SCANDINAVIANS AT SALT LAKE.

A Thousand of Them Have a Most Enjoyable Outing.

ADDRESSED BY PRES. SNOW.

Venerable Leader Congratulates Them on the Sturdiness of Their Race—Their Achievements.

About a thousand Scandinavians visited Salt Lake yesterday, notwithstanding the somewhat cloudy and threatening atmosphere. In addition to the usual attractions of the famous bathing resort, the excursionists had been promised an address by the beloved President of the Church, Lorenzo Snow, this event was looked forward to with much anticipation.

At 7 p. m. President Snow, LeROI C. Snow and Apostle Anthon H. Lund appeared on the upper floor of the pavilion and the people gathered. Apostle Lund announced a hymn and opened the exercises with prayer, whereupon he, in a neat little speech, introduced President Snow, stating, however, that as the latter feared he would not be heard by all, he would ask his son, LeROI C. Snow, to read the address. This was done in clear, distinct voice, and the address was listened to with the utmost attention. At its close a vote of thanks was proposed and enthusiastically responded to, and prayer was offered by Mr. Martin Christensen.

The musical exercises were rendered by members of the two Scandinavian choirs, "Harmonien" and "Eva," under the leadership of Mr. T. Jacobsen and Hugo Petersen. At the close of the program old and young crowded forward to grasp the hand of President Snow, and the countenances of the little ones beamed with joy, as they succeeded in their efforts.

PRESIDENT SNOW'S ADDRESS.

"My Dear Brethren and Sisters!—Having been invited to address you on the occasion of this gathering, I cheerfully respond to the invitation, because I have always been a great admirer of the Scandinavian people.

"When I look around and see how numerous the Scandinavian people have become in these mountains, it reminds me of the marvelous growth of the Church since our first settlement here. I distinctly remember when Apostle Erastus Snow and Elders Hansen and Forsgren were called and set apart to open up the Scandinavian mission; for I was called at the same time to carry the Gospel to Italy. When the Church was driven forth from Nauvoo into the wilderness, the Gospel had been preached in America and Great Britain only. Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and the other nations of Europe had not been visited by the Elders of Israel with the message of salvation. But to never had the Saints become fairly settled in these valleys than the servants of the Lord turned their attention again to the great missionary work which rested upon the Church.

"We I arrive in the midst of poverty and struggling to make the land habitable, but we could not neglect the obligation we were under to spread the Gospel abroad; for the Lord had given forth the command that it should be preached in all the world. It is one of the evidences of the divinity of this work that in the midst of all their drivings and persecutions the Latter-day Saints have faithfully sought to carry out this command of the Lord.

"At the general conference of the Church held in October, 1849—only two years after the pioneers entered this valley—a number of Elders were sent forth to carry up missions in different parts of the earth. Four of the Twelve Apostles were appointed to take the Lord's Apostle Erastus Snow was called to go to Scandinavia, and John Taylor to France, myself to Italy, and Apostle Franklin D. Richards to England, where a mission had already been established. Under the adverse circumstances in which we were situated, but with our families almost destitute, this was a great undertaking for us; but the Lord had called, and we felt to respond, no matter what sacrifice it involved.

"After being separated, we left this city on the 10th of October, 1849. There were thirty-five men in the party, and we had twelve wagons and forty-two horses and mules. It is worthy of note that this was the first company of missionaries sent from Utah. It was rather late in the season to cross the plains in safety, and the journey proved to be a memorable one by reason of the dangers encountered; but after being miraculously preserved, I found that on one occasion we reached the Missouri river in safety. There we separated, some going one way and some another to their respective fields of labor. When I arrived in Liverpool, I found Brothers Erastus Snow and Franklin D. Richards already there. I visited a number of the branches of the Church in England, where I had labored a few years previously, and on the day of Brother Erastus Snow landed in Copenhagen—the 14th of June, 1850—I was at the seaport town of Southampton preparing to leave the next day for Italy.

"Fifty-one years have passed since then, and what a grand work has been accomplished in Scandinavia! About 1,300 missionaries have labored in Norway, Sweden and Denmark, and as a result of their labors upward of 46,000 people have been baptized into the Church. Truly, since the first seed was planted by Brother Erastus Snow and his fellow-laborers there has been a glorious harvest of souls in these lands! It shows clearly that the blood of Ephraim was sprinkled liberally throughout those northern countries, inasmuch that when the message was proclaimed it found a ready response. Before me are some of those thousands of converts to the truth. I rejoice with you today that the Scandinavian people are so numerous in this Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. It is an evidence that you are a good people. You recognized the voice of the True Shepherd in the testimonies of the Elders, and when you were convinced of the truth of the message which they bore you had the moral courage to accept it, though it was unpopular and likely to bring persecution upon you. In this you showed the true characteristics of your race, and proved yourselves worthy representatives of a noble lineage.

"The Church cannot have too many of such members, and hence I am happy to say that the work of the Lord is still progressing in Scandinavia, and will probably continue to do so for some years yet, for I am satisfied that there are many honest-hearted people there. We are seeking Elders right along to preach the Gospel to them, and each year witnesses additions to the Church. A glorious harvest of souls is being reaped in the Scandinavian mission; but the great majority of those who have joined the Church there have emigrated to the United States, in obedience to the command of the Lord. The first company of Scandinavian immigrants arrived in Utah in 1852, I believe, and they have been coming almost continuously since then. Altogether about 32,000 Saints have come from that mission to Zion; and they are still coming. "During a residence of many years in Boxelder county I had a splendid opportunity of becoming intimately acquainted with the Scandinavian people, who constitute a goodly portion of the population of the county, and I learned to thoroughly appreciate their value as citizens and as members of the Church. My experience leads me to say that the Scandinavian element is becoming an important factor in the progress of the Church, and in the building up of Zion. They are recognized all over the land, and rightly, too, as a sturdy, thrifty and frugal race, possessing sterling qualities combined with their honesty, their uprightness, and their fidelity to the truth have made them a strong and influential class in our midst.

"It is estimated that there are now upwards of 50,000 Scandinavians in Zion. The little acorn has indeed become a mighty oak, whose branches spread all over the land, and in every section of the country the progress of the Church and the fruits of their industry and skill are seen on every hand. They were among the pioneers in many sections of this intermountain region and shared the full extent in the hardships and privations incident thereto. In fact, they have been an almost indispensable factor in the building up of this country. Notwithstanding they have labored under some disadvantages, inasmuch as speaking a foreign tongue and meeting with prejudice in some quarters, they have, by their unflinching toil and perseverance, forged ahead and made themselves an honored and useful part of the people of this country. Their representatives of the race are prominent in all the avenues of trade, as well as in political and ecclesiastical circles. All through the Church they hold presiding positions in churches, wards, stakes and in the hierarchy of the Twelve Apostles and the Elders of the Church. Brother Reed Snoot, another of the Twelve Apostles, had a Norwegian mother. Brother C. E. Petersen is one of the First Seventy. There are two presidents of stakes, several counselors to presidents of stakes, a number of High Councilors and about 250 bishops and branch counselors, all of Scandinavian origin. In political circles they hold positions of responsibility and trust, in literature they have furnished us several good writers and poets, in law and medicine they are becoming an important factor in the community, and in agriculture they are second to none. From this it can be seen that both in civil and religious life they are valuable members of our community.

"I congratulate you, my brethren and sisters, on belonging to so distinguished a race. But, more than that, I congratulate you on belonging to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. This Church is composed of men and women of many nationalities. As the Gospel was preached to you in Denmark, in Sweden and in Norway, so it has been preached to you in all the world. It is one of the evidences of the divinity of this work that in the midst of all their drivings and persecutions the Latter-day Saints have faithfully sought to carry out this command of the Lord. It is one of the evidences of the divinity of this work that in the midst of all their drivings and persecutions the Latter-day Saints have faithfully sought to carry out this command of the Lord.

"In concluding my address to you, let me exhort you to be faithful to that Gospel which you so gladly received in your native land. Many of you have perhaps sacrificed some home and dear ones, and have come to this land to live in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen."

The four days' session of the Western Funeral Directors' association closed last night with a lecture by Prof. Hensenshuh on the embalming and care of bodies. The principal business of the day was the election of the following officers: Charles A. Rogers of Denver, president; Joseph E. Taylor of Salt Lake, first vice president; F. J. Buchert of Boulder, Colo., second vice president; W. B. Waters, secretary, were re-elected. E. G. O'Donnell of Salt Lake and George W. Ace of Rock Springs were elected trustees.

Waters of Salt Lake; The alternates were Joseph William Taylor of Salt Lake; J. T. Richardson of Park City; George Larkin, Jr., of Ogden; and J. G. Trezise of Boulder, Colo.

By unanimous vote the association decided to meet in September, 1902, at Colorado Springs.

Resolutions were drawn up thanking the people of the city, the Ogden Undertakers, the management of the Kuntzford, for courtesies extended, and special resolutions to Joseph E. Taylor for the banquet given, and to Joseph E. Taylor for the use of his morgue and rooms during the proceedings of the convention.

Some of the visitors saw an Ogden canon today enjoying themselves immensely.

Yesterday afternoon an autopsy was held at Joseph William Taylor's undertaking rooms, by Dr. Joseph S. Richards and Dr. Stephen L. Richards. The body used was that of William Butts, who died at the Holy Cross hospital last Thursday. There were about a dozen undertakers present and they were much interested in the operation.
