

PROPERTY OWNERS ASK FOR REFUNDS

Petitions Come Before Council From Taxpayers Who See No Improvements.

NO FOURTH EAST PAVING.

Protestants Defeat Proposed Extension—Public Service Company Gets Year in Which to Lay Mats.

More property owners came before the council last night seeking the refund of money paid by them to the "American" administration for improvements which have never materialized. As usual the amounts were referred to committees and they will recommend to the council next Monday that the refunds be ordered. The council will place the amounts on the appropriation lists and on the additior will come a letter explaining that the city's exchequer will not hold up under the heavy drain. Then again comes the question: Where does the taxpayer come in? The truth of the matter is that he doesn't come in at all. He has paid his special tax into the city treasury, believing that it would be placed to his credit and kept apart from other public moneys and held in reserve for use for his lawful purpose. But he is not the "American" way of doing things. Frank Swenson has a way of his own in the keeping of the city's books and back of his is the auditor's office. The taxpayer is still waiting for his sidewalk or sewer. His money is tied up or spent—and he will have to be patient—that is his only remedy.

BRANFORD WOULD AID COURT.

Unlike his predecessor in office, Mayor Branford proposes to give aid to the juvenile court. In a letter to the council last night he indicated his desire to appoint two probation officers. His letter is in the hands of the finance committee and the committee on municipal law.

Fred Gulbransen, the fireman who was so seriously injured while on duty the night of Oct. 19, 1906—the night of the memorable windstorm of a year ago—asked the council to provide some permanent relief for him, either in the nature of a pension or a permanent position. The committee is with the fireman's committee.

Permisson, under the supervision of the streets committee and the city engineer, was granted to the Oregon Short Line railway company to build watch towers along its tracks at street crossings.

Protestants, according to their figures, have defeated the paving of Fourth East street from South Temple street to Third South. The protestants' figures are being checked by the city engineer.

Shewalks on both side of Pierpont street from West Temple to First West were ordered by the council.

The extension of one year asked by the Salt Lake Public Service company in which to complete their four miles of heating mains was granted. The extension gives them until Oct. 1, 1908, to complete the work.

C. A. Middleton has been appointed special policeman for the Salt Lake Auditorium company. John W. Reed received appointment on the request of the O. S. L. Railway company.

The council conferred an appointment of J. H. Paul as engineer in the fire department to succeed James Kennedy, resigned, and that of Dan Keith to fill vacancy.

W. R. Weston is asking $150 from the city, claimed to be the value of a horse killed because of injuries received in a fall through Jordan bridge. The claim is with the claims committee.

ADOPT KELSEY'S MEMORIAL. Engineer Kelsey's memorial to the secretary of agriculture asking for money to be placed in Bailey Park was adopted and will be sent to Washington.

The board of public works has been ordered to proceed with the sewer extensions in the district bounded on the north by Fifth South street, on the west by the gravelly sewer, on the east by Ninth East and on the south by Ninth South. The cost of the work will be $5,500, the job being $2,155 per linear foot. The old ordinance providing for this work was repealed last night and a new one passed to conform to the provisions of the new law.

Heretofore the council will meet at 7:30 p. m. sharp each Monday, instead of at 8 o'clock.

FACULTY APPROVED. The council approved payrolls for the various departments amounting to $5,325.

J. J. Moran will receive $2,496.48 from the city treasury, and a certain amount covering the city's portion in paying extension No. 28.

A. R. Lunden, a property owner on the west side, by his attorney, entered a protest against the dumping of Jordan river as proposed by the Utah State Gun club. The matter rests with a council committee.

VOTING TIME APPROACHING. Residents of Goff street have been granted the privilege of laying a private water main from Polig to Dunn streets. These residents have been trying to get this privilege for a long time and the near approach of voting time operated to secure the permission with some unusual celerity.

"U" FACULTY MEETS. Dr. Kingsbury Given Leave of Absence To Attend National Meeting.

The board of regents of the University of Utah met in the directors' room of the Deseret National bank, for the purpose of considering the extension of the loans upon the campus of the university, and bids that had been previously advertised were considered today, and referred to the building committee.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—Reports from all the pieces of amusements in the city last night indicate that the fair and conference season has opened with a rush. The theater had a big turnout, though not a crowded one, to witness the advent of "The Vanderbilt Cup." It is perhaps fortunate that there will be such a big floating population to draw on this week, because if "The Vanderbilt Cup" depended on city patronage alone, it would very likely fall out with an unsatisfactory box office report. The company furnishes one more instance of an attraction organized for the road on the strength of a metropolitan reputation. It is very evident that it was Elsie Janis who made the name of "The Vanderbilt Cup" in New York. Its story is meaningless, its music trivial, and there is a general absence of brains in the entire composition that makes the program fatal to the average theatergoer. The dancing of the three girls, and the brief musical quartets form almost the only instances of anything out of the ordinary. The moving pictures have been so much better done here that they fell rather flat last night. The best work of the evening was done by that cute and hard working little girl, Miss Victoria, who and Elsie Janis' role, and who is said to have been her New York understudy. Her imitations were amusing, that of George Cohan being the best. The others in the cast rank about the fair to indifferent line.

Next week's attraction at the theater will be the new comic opera, "The Alaskan," a production which was staged by Max Planin in New York.

The seat sale for Madam Gladski next Monday evening opens at the Clayton Music company's store tomorrow morning.

Orpheum—An unusually large audience greeted the performers at the Orpheum last evening. The "first fighters" had the somewhat usual Monday night experience of seeing the acts rushed on to the stage as fast as the actors could be hurried from depots where they arrived very late. The advertised headliner, Julie Herne and company in "Between the Acts" was the last act, coming after miles of moving picture film had been run to entertain the waiting crowd. It was nearly 8 o'clock when the first act, "Thurber's Handkerchief," came on, but the bill was worth waiting for. Lew Hawkins, the "Chesterfield of Minstrelsy" came out in white face and "made good."

Mr. Hawkins is one of the best talkers and singers yet heard at the Orpheum. He was tip and tuck among several acts as to which really deserves the title of "headliner." Leon Thurber, with her four pickaninnies has an act that won more applause last night than any brought here this season. One little fellow brought the house down with his troubles with his wife and both and one of the little girls more than delighted with her antics, dancing and general "cuteness."

Miss Herne's little playlet, showing that there is something else in a woman's desire besides glory and glamour, is clever, and with the author's as an actress and supported by a fair company, it is cleverly played. Scott and Wilson has a turn that will delight this week's audiences. Their introduction of their spectators is novel and their comedy automatic work above the standard. The Balzers have a leaping turn that proved a surprise and treat. The "Hoopers" will show "A Man Hat On" and "Cupid's Pranks" on the bill, and a foreign egg-rowd during the week. The enlarged orchestra under Prof. Waibe has two pretty things in "Impassioned," a collection of Irish songs and a selection from "Carmen," by many this week's bill is conceded to be the best in many moons.

Grand—the selection of "The Holy City" as a conference week attraction at the Grand was a happy thought on the part of the management, and judged to be a success.

Coffee is a hidden but powerful enemy to one's progress in life. Its subtle, narcotic poison, weakens heart, interferes with digestion and has a definite and destructive effect on the nervous system. People who are content to load themselves with impediments to progress, who refuse to supply body with food and drink of the kind needed to make up for the daily disintegration of nerve and brain tissue, must stand aside in the race for pre-eminence.

The ones who are properly fed, will surely win the laurels. Postum furnishes the gluten and phosphates of grain needed by Nature to nourish brain and nerves with food. When made right, that is, boiled 15 minutes after boiling begins, it has a delicious taste similar to the mild, high-grade Java, but with none of the bad effects of coffee.

There are those who are entirely careless as to what goes into the stomach, but the one who would make all his movements tend towards health and possible greatness can know by a personal test.
