DEPUTY SHERIFF CLARK KILLED

Meets Highwayman Near Uintah And Shot Five Times, Dying Instantly.

TWO OTHERS ALSO WOUNDED

Murderer Still at Large—Posses Scouring the Country in Pursuit and Expect to Capture Him.

Ogden, Nov. 28.—Last night near Uintah station, about five miles east of Ogden, Deputy Sheriff Seymour L. Clark of Weber county, was shot and almost instantly killed by a highwayman. Deputy Sheriff John J. Murphy, also an Italian named Bertolotti Battista, who was with the officers, were also shot and slightly wounded.

Up to noon today no trace of the murderers had been found, though posses from Ogden and the surrounding country, together with most of the members of the Ogden police force and the sheriff's staff, are searching for the desperado in the surrounding Uintah.

The Weber county commissioners will probably offer a reward for the capture of the desperado, and an appeal will also be made to Governor Cutler to have the state offer a reward for his apprehension.

Preying is pretty high in Ogden among all classes, and it caught the murderer by the throat. He is expected to be lucky if he escapes lynching.

Many posses left Ogden this morning to relieve those who went out all last night in the cold and snow in the hunt for the murderer.

PARTICULARS OF THE MURDER.

A call had been sent to the sheriff's office early in the evening from the residence of Timothy Kendall, near Uintah, to come and get an Italian who was ill, who had wandered into the barn at Kendall's and collapsed.

Officers Clark and Murphy went up after the Italian named above, and were returning to Ogden with the sick man in the buggy with them. They were driving by the Uintah depot when they noticed some boxes beside the road. These afterward proved to be several cases of shoes stolen from a box car. The officers stopped their team and saw that there was a man beside the boxes. Deputy Sheriff Clark asked:

"What have you been doing?"

The man cursed and said, "Go on."

At that Deputy Sheriff Clark got out of the rig and approached the man. In the dusk the glint of a revolver in the hand of the man could be distinguished.

The deputy sheriff asked him what he had in his hand and for a reply the man fired five times, each bullet striking Clark. As the deputy sheriff fell he groaned, "John, I'm dying."

These were his last words, as death came almost instantly.

At the reports of the gun, the horses started to run away, throwing both Murphy and the sick man out in the snow. The murderer kept on firing, one bullet striking Deputy Sheriff Murphy in the left hand, cutting two fingers, and two more striking the sick man in the left arm and hand. By that time Officer Murphy had reached his revolver and opened fire on the robber, who was then running west along the road. Evidently none of Murphy's shots struck the man.

The firing aroused the people of Uintah and soon the wounded men were being cared for. The runaway horses were caught several hours later a short distance west of Uintah.

As soon as the Ogden police were notified by telephone of the murder, posses of policemen, deputy sheriffs and citizens drove to Uintah and began

MARTHA SOCIETY INCORPORATES.

Within a few days the Martha Society will file articles of incorporation with the secretary of state and Ogden's big charitable organization will become permanent factor in caring for the destitute and needy of the city.

The Ogden Charitable Society was organized Feb. 20, 1908, at the residence of late Mrs. Frank J. Cannon. After the death of its founder, the society's name was changed to Martha in honor of Mrs. Cannon. The society also assumed the obligations of granddaddy, an annual custom originated by Mrs. Cannon. For several years Mrs. Cannon would entertain about 50 or 75 of the oldest ladies of the city at her home, providing carriages for their transportation.

It is the purpose of the society upon the completion of the incorporation to erect cottages for the care of unfortunate women and families who are deserving of charitable assistance.

The officers who will be named in the incorporation are: Mrs. T. S. Fitzgerald, president; Mrs. H. H. Spencer, first vice president; Mrs. A. E. Kuhn, second vice president; Mrs. E. A. Littlefield, secretary; Mrs. A. P. Bigelow, treasurer; Mrs. E. M. Conroy, corresponding secretary. The directors are: Mrs. J. S. Lewis, Mrs. A. P. Hibbs, Mrs. P. Healy, Mrs. M. Armstrong, Mrs. G. L. Becker, Mrs. Ad Kuhn, Mrs. E. W. Mattson, Mrs. Adam Patterson, Mrs. I. L. Reynolds, Mrs. J. H. Spargo, Mrs. Joseph Scofield, Mrs. M. S. Browning, Mrs. D. Eccles, Mrs. N. Eccles, Mrs. R. T. Hume, Mrs. H. C. Bigelow, Mrs. T. Dee, Mrs. As S. Condon and Mrs. Fred J. Kiesel.

BEET CROP CONDITIONS.

The recent storm accompanied by the present cold wave has not effected the beet sugar industry in the manner that it was first thought it would. While the storm to a certain extent put the roads in terrible condition the cold snap has frozen the roads so that hauling can be continued. Although the roads are somewhat heavy deliveries are being made. At the factory there are about 25,000 tons of beets on hand and more arriving daily.

In all districts except two in Weber county the beets have been dug and are ready for delivery to the factory. In the two districts there are several farmers who have not dug the beets, but before the beet has an opportunity to thaw the growers will get the product to the market. In the districts where the beets have been dug and left piled in the field they have been covered with straw and the farmers are taking every precaution necessary to protect the crop. Some apprehension is felt by the officials of the Amalgamated Sugar company as well as the farmers as to whether the crop can be preserved before more snow and colder weather comes.

BIG HOSPITAL FOR OGDEN.

Rumors are heard daily in business circles that a number of the physicians of the city are contemplating the erection of a large and modern hospital in the southern part of the city on or near the Washington avenue car line. The new building is to cost $75,000, and for which it is stated plans are being prepared with a view to the place of other hospital which is run by the physicians who leased it from the city. Since the city made known its intention to sell the property the boundaries have been working quietly upon a proposition for a new hospital.

The Valley View Co.'s Property, One of Salt Lake's Coming Residence Sites

THE incorporation of "The Valley View" company during the week, by Geo. T. Odell, Spencer Clawson and their associates, indicates the faith Salt Laker have in the surrounding bench lands and hill slopes as future residence sites. This property comprises 160 acres of the slopes north east of the city, and begins at the corner of Thirteenth avenue and H street, two blocks north of the boulevard. This is the point shown in the accompanying picture, where the post is planted. The lines on the picture show the boundaries of the property. The owners propose to replot the property, and put all the lots available on the market, as the city water mains are already laid along Thirteenth Avenue, and as the street railway will soon be running on North Avenue, it is thought the lots will have a ready sale at the reasonable prices placed upon them. It is also proposed to gradually level down the hills, and in so doing the company will handle the vast amount of sand, gravel and broken stone which abounds there, and go into the manufacture of cement and other building material. The sand beds especially have been handled at a profit for years past by teamsters and contractors.

This entire tract of 160 acres was bought by Denver parties during the boom days of 1894, when a steep price was paid for it. It has been held all these years by the owners, who, tending to develop it, but lately, through the death of some of the parties and financial complications which surrounded the tract came upon the market at what Messrs. Odell and Clawson regarded as a bargain, and they secured it, forming the new "Valley View Co." with Mr. Odell as president, W. B. Andrew, vice president, Spencer Clawson, secretary and Curtis V. Clawson, treasurer; these gentlemen, with John D. Spencer, H. G. Whitney and Spencer Clawson, Jr., form the board of directors.

The enormous increase in the value of "high line" property, the growing popularity of the benches as residence sites, and the vast quantities of building material this property will yield, all cause the owners of "Valley View" to feel sanguine of the future of their property.
