groceries, fruits and produce in Salt Lake City is the Hines Mercantile Co., which has been established here for the past five years. The proprietor is Mr. E. G. Hines, a young progressive business man who runs his business on modern up-to-date lines. He occupies well arranged premises at 45 south West Temple street, phone 476, and these are well equipped with every modern convenience. The company is prepared to receive, and so handle, all kinds of groceries, produce, fruits, butter, eggs and cheese for sale on commission, and for these they secure the best results for their patrons and make prompt cash returns. They carry a large and well assorted stock in the best condition, and these they sell to the trade and promptly fill and ship all orders, two delivery wagons being in service. They have one travel agent, and they handle a large trade covering Utah, Wyoming and Montana, over which territory the company does a very large trade, while they make a specialty of fine mail orders, and through that medium receive a large patronage.

RELIABLE CASH GROCERY.

Mr. Robert J. Fischer, the proprietor of the Reliable Cash Grocery, has been established here since May, 1893; when he succeeded Mr. G. W. Hull & Co., and he was formerly in business at Mountain View. He is a thoroughly well posted man in every detail of the trade, honorable and fair dealing in his methods and very popular with his many patrons. His well ordered and nicely appointed store is located at 107 East Second South, and he carries at all times a choice stock of staple and fancy groceries, hardware, etc., dairy and meat products, provisions, cereals, fruits, table delicacies, canned goods, dried and fresh fruits, grocers' sundries and country produce, all of the best quality, fresh, pure and whole. These are all sold at the lowest city prices and orders are carefully filled and promptly delivered to all parts of the city. Telephone 888.

FRED HERDLISKY & CO.

There is at the present date a very great demand for all classes of reliable leather goods and in Salt Lake City those manufactured by Fred Herdlisky & Co. are accorded the preference as they are always perfect in material, finish and workmanship and this applies with especial force to their ladies' bags and cruetine bags. Mr. Fred Herdlisky, the proprietor, has been a resident of Salt Lake City for some eight years, and has always enjoyed the esteem of the community. The business was established six months ago and the premises occupied comprise the second floor at No. 34 East First South street, on kinds of goods, such as saddles, bridles, chaparrals, belts and chaps, and bags and of the latter lines a fine stock is carried. Prices will be found unusually moderate when quality and the workmanship is taken into consideration, and a very large and growing business has been developed, both in new goods, and in repair work, the latter being neatly and promptly done.

MAY'S WASATCH DRUG STORE.

In the case of L. M. May's veteran and attractive drug store at the northeast corner of Second South and Third East street, the name of the Mountain has no relation to the size of the place, though it might be properly associated with the great popularity of the pharmacy and the pharmacist. Mr. May has been an honored citizen of Salt Lake for 23 years and all that time has been a prominent figure in the city in his capacity as a compounder of drugs and

THE TRIAL OF JAMES H. TILLMAN FOR THE KILLING OF EDITOR GONZALES.

For months the merits of the case in the matter of the shooting in Columbia, S. C., Jan. 15, 1903, of Editor Gonzales of the Daily State by James H. Tillman, then lieutenant governor of South Carolina, have been discussed in every portion of the country. Tillman is the nephew of United States Senator Tillman and son of late George D. Tillman, ex-congressman. Gonzales had always been a bitter opponent of the ascendancy of the Tillman family in the politics of the state. He was a most caustic writer, and in the case of James H. Tillman, had frequently used the epithets "blackguard," "debauchee," "criminal" and "liar." The trouble which led directly up to the killing began when President Roosevelt withdrew Senator Tillman's invitation to the dinner given to Prince Henry of Prussia. James H. Tillman espoused his uncle's cause by writing a very bitter letter to President Roosevelt, who had been invited to present a sword to M. J. Jenkins of South Carolina, a former major of the rough riders. Gonzales assailed Tillman violently, and when, in the summer of 1902, Tillman announced himself as a candidate for governor, Gonzales began in his paper a systematic campaign against him, eventually compassing his defeat.

things behind the prescription case. He is a graduate of the St. Louis Pharmaceutical college, 1890, and is noted in Salt Lake as one of the most careful, accomplished and reliable prescriptionists. Also in serving the public he is uniformly courteous and accommodating and has the good will and patronage of all classes of people; always attentive to every want of his patrons and especially prompt in his delivery of goods to any part of the city. His store is neatly appointed and always fully supplied with the freshest of goods in the general drug line, besides keeping full lines of perfumes and toilet articles for the ladies and fine cigars for the gentlemen.

YOWELL AND FRANK.

This firm is engaged in the wholesale fruit and produce and commission business at 125 west First South street. The co-partners, Messrs. Everett P. Yowell and Walter L. Frank, are both progressive and honorable business men. They receive on consignment, and sell for sale on commission shipments of fruit and country produce and make prompt cash returns on sales. They also deal at wholesale in fruit and produce and have a large trade in city and with outside dealers, filling all orders promptly.

E. W. WASHBURN FURNITURE CO.

Since the house of E. W. Washburn Furniture Co. was established here, many years ago it has, by its system of easy payment sales, enabled many wage-earners to thoroughly furnish their homes comfortably and in an attractive manner in a very small amount of money. They carry a large and well assorted stock in the best condition, and these they sell to the trade and promptly fill and ship all orders, two delivery wagons being in service. They have one travel agent, and they handle a large trade covering Utah, Wyoming and Montana, over which territory the company does a very large trade, while they make a specialty of fine mail orders, and through that medium receive a large patronage.

PUZEY & PEACOCK.

The rapid growth of the city, with the prospect of its continued growth for unknown time, gives great latitude for people inclined to mercantile life to engage in business of various kinds, and it is gratifying to note the number of young men who are entering into the business of the future. One of the latest of the new houses in that line is that of Messrs. Frank H. Puzey and James Peacock, who one year ago established their excellent grocery at Fourth and Main streets, and have since that time, by the most judicious selection of goods, and the convenience of the people living in that section of the city, Messrs. Puzey & Peacock are experienced business men and they keep a perfect stock of all the staple and fancy line of groceries, besides the many miscellaneous articles of use in the household pertaining to the business of housekeeping. They have already become well known and have a large and growing trade.

F. J. LUCAS.

To those of our homekeepers who insist on only using the freshest and purest foodstuffs no house caterers in a more satisfactory manner than does Mr. F. J. Lucas, whose nicely appointed store is located at No. 28-29 West Second South street. This is a newly established business since opening up, which Mr. Lucas has been very successful, and his trade is daily increasing. He is an experienced business man, who carefully selects his stock and keeps it constantly assorted, and is prompt and courteous in his attention to customers. His well selected stocks including all the staple and fancy line of groceries, besides the many miscellaneous articles of use in the household pertaining to the business of housekeeping. They have already become well known and have a large and growing trade.

THE THIRTEENTH WARD STORE.

The Thirteenth Ward store, at 72 South Main street, does not pretend to be a factor in politics, though its manager, Mr. John T. Thorpe, may be, for all we know, but it has a great deal to do with the habits and welfare of the people in that political division, while its influence extends more or less to all parts of the city. In many cases, it is a regulator of the household, particularly in the flourishing Thirteenth ward, where things are done up-to-date. The Thirteenth Ward store is a place of household supply, and Mr. Thorpe has forgotten nothing and never lets anything get away. Beginning with dry goods, the invoice goes through the whole list of groceries, shoes, glassware, queensware, granite and iron and tinware, butter and eggs and many things unnecessary to mention, including two stories and a basement—all ways full.

T. E. HARPER.

It is one of the most significant signs of the times that people are paying greater attention than ever to the necessity of using only the purest foodstuffs, and no grocer can hope to succeed who handles any other class of goods. One of the best and most reliable grocers in Salt Lake City is Mr. T. E. Harper of 85 East Second South street, telephone 54, who established his business here in 1871. He has built up a high reputation for the freshness, purity and wholesomeness of all the goods he handles, deals fairly and liberally by his patrons, by whom he is highly regarded. He occupies spacious and well arranged premises and carries a large and well assorted stock of imported and domestic, staple and fancy groceries, dairy products, table delicacies, canned goods, cereal goods, grocers' sundries, and poultry, fish and game in season, and his stock is always kept constantly assorted. In all lines his prices will be found the lowest, quality considered, and he utilizes three wagons to promptly deliver orders.

PALACE MARKET.

We question if any city in the west is favored by having such fine food expositions as Salt Lake City and foremost among these is the Palace Market, which was established here four years ago. The market is splendidly appointed with modern refrigerator facilities, marble counters, and the goods are kept in the most clean and attractive manner, while a number of obliging salesmen give an excellent service to patrons. It is situated at 333-335 south Main street, the telephone being office 134, order department 169 and 946, and yard 201. The proprietor is Mr. Thos. J. Nipper, an experienced butcher of the highest grade of cattle and slaughtering. The abattoir is located on the tracks, connecting with the railroad, at Twelfth South and Second West streets, and the place is up-to-date in every particular, with stockyards, refrigerator and cooling rooms and from 30 to 35 hands are employed. The market handles only the choicest fresh cured and salted meats, fish, poultry and butter, and sells to the hotels, restaurants and families at very low prices, and to the public at very moderate prices, while seven delivery wagons are in service.

STRONG BROS. CO.

A combination of goods in the stores of the outer sections of the city such as that represented by the Strong Bros. Co., at 313 east Fourth South street, is a stroke of enterprising wisdom on the part of the merchant. This company, of which Mr. W. H. Strong is the principal and manager, and Mr. W. H. Ringwood a partner, are dealers in general merchandise, and meats. Their stock comprises dry goods and groceries, to which department are to be added many articles of miscellaneous household use. In their meat department it is sold at the lowest prices, and is greatly appreciated by the people. This house was established 14 years ago, and has a fine trade.

JOHN M. BUTLER.

For the past ten years Mr. Butler has been one of the leading grocers of our city, and few men in his line are more experienced or reliable. His counts among his patrons many who have dealt with him steadily since he commenced business. Located at 210 South Main street, his store is 233-235 feet in dimension, and is a nicely appointed. A full and complete line of choice family groceries, sundries, table delicacies, etc., foreign and domestic fruits, etc. The key note to his business success lies in the fact that he only handles pure, fresh and reliable goods, at low prices. Orders are promptly delivered.

Junk.

N. ROSENBLAT.

About the most independent man in Salt Lake is Mr. N. Rosenblatt, the enterprising proprietor of the Utah Junk company, established at 42-45 East Eighth South street. He is the monopolist of a large exclusive trade to which everybody contributes, buying and selling pieces, pelts and hogwax, metals of all kinds, rubber, rags, scrap iron and bottles, for which he pays the highest prices and he buys from largely from railroad shops, receiving shipments of everything in his line from several adjoining states. His trade in hides, pelts and beeswax forms an important feature of western commerce and for these commodities the company pays the highest market prices and makes considerable shipments of these western products to the eastern markets. Mr. Rosenblatt has been established in the business here for the past 12 years. He maintains a large yard for the storage of his varied wares and ships regularly to the east in earload lots. He is a man of fine physical vigor, and a most industrious worker with a resolution for big success.

INTER-MOUNTAIN JUNK AND METAL HOUSE.

The business of handling old metals, rags, etc., has become an industry of great importance, and a leader in the line in Salt Lake is the Inter-Mountain Junk and Metal House, of which Mr. A. R. Strang is the enterprising proprietor. The office, yard and warehouses are located at 643 State street, tel. 1214, and Mr. Strang in an extensive dealer in rags, iron, metals of all kinds, rubber and bottles. All kinds of second hand machinery is also bought and sold, and those having machinery to sell or those contemplating buying machinery of any kind will find it to their interests to call upon Mr. Strang at the above address. Mr. Strang receives from all over Utah and adjacent states large shipments of metal, rags, etc., for which he pays the highest prices and he ships in car lots to eastern markets. He is an honorable business man, and is running the business on straight forward lines.
