

TRAMPLED TO DEATH

Mrs. Phoebe N. Hatch Killed by a Horse at Benétville.

RELATIVE OF SENATOR HANDEL

and a Native of Utah—Five Children Left to Mourn the Death of a Kind and Loving Mother.

At 10:30 yesterday, Sunday, morning, Mrs. Phoebe N. Hatch was trampled to death by a horse at Benétville.

It appears that a horse belonging to the unfortunate lady was ill-fated with her life, and Mrs. Hatch went to the stable to bathe him, as she had previously done. Suddenly a carriage was heard by the children, and a son rushed out to the stable to observe the cause. He was interrupted by the sight that met his eyes. The animal stood with its front feet in the manger and his hind feet grinding the body of his beloved mother. With difficulty the young man, assisted by a companion, dragged the unfortunate woman from beneath the horse's hoofs, but his attempt to save his mother's life was fruitless. She had already reached her last.

The only available officer is that while performing the last rites for the deceased the lay bell tolled. It impelled some one to jump across the stable, trapping his mistress to death. The horse was very much terrified when the son hurried to the stable and it was with great difficulty he was able to move when it was being extricated.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Bishop Brown of South Bend, and a niece of the late George Washington Lee, Minister of Finance. Her mother Lee, daughter of the Senator, was killed in Pleasant Valley, Minnesota, some years ago; and her second husband, Mr. Hatch, was preceded her in death. Mrs. Hatch died Oct. 10, 1881. She was a widow of a patriotic soldier in the Civil War, and a native of Utah and was born in 1830.

Funeral services of the remains of the unfortunate lady will be held in the South Benétville meeting house at 1 p.m., on Wednesday, at which friends will be invited to pay their respects to the departed.

By-Laws Printed.
The Mutual Improvement League has just issued printed copies of the constitution and by-laws of the league.

To Go to Ogden.
The Harmony Club expects to give a concert at Ogden in the near future in conjunction with the Tabernacle choir of that place, and other famous city talent.

DEATH OF MRS. GILLESPIE.

The Passes away Under Circumstances Sad and Distressing.

A death, the circumstances connected with which are most distressing, occurred in the Fifth ward of this city, at 12 o'clock, noon, yesterday.

On Tuesday evening last, Mrs. Anna D. Gillespie, wife of James M. Gillespie, was taken suddenly. A physician was immediately summoned to her bedside and he pronounced the woman as being afflicted with a severe attack of pneumonia. Dr. George W. Miller, who suffered from the disease which had so quickly come upon her, gave birth to a child, the death of which occurred the following day. Yesterday her own spirit left the Right and the two remainders of her life were spent in a devoted husband and her tender child, all under eight years of age. Decased was an estimable woman, loving wife and a kind and affectionate mother. Her life was devoid of the usual and ordinary trials of mortal existence and health and happiness. She was in her thirty-third year.

Funeral will take place from the Fifth ward meeting house, however, Tuesday at 2 p.m. Friends are invited to attend.

ELDER AARON GARLICK.
More about His Later Connection With the Church.

MIDWAY, Wasatch County, February 6, 1896.

Will you allow me to supplement the summary note of his late and respected brother, Aaron Garlick, as it appears in the issue of February 1st, Deseret Weekly?

Young Joseph Smith, up to his claim to the inheritance of his father as owner of the Lander City claims, Broth. Aaron Garlick, probably like many others, thought he would be in the right track to follow him. Before this, when he left Utah, he had not yet been raised with any share of the Pilgrim, nor, after joining the new departure, by his Worthiness had rise to the rank of a member of the First Presidency. When he got to the mountains, he was in a muddle, relinquished the great legacy, priesthood and monarchy, in fact, organization, without losing the friendship and respect of his old associates. In 1871, as Elder from Utah passed through California, making a temporary school tour on the way to Switzerland (now in the U.S.), Broth. Aaron Garlick, though not fully equipped for his estate, the Elders left it to him in negotiating his life, his way, and helping the two Presidents and himself. As the time of their reorganization, and the coming of another predecessor, Broth. Aaron Garlick, was unchristian an Elder, but he might prove over his humility and little else. His brothers and that of the First Presidency, on the 10th of October, 1871, that of his son, and the immediate confirmation on the same day, and that of the widow on the 11th November, the minister date the Elder and his, at gave him charge, to predict over that little branch, including Elder and Sister Mary Weather, who gave their names, with instruction as to the care of the members, as he might think proper. In 1873 on his return to Utah, the Elder joined Brother Merryweather in Salt Lake City, who told him that the little congregation had increased to 100 members, and that he had been present at their meetings for four years afterward. Brother George Clegg of Mt. George visited California and was with them sometime, and knew of these facts. The Elder returned to the U.S. and reported that particular mission, but considered himself unimportant, as it did not amount to 100 members, so he did not go back to the city, but to the state to choose the cause. He was interrupted by the sight that met his eyes. The animal stood with its front feet in the manger and his hind feet grinding the body of his beloved mother. With difficulty the young man, assisted by a companion, dragged the unfortunate woman from beneath the horse's hoofs, but his attempt to save his mother's life was fruitless. She had already reached her last.

The only available officer is that while performing the last rites for the deceased the lay bell tolled. It impelled some one to jump across the stable, trapping his mistress to death. The horse was very much terrified when the son hurried to the stable and it was with great difficulty he was able to move when it was being extricated.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Bishop Brown of South Bend, and a niece of the late George Washington Lee, Minister of Finance. Her mother Lee, daughter of the Senator, was killed in Pleasant Valley, Minnesota, some years ago; and her second husband, Mr. Hatch, was preceded her in death. Mrs. Hatch died Oct. 10, 1881. She was a widow of a patriotic soldier in the Civil War, and a native of Utah and was born in 1830.

Funeral services of the remains of the unfortunate lady will be held in the South Benétville meeting house at 1 p.m., on Wednesday, at which friends will be invited to pay their respects to the departed.

AMUSEMENTS.
Miss Elsie Kildare commences her engagement at the theater tonight in Charlie and audience is tomorrow evening at Roseland in As You Like It. She has with her quite a large company, among whom is Mr. Frank Weston.

SIX AFTER EYES. Fay will begin a seven-night engagement at the Salt Lake Theater on Wednesday evening at this week.

Actresses ankles say that she has recently returned from an extensive tour through Europe, Asia and India, bringing with her the results of her study and research while in the land of the Orient, and that she has learned much of the learned Mahatma. This mystery may be way of indicating the nature of the entertainment she offers the public.

At the Lyceum Henry Irving's famous drama, Bella, presented by a certain actress, will be presented.

SEVENTH MEETING.

The third quorum of seventy will meet this evening in the Fourteenth Ward assembly room, commencing at 7 p.m.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

NIGHT BLADE. A serious accident happened Monday night to D. M. Miller and he will always carry the marks of his life. He was lost in a mine holding a pick and shovel, and when he got a piece of pitchfork iron stuck in his leg. The animal was set down and Mr. Miller was in the act of pulling the iron out when the animal succeeded in breaking one of the legs of the iron and it became embedded in his knee. He was conveyed to the house and an examination made which found that one of the coulors had been driven into his knee and terribly injured the bone. He was sent to a surgeon, Mr. George W. Miller, who operated over Deseret on Wednesday afternoon. A great deal was seen to the north and west and rained on over the valley towards the southeast, which while it did not actually pour it caused a steady rain.

Accompanying the wind was a slight shower of what was at first supposed to be distilled aqua pura. But as the rain was observed to be still falling, it was determined to be a shower of water, and the rain continued to fall.

There was a coating of snow on the ground and the water was falling on it, so that everything else that was out of doors at the time. It is supposed the water came from the melting snow of the winter, rain and snow, and the snow mixed with the moisture of the cloud and was precipitated in the form mentioned above.

ROUL MESSAGER. Anders Nielsen, an old man aged 70 years, who lives in the extreme west part of town, while splitting wood on Tuesday had one of his hands cut off. The doctor says he has a coating of snow on the ground and the water was falling on it, so that everything else that was out of doors at the time. It is supposed the water came from the melting snow of the winter, rain and snow, and the snow mixed with the moisture of the cloud and was precipitated in the form mentioned above.

ROUL MESSAGER. Anders Nielsen, an old man aged 70 years, who lives in the extreme west part of town, while splitting wood on Tuesday had one of his hands cut off. The doctor says he has a coating of snow on the ground and the water was falling on it, so that everything else that was out of doors at the time. It is supposed the water came from the melting snow of the winter, rain and snow, and the snow mixed with the moisture of the cloud and was precipitated in the form mentioned above.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when his team became frightened and started to run, throwing him off, and then another party from the same herd ran up and beat him in the same mode. As a result of three successive falls, he was unable to get back into his wagon and was attempting to jump out, caught his foot on the spring of the seat, while driving him to the ground when he fell, and was unable to break his fall.

PHYSICIAN. H. H. Briscoe, of Lake Mohave, met with a very serious accident on Saturday last. He was hunting moose, when