

CIDDEO HANGS FOR HIS CRIME

Man Arrested in Salt Lake Pays The Penalty in Canada Today.

JUSTICE BROOKS NO DELAY

Dominion Police Dogged His Footsteps Until Arrest Was Made in This City in January.

Early this morning Francesco Ciddeo, alias Frank Bosso, alias Pain-Blanco, was hanged by the authorities of the British Columbia village of Niagara, for the murder of Louise King, daughter of a boarding housekeeper at Niagara, on Nov. 18, 1906.

Ciddeo was captured in Salt Lake City on the 20th day of January of the present year, by two officials of the Canadian department of police, and after being held in the county jail pending the arrival of the mother of the murdered girl, was positively identified by the woman and it was not long afterward until extradition papers had been issued and Ciddeo was on his way back to the village where he had wrought such havoc more than a year before.

Ciddeo was charged with blowing up the boarding house and saloon conducted by John King, with dynamite, and in the explosion following Louise King, a daughter of the boarding house keeper was struck by falling beams and pinned to the ground, where her body was incinerated. Ciddeo was one of half a dozen Italian laborers boarding at the King house. On the date named, Nov. 18, 1906, Ciddeo, with his associates, began to load up on whisky and they soon became boisterous and abusive. Ciddeo's room was situated just above the bar room in the hotel. He rushed up to his room and secured a rifle, which he began swinging about his head. In one of the swings he knocked a lamp over, but the flames were extinguished.

The band of howling drunkards were ordered from the house by Landlord King. The house was locked up with the execution of the door leading upstairs to the bedrooms. The warning given the Italians by King enraged them beyond measure, and the disturbance about the place became general.

ALARM OF FIRE.

At 9:45 in the evening Louise King was being rushed from the house crying fire; she said she saw flames in Ciddeo's room through the chinks in the rough logs, but before she could escape two fearful explosions took place and the unfortunate girl was hemmed in by fire and pinned to the earth by heavy logs. Explosions followed in quick succession, and were caused by dynamite in the possession of Ciddeo, which he set fire to out of motives of jealousy, as afterward confessed by him. The mother had a narrow escape from being caught in the wreck, but escaped with a few bruises.

It is said that Ciddeo was infatuated with the girl Louise, and that she repulsed his advances, and that in revenge for her actions he took this method of settling the matter, to gratify his spite against the girl and her family.

WAS CRAZY DRUNK.

In extension of the crime, Ciddeo urged that he was crazy drunk at the time, and did not know what he was doing. On that ground Ciddeo was taken to the Dominion government for a pardon. But as justice is usually swift and unflinching in the domains of Britain, and not usually swayed by motives of sentiment, no leniency was extended to the condemned murderer, and Francesco Ciddeo has paid the penalty of this wild orgy by hanging by the neck until he is dead.

CAPTURED IN SALT LAKE.

The story of Ciddeo's capture reads like one of the masterpieces of Sherlock Holmes. After the blowing up of the hotel Ciddeo escaped in the darkness, but one of his companions named Rivali was captured and placed in jail. An officer of the Canadian police was put on the trail, and he dogged Ciddeo relentlessly for more than a year before effecting his capture. The officer, William John Devitt, chief constable of the provincial police of British Columbia, and he tracked Ciddeo in Salt Lake, where he was working for the Oregon Short Line Railroad company as a section hand. Ciddeo made his way to Ogden, Utah, and the American line, secreted under a load of hay, and he was traced successfully to Vancouver, Washington, Portland, Spokane, and thence to Colorado. Thence the officer trailed him, and when it was found that he had gone to Salt Lake, and by a little strategy the officer, assisted by the sheriff and chief of police, located him here and placed him under arrest. Ciddeo acknowledged to Officer Devitt that he was the man who fired the charges of dynamite in the King hotel, which resulted in the death of Louise King, and finally in the explosion of the crime by the yielding up today of his own life.

FUNERAL OF WM. CARROLL

Well Known Architect Laid to Rest in The City Cemetery.

William Carroll, the well known architect, was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the city cemetery, after services at the parlors of Undertaker Joseph William Taylor. Elder R. P. Nealen conducted the obsequies, which were attended by many friends of the deceased. The musical features were furnished by Fred C. Graham and Miss Hendrick, the former singing "Beautiful Home," and the latter, "The Lord's Prayer." Virginia Smith, rendering the selection, "I Need Thee Every Hour."

Mrs. J. R. Nealen and R. P. Nealen were the speakers, and each drew from the many noble characteristics of William Carroll, chief among which were charity and benevolence.

MISSING RELATIVES.

Postmaster Thomas is in receipt of three letters, asking him to assist in locating relatives of the writer. Mrs. J. T. Peacock, Box 23, Manitow, Colo., desires to know the whereabouts of her husband, who was in Salt Lake from May 15 to June 1. The mother says their child came incessantly for "papa," and cannot be pacified.

Thomas Glaze is inquired for by his mother, Frances R. Glaze, of Ellsworth, Kan. He was in Salt Lake seven years ago, and since that time his mother has not heard from him.

Mrs. J. R. Nealen, 103 Wellesley street, Toronto, Can., seeks her lost son, Russell W. Richards, who is about 10, and to France or business connected with an estate, in which the son may some day be personally interested.

SHRINERS ON THE MOVE

Utah Delegation Starts Out to Make Noise for Utah at St. Paul Conclave.

Utah's Mystic Shriners and friends who will represent this state during the annual conclave to be held in St. Paul, beginning Tuesday and covering three days, left for the east at 2:10 o'clock this afternoon. The delegation numbered over 60 and comprised shriners from Ogden and other outside cities. Several Idaho lodge members were abroad, also. F. C. Schramm of this city and S. W. Hudson of Ogden will head the party and L. H. Harding of the Midland, Harry Cushing of the Rio Grande and other railroad representatives will accompany the party to see that everyone keeps well and happy. Mr. Cushing is now in Denver but will join the party there.

The Utah delegation will take along the famous El Kalah patrol which has done as much to advertise Utah in distant lands as any body. This is captained by Henry Simonds, and is one of the best drilled and finest uniformed organizations in the country. The start from this city was made in the afternoon to afford the travelers an opportunity of seeing the scenic beauties between this city and Denver.

Their special train consists of three fine sleepers, an observation car and other special equipment.

California shriners, 100 strong, reached the city about 8:30 this morning in one of the finest specials ever seen in this city. Electrically lighted throughout, it consisted of a dynamic baggage car, a buffet composite car, four sleepers with double state rooms and other modern features, a diner and a composite observation car. The Californians are great to entertain and at every stop about 8:30 this morning the towns were entertained royally. Vines, fruits and edibles all of the choicest varieties—were on hand and not only Masons but everybody was welcomed to drop in and chat awhile. After being shown a little of the prettiest portion of the city the travelers from the coast continued on their way, declaring their intentions of making a longer visit upon the return trip.

IS A GAMBLING DEVICE

Judge Whitaker Decides Slot Machine Such and That It Must Go—To Be Appled.

Judge Whitaker has decided that the slot machine is a gambling device. After a delay of more than two months, occasioned by the failure of the attorney for the defense to file briefs in the case, the judge yesterday rendered a decision meaning that the slot machines must go.

The case was that of the city against Mark Bates, and was selected as a test case. The complaint was issued against Bates on May 1, and charged him with operating a gambling device against the provisions of section 444 of chapter 29 of the revised ordinances of Salt Lake City. Judge Diehl had decided in January that the slot machine was not a gambling device, but as the license department of the city maintained that it was, the test case was brought before Judge Whitaker, who sustained the contention that the machine is a species of gambling and therefore cannot be tolerated.

The case will be appealed to the supreme court. The highest court in the state will be called upon to pronounce the fate of the vicious slot machine, and pending its decision nothing will be done as to the numerous machines now in operation in this city and elsewhere.

MORAN IN TROUBLE.

Patrick J. Moran is to be made the subject of resolutions in the Federation of Labor. The resolutions are to be addressed to the city council and will protest against Moran's policy of working his teamsters in hours a day instead of eight. Moran has explained that he must rush the work to an early completion or pay a big forfeit to the city.

FAREWELL TO PRIEST.

Newspaper men in Salt Lake are to jolly off the fact that Joe L. Priest has found a better business than writing for the papers, and has joined the school of newspaper grumblers. Saturday evening at the Press club a jollification banquet will be tendered in his honor, at which the Press editors of Salt Lake will be present in force.

"AMERICANS" GET LIQUOR DEALERS

Novel Idea Appears on the Political Horizon in Mutual Protective League.

NO PROHIBITION FOR THEM.

Meeting in the Office of the Chief of Police is Not Productive of Much Sympathy.

A new and somewhat novel alley of the "American" party has appeared in the Mutual Protective association, formed largely of saloonkeepers who are acting as agents and managers of branches for large brewing interests in the east and in this city. It is believed that the scheme behind the organization of the association and its affiliation with the "American" party is a well laid plan to defeat any attempts which may be made by the Democrats and Republicans of the state at the coming election to secure local option or prohibition plans.

This so-called mutual association met in the office of Chief of Police Pitt yesterday its representation being President G. F. Strickley and Secy. H. S. McCann. Present also were Chairman J. J. Stewart, Tom Black and Ed O'Donnell's license committee. The ostensible purpose of the meeting was to discuss the Sunday closing of saloons.

PITT'S ATTITUDE.

Chief Pitt said yesterday: "What-ever the decision of Judge Diehl is in regard to the saloon cases, we are up to the neck in the matter, we are going to close the saloons on Sunday and keep them closed tight. If we can't do it one way, we will do it another."

The Mutual association has 52 saloons on its list which have pledged themselves to close on Sunday, including the cigar stands and all other appurtenances to their establishments. The association has pledged its members to draw aside the blinds and permit a free view of the saloons on the Sabbath.

PONDEROUS SILENCE.

The "American" party, it is declared by those who should know, intends to make no mention of prohibition or local option in its platform, on which it will go before the voters next fall collecting their support. It is in this way that the party hopes to secure the aid of the saloon interests and other classes of people nearly affiliated to win the coming election. The proposed removal of the red light district, furnishing the fallen women of the city with better and cheaper quarters than they now have, is also in line with the policy of the party to secure patronage among the lower element of the city, knowing full well that they cannot go before the better class of people with the record behind them and even hope to secure heavy support.

HAVE THEIR SOCIAL STATUS.

The owners of saloons in this city, in their enterprises and who are not the retailers for breweries and distilleries, look upon the new association with a sort of contempt. They ridicule its purposes and say there is no sincerity. "The men pay licenses for operating their cigar stands," they say that the police are powerless to close this portion of their establishments Sunday and on other days. Among those not affiliated with the association are:

J. J. McPhee, James McTernan, Fred Kuster, M. E. McVey, the Knutson bar, Kenyon bar, the Chesapeake bar, Ben Hartwick, Fred Harg, the Mahan Liquor company, Charles Regan, the Luxur and the Metropole.

LIST OF MEMBERS.

The official list of members in the association, as furnished to the license committee last night by the secretary is as follows:

Bates & Schuler, the Kentucky Liquor company, White House bar, H. Hornman, Frank Wenzel, James Stevens, Monarch Liquor company, Eagle bar, the Blomart, the Royal Liquor company, the Mint saloon, the Combination bar, the Tortonia, the Elite, the New Resort, A. J. Byron, John Sanberg, P. J. Kennedy, Frank Al. the Heidelberg, Adam Snyder, the Cliff House bar, the Railroad Exchange bar, A. B. Cave, M. Brandt, the Continental bar, William Baer, the Royal Top bar, the Star Bar, the John Schenker, the Council bar, Hanak & Rumpf, Piccola & Cerra, Battery & Co., the Orpheum saloon, the Favorite, the Lyric, the Cullen, the Vienna Buffet, John Leppin, Gus Litcher, Union saloon, Utah Liquor company, Success bar, the Zang, Del Wilson, Sol Nelson and the Bingham Buffet.

POLITICAL POINTERS

The silly summer season is on. If you doubt it, try a look at the "strolcher" political column in a morning paper.

Quite a number of resignations should be due this fall, according to the announcement of changes in plan. William Glasmann of Ogden is said to have a political eye turned in a new direction, which will require his absence from the postoffice position. Marshal Spry will probably not wish to speed his gubernatorial bid up to large dimensions before he leaves the marshal's office, and J. U. Eldredge, Jr., will hardly be able to serve out his term as county clerk with the appointment as assayer ready for him.

To bond or not to bond is a question of preference between honest spending, and the raising of a big campaign fund out of public money. In the coming campaign the "inner circle" will make a record breaking fight to maintain its hold on the public funds.

R. W. Sevey of Garfield county will be quite at home in the state senate, if his nomination for the Sixth district by the Republicans is followed by election. He is well known in state politics.

FOR GOOD ROADS.

Officials Selected to Confer With County Commissioners on the Subject.

The good roads movement is not to be allowed to lapse after the Legion meet which launched it. At a meeting last night of the Salt Lake Automobile club, Secy. James E. Jennings was appointed to go to Ogden to consult with the automobile there concerning the appointment of a commissioner from Weber county on good roads. John S. White of Farmington was selected to represent Davis county and these two officials, with the county commissioner will immediately take up the task of bettering the Salt Lake and Ogden highway.
