

NOW POSTMASTER GENERAL ROBERT J. WYNNE

SELZ

Block signalman (who was killed) started train station, as beginning of trip, without order from conductor and without going to dispatcher's office for orders, as required by rule. Conductor being in the office at the time was left behind.

travels around the globe. The "train mile average" for each passenger killed is nearly 30 times as great. But any such comparison really befores the issue, since it is the total of dangers that beset us that make up the risk of life. The average liability of dying from the most fatal diseases is very small, and yet that may with propriety be made a subject of public alarm. It is the total of dangers like the total of taxes that counts. Furthermore, it is little comfort to the family whose loved one home here killed by a railroad.

The minister was a good man, a sincere man, a really eloquent man; but he had contracted somewhat an unfortunate habit of bellowing. He belched like a bull. His voice shook the rafters. The sound overwhelmed the sense, and it was often impossible, for very noise, to get at the man's meaning.

A Severe Cold for Three Months.

The following letter from A. J. Nussbaum, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried Foley's Honey and Tar, and eight doses cured me."
