

ADMIRAL EVANS WARMLY GREETED

His Arrival Friday Followed by Many Events Saturday
And Sunday.

HIS TALK WELL RECEIVED.

Sitting on Rostrum at Tabernacle He Tells of Historic Cruise from Hampton Roads to the Pacific.

Admiral Robley D. Evans was the guest of honor yesterday afternoon at a reception at the residence of Col. Walter S. Scott at the Pittsburgh United States Infantry at Fort Douglas, and later in the evening was escorted to the station where he took the train for the west. The reception while brilliant, was informal and proved a fitting compliment to the visit of the old sea fighter to Salt Lake City.

Among the invited guests at the reception were Col. and Mrs. Wilford Young, Capt. and Mrs. Joseph L. Collier, W. J. Halloran, president of the Commercial club, Charles L. Burton, vice president, Elmer Harris, secretary, and former Gov. Robert M. Wells.

The admiral seemed to have thoroughly enjoyed his visit to this city.
He will arrive in San Francisco some time tonight and will there deliver his lecture on the famous cruise to Spain and Tripoli.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The review of the high school students by Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans on Saturday afternoon was very successful from every point of view. There were 110 cadets in parade, and in addition to many prominent people of the city, there was a large crowd of the general public.

Admiral Evans arrived at the high school at 3 o'clock and was formally received by Governor William R. Spencer, Colonel Walter Scott of the Fifteenth regiment, United States army, Major John S. Bradford, President William Halloran of the Commercial club, General B. A. Wedgewood of the national guard of Utah and the members of the military staff. Governor Spencer, Colonel Scott and General Wedgewood from the high school building the admiral was taken to the parade ground in an automobile, and as soon as he appeared a great ovation was given him by several thousand people who were present. On the way across to the grounds General Wedgewood and the military staff of the governor acted as an escort in company with the commanding officer of Fort Douglas and staff officers.

An admiral's salute of 19 guns was given as the admiral neared the parade grounds, and as the automobile, in which were seated Governor Spencer, Colonel Scott, Mayor Bradford and W. J. Halloran, came to a stop in front of the cadets they came to attention and the automobile was then driven in review past the line of cadets, after which the admiral was taken to his place on the parade grounds. The battalion marched past, and afterwards executed some difficult maneuvers, which ended with the execution of the order, "Continue the movement," by which the battalion was instructed to march the entire manual of arms without waiting for the separate commands.

This was followed by the retreat parade. The admiral fired the sunset salute to the colors, and as the color squad lowered the flag, the band played "The Star Spangled Banner." The cadets then passed once more in review before the admiral.

The exhibition is said to have greatly pleased the veteran and he graciously accepted a large framed picture of the battalion, which was presented after the review had been completed.

LECTURE AT TABERNACLE.

Before an audience estimated at 5,000 people, Admiral Evans delivered his famous lecture in the tabernacle Saturday night on "The Trip of the Atlantic Battleship Fleet from Hampton Roads to San Francisco." The lecture was attended by the largest audience ever listened to with the keenest interest and the sentiments of the great sea fighter were enthusiastically applauded by the audience. The keynote of the lecture was that the navy of the United States is too small and that the best way to keep the peace is to be prepared for war.

Admiral Evans delivered his lecture sitting, and explained to the audience that he carried with him many souvenirs of the Civil war which refused to allow him to do as he pleased. With the sea-dog on the stand were Gov.
Spencer, Mayor Bradford, members of the governor's staff, Col. F. M. Stierck, executive director of the forty-third national encampment of the G. A. R., and Fisher Harris, secretary of the Commercial club. Gov. Spencer introduced Admiral Evans, saying he was not a native son of Utah, but a Utah boy by adoption.

As a preface to his lecture, Admiral Evans told of his three-year command of the North Atlantic fleet, composed of eight ships, and of the orders received by him to proceed to Fort Munro for the Jamez exposition.
There he found 13 naval battleships which were assigned to his fleet, making 16 in all.

ORDERS FOR CRUISE.

When the newspapers announced that the Atlantic fleet was to go on a tour of the world, which announcement was made before Admiral Evans had a conference with President Roosevelt, the whole fleet was naturally much elated.
When the old sea fighter was appointed to Oyster Bay and informed that he was to command the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific, with the sailing month from the president, "I was glad to understand that this is a perfectly beautiful cruise." He replied, "Yes, yes, yes."
"I didn't care whether it was or not."

liness, features of our foun-ment's notice.

I had been told what I was to do and the result of it.

Admiral Evans gave a vivid word picture of the trip of the fleet from Hampton Roads to Trinidad, St. Vincent and Margarita Bay. The admiral, at Man-zanilla, was as near as sight of the admiral telegraphed Washington to that effect, and that the ships were in better condition than they were in Hampton Roads.

From the arrival of the fleet at Margarita Bay target practice was had and it was found that the hitting power of the fleet had increased 50 per cent since leaving New England.

THOMAS IN COMMAND.

From Margarita Bay the fleet, under command of Admiral Thomas, visited San Diego, Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, and later at Monterey was joined by Admiral Evans. He had received the governor of California that the fleet would arrive at San Francisco at 12 o'clock noon, May 18, and in accordance with this word given months before the ships anchored in San Francisco bay just before noon on that date.

As they passed through the gate they were astounded to hear a salute of 21 guns fired. They replied but did not know what next day what had caused it.
Colonel Funtun was commanding the fort, and he is said to have explained as the Connecticut hose (city sight): "Be jittered if I don't see 21 guns, and I don't care if they make me pay for all the powder."

NEED FOR MORE SHIPS.

In concluding his lecture Admiral Evans said: "There was one lesson taught us as a result of that magnificent cruise of the battleship fleet. We have not today enough ships in our navy. We cannot defend the Pacific coast with our ships in the Atlantic, and we must have additional ships as soon as possible. The millennium has not come as yet and until it does we must be prepared to knock the other fellow at any moment instead of being knocked ourselves. I hope for peace, and when the time comes I shall favor disarmament, but this time has not yet come. We must, therefore, get busy and build a Pacific fleet. But we will keep peace even if we have to fight for it."

GOVERNOR NAMES SIX OFFICIALS

Chambers Reappointed Fish and Game Commissioner—Squires Insurance Head.

SHARP FOR A. C. U. TRUSTEE.

Walsh for Industrial School, Dern on Agricultural College Board and Williams on Food Bureau.

Gov. William R. Spencer made several appointments late Saturday night before he left for Seattle, where he went to attend to some business in connection with the Utah building at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. The appointments were turned over to Secy. of State Charles S. Tingey and their bonds will be filed in a day or two.
The appointments follow:

Fred W. Chambers, state fish and game commissioner.

John Walsh of Farmington, trustee State Industrial school.
Col. George B. Squires of Salt Lake City, state insurance commissioner.

John Dern and John C. Sharp of Salt Lake City, trustees of agricultural college.

T. A. Williams of Salt Lake City, member of state food and dairy bureau.
The selections of Chambers and Walsh are reappointments. The former refusing to confirm them, Col.
Squires' appointment was not a surprise, although Col. B. Mann was considered a strong applicant for the position. This is an important appointment, as the insurance commissioner has general supervision over the insurance companies doing business in the state.

Sharp was appointed to the state food and dairy commission, but was withdrawn and appointed as a trustee of the Agricultural college, which is considered a more important position.
Mr. Williams was appointed to take his place and will represent the consumers.

This leaves only the board for the adult blind, the conservation commission and the state veterinarian to be appointed. The board for adult blind, and the conservation commission, consists of three members each.

Itching, bleeding, protruding or blind piles yield to Don's Ointment. Chronic cases soon relieved. Really cured.

AMUSEMENTS

Theater—In Madame Nazimova's road organization for the tour that she is now making will be found most of the players who made her company notable during its two years' engagement in New York. This organization numbers 20 odd acting people and a stage crew of five men. Three cars of scenery are carried. Although none of the Russian players require a cast of more than eight players, special people are carried to appear in only one of the five plays. The performances will be entirely in English. Madame Nazimova will appear at the Salt Lake Theater tonight in "A Doll's House."

Orpheum—A bill designed to make a hit with conference visitors and regular patrons alike is being presented at the Orpheum this week with a prize fight playlet as the headliner.

Colonial—Arthur Cunningham in "Kerry Lee," the human interest Irish play with musical trimmings, goes all this week at the Colonial with matinees Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday.

Bungalow—Musical comedy holds the boards at the Bungalow this week in the form of Lewis & Lake's "One Thousand Dollar Beauty."

Grand—"The Runaway Tramp," with specialties between acts, goes all this week at the Grand with the regular matinees.

Lyrle—Saxton, the strong man, and some good motion pictures constitute the strongest bill yet offered at the Lyrle. There will be daily matinees this week.

NO OTHER SHORTAGE SHOWN.

After examining all the reports of the tax lists of 1908 and the inheritance tax made by the various county treasurers, State Auditor Jesse D. Jewkes and Albert Glaizer, state bank examiner, stated yesterday that they did not discover further shortage in the accounts of James Christensen, former state treasurer, who confessed to embezzling $10,000, and is now out on bonds awaiting trial. A deputy auditor will be sent out in May on a circuit trip to audit the books on other accounts, but nothing startling is expected to develop.

WEEKLY HEALTH REPORT.

Sixty-two births were recorded during the week by the city board of health.
There were 32 males and 30 females.
During the same period there were 25 deaths, 16 males and 9 females. Five bodies were shipped here for burial.
There were 41 cases of contagious disease also reported. They consisted of 6 cases of smallpox, 10 cases of scarlet fever, 3 cases of diphtheria, 2

MURDEROUS AFFRAY.

Nightwatchman John Terraces, a Greek, Set Upon and Stabbed.

Bingham Junction, April 5.—About half past seven last night John Terraces, a Greek nightwatchman at the American Smelting & Refining company's works, was killed by a band of 10 or 12 of his countrymen and badly beaten and stabbed by them. It is supposed the trouble is due to the old time religious feud among the Greeks here. Two of the Greeks were arrested, but the others managed to escape and are supposed to have made their way to Salt Lake City.
Deputy Sheriff Redington, Coyles and Butler responded to the call for help sent in from the smelter, but did not arrive here until the trouble had been settled and the men dispersed. Terraces was found to have been stabbed in the shoulder, just under the neck, and while his wounds were being dressed by a local physician, the dentists searched all the houses here where Greeks reside.
Two were found and looked up, both admitting their guilt in the affray.
