JOCULARITIES.

A well meaning but dolorous clergyman, who disfigured his countenance and wore a face of perpetual mourning, once visited the sick-room of a worldly friend. As his sad visage appeared in the doorway the sick man started up and exclaimed, "Why, what is the matter? You look as if your religion didnt agree with you."

Scene in Chemistry-Student attempting to recite, but wanders strangely from the subject. Professor interrupts and gives a long and lucid explanation. Student listens attentively, and at its close, throwing his head back in the direction of the phrenological organ of self-esteem, modestly replies, "Yes, sir; yes sir; you get my idea."

A Scottish minister being one day engaged in visiting some members of his flock, came to the door of a house where his gentle tapping could not be heard for the noise of the contention within. After waiting a little he opened the door and walked in, saying, with an author- received. itative voice. "I should like to know who is the head of this house." "Weel, sir," said the hus- Periodicals:-The standard single band and father, "if ye sit down a wee we'll maybe be able to tell ye, for we're just trying to settle that point."

THE BEECHER CASE IN A NUT-SHELL.-Dr. Storrs states the Beecher case in the following clear and compact words; "Look at the case tself. It is no insignificant case: Is it not one of the most startling, tremendous, which have occurred in ecclesiastical history? Here is a man of brilliant and popular powers, widely known and widely welcome in the lecture room and on the political platform, wielding large ineditor of one of the leading religious newspapers, for seventeen years a member of his church, converted under the ministry of the pastor of that church, active and prominent and enthusiastic in the belief, once superintendent of its Sunday school. Suddenly he ceases attending, living in the city, passing it INTERNATIONAL MONEY ORDERS on Great every day, never crossing its threshold. Rumors arise, attributed to him; scandalous allegations concerning the pastor of the church. He is brought up before the church itself, the committee of the church, and then the church, and he himself appears in the assembly, in what looks like anything but a mood of repentance or confession, but what seems to be a mood of defiance, and is as tenderly sent out, so far as appears to us, as if he had been the Israelite in whom there was no guile."

THE GRAVE OF GENERAL AL-BERT SIDNEY JOHNSTON. -- We have lately conversed with a gentleman who has recently returned from a visit to the city of Austin, in the State of Texas, who tells us how mortified and grieved were his thoughts and feelings in visiting the grave of Albert Sidney Johnston, who deservedly ranks in the highest roll of military heroes.
