

LOST AERONAUTS SAFE AND SOUND

After Seventy-two Hours in Clouds and Storms Make Way
To Home and Friends.

ARE LITTLE WORSE FOR WEAR

Landed on a Mountain Top on a Rock
Within Ten Feet of a Sheer Precipice—No One Was Injured.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 22.—Lost to the world for 72 hours, first carried by fierce winds to a great height above the Sierra Madre peaks, in a mountain balloon, then brought to earth in the mountain fastnesses of the high Sierras, in a blinding blizzard, and at last making their way to home and friends unscathed, was the experience of the six men who ascended in the big racing balloon, "America," from Tournament park, in Pasadena, last Saturday afternoon. They arrived at the foot of a mountain trail, where friends awaited them, at 5:30 o'clock this evening.

Little the worse for this harrowing experience, the men stopped at the end of the long trail just long enough to be greeted by those who had completed the long search for them, and then hurried on to Pasadena.

When the America went up from the park it was in charge of Capt. Augustus E. Mueller, an experienced aeronaut, and had as passengers the following persons:

L. C. Williams, a prominent mining man, formerly of Walla Walla, Wash., now a guest at the Hotel Maryland, Pasadena.
Richard Halstead, president of the R. C. Halstead company, fish and poultry market, Pasadena.
Sidney Gray, pigeon fancier, Pasadena.
Edward C. Dodschultz, chauffeur, Pasadena.

It was to have been a pleasure trip, and the passengers went lightly clad and few provisions were taken.

The balloon was in the air only one hour and forty minutes. During this time it soared to an altitude of 13,000 feet.

Capt. Mueller never lost his bearings, and was able to direct his course to a destination he had selected. He missed his reckoning by a few miles, landed in a heavily wooded area, and was unable to find his way out.

Capt. Mueller summarized his remarkable experience as follows:

"I saw the top of a barren peak, hardly large enough to hold the basket of the car. In the center of this peak was a pine tree, which had been burned, I pulled the valve cord and we shot downward. When we were within 200 feet of the mountain the men, following my instructions, threw over all the ballast and the appendix cord was pulled and the balloon drew open, forming a parachute. We landed on the rock within 10 feet of a sheer precipice."

"No one was injured in the slightest. The car was badly jolted, I say, modestly, that it was the most remarkable landing of a balloon of which I have ever known."

Neurasthenia

is the physician's name for a condition of weakness or exhaustion of the nervous system. The patient finds difficulty in keeping his mind on his work, is inclined to worry over trifles, is often depressed and irritable, is subject to headaches or a feeling of pressure on the head, is sleepless, and sometimes the digestion is disturbed. A tendency to the disease may be inherited or it may result from almost any form of excess from overwork and worry or the use of drugs or stimulants. The common name for this disorder is or, in extreme cases, nervous prostration. The treatment consists largely in rest, recreation and the use of a tonic, the discontinuance of any practice that may have caused it and abstinence from tea, coffee or other stimulants. As the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood the latter must be built up and made rich and pure. Especially if there is loss of weight and a pallor indicating a weakness of the blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the tonic best adapted to effect a cure. They have been used by the most eminent physicians for the treatment of neurasthenia with most excellent results. The late Dr. Lapponi, who was physician to two popes, recommended them highly for neurasthenia and for similar disorders.

Home Treatment

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills being perfectly safe as a family medicine without the necessity of a separate prescription for each case, are sold in packages under the well-known trade mark which is our guarantee to the purchaser of the genuineness, purity and effectiveness of the contents. Hundreds of nervous men and women have cured themselves at home with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

An Iowa Cure

Mrs. C. F. Schroeder, whose address is Box 12, R. F. D. No. 1, Dixon, Iowa, says: "I suffered from nervousness for three years before I found a medicine that cured me. It is almost impossible to get help here and I have been obliged to do all my work. I became much run down in health and very nervous, was troubled with palpitation of the heart and became so thin that I weighed about 30 pounds. I read of a case like mine which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured and started taking them at once. I feel a change for the better while on the first box, and took the pills until I was entirely cured."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

NATIONAL ART GALLERY.

Lorando Taft Says It Might be Called

National Gallery of Horrors.

Chicago, March 23.—"Our national art gallery at Washington might be called a national gallery of horrors, so many atrocities are there," declared Lorando Taft in a communication to a woman's club.

"There is destined to be a fuller development of sculpture than even the Greeks attained," says Mr. Taft, "a development which shall crystallize our great thoughts and preserve them for coming generations. One object of sculpture should be to leave such heritages behind us."

"It is worth while for our sculptors to work merely because of the possibility of perpetuating perishable thoughts."

WOMAN BORN ON FIELD OF WATERLOO IS DEAD

Detroit, Mich., March 24.—Mrs. Mary Ann Sullivan, who was born on the battlefield of Waterloo, died yesterday at St. Luke's hospital. She was 93 years old. Her father, William Southall, belonged to the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, and her mother accompanied the regiment to the battle of Waterloo. When her father was killed, she was a child. Mrs. Southall started to cross the field to get some brandy for a sick soldier but was ordered back by the Duke of Wellington, who shouted to her:

"Go back, woman, the shooting has commenced." Terrified, the young woman ran toward a small grove, where she fell into a swamp, lying unconscious until the battle of Waterloo. When her plight was discovered, there lay beside her a little daughter who grew up to be the woman who died yesterday here.

TO STOP WASTE OF FUEL

Washington, March 24.—The government has taken important steps to stop the waste of the fuel resources of this country, by making tests of the coils of the Rocky mountain region, at the geological survey's plant in Denver, Colo., the purpose being to determine what coils of this region are capable of making coke that can be used by the great metallurgical interests of the west.

GOOD COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the safe remedy for children's coughs, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. E. R. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children, and it always gives good results." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as liberally to a child as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

HARPOON EXPLODED WITH DISASTROUS RESULTS

Victoria, B. C., March 24.—Striking a line in the office above with a whaling harpoon, George Kent of Kent's livery stables here was badly injured by the explosion of the charge in the harpoon. The injured man will lose a leg as a result. The harpoon was found in a vacant field to the rear of the stable. It is one of a type long in disuse but the ignorant charges exploded when exposed to heat.

TO AID DELINQUENT BOYS.

Chicago, March 24.—Representatives of the various church clubs of Chicago have formed an organization to work for the betterment of delinquent and delinquent boys. Every church organization is eligible for membership, and it is hoped to make the central body a bond that it may be the federated use of Chicago at work with and for the boys of the city.

MORE REVENUE FOR GOVERNMENT

Cabinet, in Long Session, Discusses Question of How It Shall be Raised.

TALK OF TAX ON DIVIDENDS

President, While Not Committed to Scheme, Asks for Estimate of What It Would Produce.

Washington, March 23.—At the long cabinet meeting of the present administration, with a full membership attending, finances were discussed in detail today. The discussion turned upon the subject of raising revenues to replenish the treasury and to provide against a further reduction in the event that there is an actual reduction of revenues from the revised tariff bill. Among the many measures that have been brought forward is that of a 2 per cent tax on the dividends of corporations other than banks, trust companies and insurance companies.

It was stated today that although President Taft had gone so far as to ask for an estimate from the treasury department as to the amount of revenue that might be derived from such tax, he was by no means committed to the proposition. The probable estimate was $12,000,000.

A decision as to what measures of taxation shall be adopted apparently is a long way off, for there is no unanimity of opinion as to any of the propositions so far considered. The only proposition that has assumed definite form is that of an inheritance tax, and this method already has aroused a storm of protest from the states where such a tax already is levied to raise state revenues.

The president and his advisers believe that some acceptable substitute for indirect taxation will be devised.

SENATE'S POSITION.

At the conclusion of a long session with the tariff bill under consideration, Chairman Aldrich of the senate finance committee today stated emphatically that he was not concerning himself with questions bearing upon special taxes to raise revenues, and will not do so until it can be ascertained how much revenue can be obtained directly from duties on imports under such a bill which the committee will recommend, and how much public expenditure can be dispensed with. This statement was made in response to a request for his opinion of President Taft's suggestion that dividends declared by corporations might be taxed. Mr. Aldrich declared he was not committed to any of the plans suggested for special taxes, such as the inheritance tax, the proposed tax on coffee and the various stamp taxes.

It is asserted upon what is thought to be accurate information that a majority of the members of the senate finance committee regard with disfavor the proposed inheritance tax, the proposed income tax, levied upon dividends of corporations, tax on coffee and practically all forms of stamp taxes. The inference drawn from Mr. Aldrich's expression, therefore, is that the revision of the tariff must be of an upward trend.

No urgency is given at the Capitol to the story that President Taft and Senator Aldrich have disagreed over any feature of the tariff bill.

It is generally believed that the president will welcome any plan to avoid imposing these taxes if they can be avoided without raising the existing duties on the necessities of life and by lowering the duties on some articles that he believes are too high.

LAST SHIPMENT OF OPIUM TO UNITED STATES

San Francisco, March 24.—The last shipment of opium that will enter the United States with the knowledge and sanction of the federal government, arrived from the Orient on the steamer China yesterday. The shipment consists of 413 lbs. of the dream-producing drug, valued at $350,000.

Within a few days and before the next liner arrives from the far east, the new law by the terms of which the importation of opium in its commercial, refined form is absolutely prohibited, will go into effect. It will be a sad day in the Chinese quarter and it will also, in all probability, mean the beginning of a season of greater activity for customs officials as the days of opium smuggling are likely to come again.

A SKELETON MYSTERY.

Chicago, March 24.—The finding of the skeleton of a man, apparently a wealthy hunter, in a soggy marsh near Kankakee, Ill., has furnished the police with a mystery.

From the appearance of the skeleton the coroner thinks the body had lain in the marsh at least six months.
