Many a long year ago, three or four regiments of Russian soldiers were encamped on a flat, sandy plain upon the shore of the Gulf of Finland, not far from a new town which had just been built at the mouth of the river Neva, and called St. Petersburg. The sun was beginning to set, and the men having finished their marching and ex-centions were baving a vest after the laint. The women get about, and the machinery of the house goes on. Beyond this, those coarse grained animals whom New England women call " the g, were having a rest after the men folks," seldom look, So long as their wives or daughters are not actually in bed, ercising, were having a rest after the day's work, or beginning to get their supper ready. Most of them were strong and sturdy fellows, who looked as if they could stand a good deal of hard work, and hard fighting too, be-fore giving in. But they certainly did not wear a very soldier-like appear-ance, for all that; they moved heavily and clumsily, and handled their mus-kets as if they had been more used to plows and spades than weapons of war. under the doctor's care, the average thickkinned husband and father gives the subject no attention. The liltle ones beg for it continually, and if it is not given to them they oftimes steal it. I saw a babe only six months old leave its mothers breast and cay for the "swab," which it sucked with great satisfaction. To a person reared in this country this looks incredible, yet these circumstances are only every day occurences there. Awkward though they seemed, how-ever, these very men were to be able, only a few years later, to give King Charles of Sweden (who was then thought to be the best soldier alive) such a beating that neither he nor his army ever meddled with Russia again. But as they were now, they made a poor figure enough; and so, no doubt, thought a big red-halred man in Russian uniform, who, with his arms folded on his broad chest, and a scorn-ful smile on his face, was watching half a dozen of them light a fire. these circumstances are only every day occurrences there. Among the Southern people absten-ence is not considered a virtue. All the young people were surprised that Utah girls did not "dip." A company of ladies once informed me that they would not marry a man who did not use 'tobacco, for such a persons' breath smelt like that of a sucking call. Silesian, flercely; "and a mighty hard job it is." The recruit muttered something be-tween his teeth, but did not venture to make any direct reply; for this Sile-sian, Michael Kratsch, was a noted bully, and the strongest man in the regiment, and any one who tried to argue with him generally ended by getting a broken head for his pains. While Kratsch was still fuming at finding no one to vent his anger upon, a little drummer-boy, coming past with a can of water much too heavy for his thin arms, stumbled against him by accident. Like lightning, Big Michael faced round, and dealt the poor little fellow a kick which sent him to the ground, screaming with pain, and causing him to spill every drop of the precious water that had caused so much tronble to bring. An angry mumer ran through the group of Russians, and the Silesian turned savagely upon them, exclaiming: "White the new communic at down?" A few days ago two men, who were afterward found to be Detroiters, ar-rived in a town about fifty miles to the west of this place, leading a pig It was perhaps big enough and heavy enough to be called a hog, but they termed it a pig, and, as they turned it over to the care of the landlord at whose inn they proposed to rest for over to the care of the landlord at whose inn they proposed to rest for the night, one of the men explained: "Be awful careful with that pig. He's a daisy—a new breed just from Scotland. We've sold nim to a farmer out here for $50, and we don't want anything to happen to him." The landlord locked the pig up and then began to think and cogitate and suspect. When the strangers had gone of Russians, and the Silesian turned savagely upon them, exclaiming: "What are you growling at, dogs? If you have anything to say to me, say it out. You ought to know by this time, that one honest Silesian is a match for half a dozen such as you?" "Are you quite sure of that?" asked a deep voice behind him. Every one looked round with a start, for nobody had noticed a soldier standing nest the groud, and listening to the Silesian's boastiul talk with a smile. The new-comer picked up the little drammer-boy very tenderly, refilied his can from a bucket that stood near, and sent him away rejoicing. Then he came slowly up to the tall Silesian, and looked him full in the face. Kratsce eyed the stranger from head to foot, and did not altogether like the look of him. His drees was nothing to bed he called in some of the boys and said: "I've twigged the racket. Them two fellows are sharpers, and that's a guessing pig. To-morrow they will give you a chance to guess at his weight at 10 cents a guess, and you'll be cleaned out—only you won't. As the fellows sleep we will weigh their pig and beat their game." I lately traveled over two years among the people of the Southern States, and in all that time I cau only remember of about a dozen women who did not use tobacco. They gener-ally take it in the form of snuff, though many chew and smoke. In using snuff they get a black gum twig and chew it into a little brush and then cip it into the snuff and chew the brush This pro-cess is called "dipping." A regular" dip-per" is seldom seen without her brush in her mouth, and it is quite fashionable to have pictures taken in this way. Even while victuals are being prepared the "swab" is used, and many only take it out of their mouth while they are eating or sleeping. But it is out of they as they can be, but others are as filthy as any tobacco women you "There she blows!" exclaimed the old sea captain, as he approached his pretty cottage on the saore and heard his wife lawing the hired girl.-Burlngton Free Press.

A lawyer said about twenty would do for him. Before there was any let up in the guessing about 600 had been registered and paid for. Every soul of 'em guessed 170 pounds. It was curious what unanimity there was in the guessing, but the pig man did not seem to notice it. When all had been given a chance the pig was led to the scales, and lo! his weight was ex-actly 174 pounds. "You see, gentlemen," exclaimed the spokeman, "while this animal only weighs 170 pounds along about 11 o'clock at night we feed him about five pounds of cornmeal in the morngrowi. "Well," said Greencoat, quietly, "we Russians have s saying that corn dosen't grow by talking. has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least tet. years; but it did not show, except in the form if a serofulous sore on the wrist, until about ive years ago. From a few spots which ap-peared at that time, is gradually spread so as so cover his entire body. I assure you he was erribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when is begin using your modicing. Now, there are not begin using your modicing. Now, there are not men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case. Yours truly, W. M. PERLEIPS." of a serofulous sore on the wrist, until about

FROM THE FATHER : "It is both a duty for me to state to you the benefit I are derired from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with terrible humor and scrothous sores. The inner caused an incessant and intelerable oblig, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many phoes whenever i woved. My sufferings were great, and my fe a burden. I commanced the use of the sansar antita is April last, and have used the sherden. I commanced the use of the sansar antita is April last, and have used the sherden. I commanced the use of the sansar antita is April last, and have used the sherden is cover. The sores have the sherden is for the sores have the sherden as I have here tried to tell you at the sansar antita. Glover, Vie, Oot 1, 1832. HEAR PHILIPS."
