

BRYAN COMPLAINS OF ROOSEVELT President Not Giving Him Square Deal, Using Federal Office Holders as Republican Asset.

MR. TAFT AND HIS PLATFORM. Assents He is Ashamed of it and Hasn't Courage to Come Out "On Our Platform."

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 25.—Addressing two monster gatherings here today, W. J. Bryan, Democratic candidate for president, reiterated his charge that President Roosevelt was not giving him a square deal, but that the president was using federal officeholders as a Republican asset.

His principal remarks were made at the baseball park, where he denounced the Republicans for their policies, and pleaded with the people to stand together and elect the state and national Democratic tickets.

The second address was made tonight from the courthouse steps. Mr. Bryan, in the course of his remarks on the labor question, the trusts, the tariff and publicity of campaign contributions, injected a new feature. He conducted an imaginary cross-examination of Mr. Taft on the issues of the campaign, in which he placed Mr. Taft in the attitude of finally admitting, after a good deal of pressure, that the Republican platform was all wrong and unsatisfactory to him, and that the Democratic platform was right.

He mentioned the American Tobacco company, the National Biscuit company and the so-called starch trust. He dwelt at length upon the power of the corporations to control a campaign.

"A small amount of their profits," he declared, "will menace any campaign, and it is what leads to the corruption of elections and the corruption of official life. How, therefore, can you expect to control a monopoly that purchases from the party in power the right to continue?"

Mr. Taft's speech yesterday, in which he is quoted as saying that he promised genuine tariff revision, was made the subject of ridicule. "Now," he said, "we have three promises—unequivocal, immediate and genuine. I suppose the other revisions have not been genuine. They have been shams, they have been frauds, but here is the genuine one with the brand blown in the bottle."

The Democratic candidate arrived here shortly before 4 o'clock, and received a hearty welcome. At the station and the hotel the crowds cheered him lustily. Because of the fact that there were but two stops between Cincinnati and this city, Mr. Bryan was called upon to make but two speeches, and these were at Shelbyville and Indianapolis, where he spoke briefly in behalf of the Democratic state ticket. In consequence, he was in splendid voice this afternoon and tonight, and could be heard distinctly far back from where he was speaking.

BRYAN VERY CONFIDENT. Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25.—William J. Bryan made a brief stop here on his way en route to Terre Haute. Aboard his car on his journey from Cincinnati, the Democratic candidate expressed himself as greatly pleased with his reception in Ohio. The news that greeted him and the enthusiasm shown, he said, exceeded anything he had before experienced in his campaigns in Ohio. Asked by one of his friends how he was standing his trip, he said: "I never felt better in my life."

The only speech between here and Cincinnati was at Shelbyville, where he paid a tribute to the late Thomas P. Hendricks, whom he said he had always considered one of Democracy's friends.

Mr. Bryan had not undertaken the preparation of his reply to President Roosevelt's letter, and it is not likely he will do so for a day or two. A crowd was awaiting the train at the station here, and greeted Mr. Bryan with cheers when he appeared on the platform of his car. He spoke for five minutes, urging support of the Democratic state ticket as well as the national ticket, and predicted victory for the party.

"We have the Republicans on the run," he said. "They are running hard. Taft has undertaken to revise the Republican platform. It was bad enough before he began, what will it be when he is through with it? The Republican platform contains two significant words, 'immediately' and 'unequivocally.' Taft has inserted another word that did not appear in the platform. It is 'genuinely.' He says the Republicans will revise the tariff, immediately, unequivocally and genuinely. Heretofore the tariff has not been genuine. It has been a sham. But now they say they are going to give you the real article."

"Will about Haskell?" shouted someone in the crowd. Mr. Bryan turned to the direction of the voice and answered: "When you get through with this matter you will not need to ask the question."

The crowd laughed and cheered, and then Mr. Bryan continued to the speaker. "You had better look after your Republicans and not bother about the Democrats."

Manila, Sept. 26.—It is under stood that the case of T. Coleman Dupont of Delaware, announcement of whose resignation as director of the speakers' bureau of the Republican national committee was made today, was discussed at today's cabinet meeting. It was said the president wrote a letter to Chairman Frank H. Hitchcock, suggesting that Mr. Dupont's connection with the so-called powder trust made him unsuitable for official connection with the committee, but Secy. Loeb tonight declined to either affirm or deny the report, saying that there was nothing to say on this point. Mr. Dupont is the head of the company sued in the courts by the department of justice for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

DUPONT TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

Unwilling, No Matter How False Criticisms Are, to Bring Odium on His Party.

STILL A LOYAL SUPPORTER. Was Chairman of Republican Speakers' Bureau—As Yet no Successor Has Been Selected.

New York, Sept. 25.—Following many rumors on the subject which were abroad here today and in Washington, Chairman Hitchcock of the Republican national committee announced that Gen. T. Coleman Dupont of Delaware, head of the bureau of ex-minister speakers of the national committee, had resigned as head of that bureau, and also resigned as head of the executive committee on the national committee, and that his resignation had been accepted.

Mr. Dupont's letter of resignation was made public tonight. It is as follows: "Sept. 22, 1908. 'Hon. Frank H. Hitchcock, Chairman Republican National Committee, N. Y. City. 'Dear Mr. Hitchcock—Recently I have noticed various criticisms of my being the director of the speakers' bureau, and a member of the executive committee, on account of my relation to the E. I. Dupont de Nemours Powder company, which is being used by the government. The merits of that suit will be determined in due course of judicial procedure. I have always been a loyal supporter of the Republican party, both state and national, and I am not willing to be in any wise the means of bringing odium on the party, however unfounded I may deem such criticisms to be. I therefore respectfully tender my resignation as a member of the executive committee, and as a director of the speakers' bureau, and fully appreciating the great courtesy which I have uniformly received at the hands of yourself and my other associates."

HITCHCOCK'S EXPLANATION. New York, Sept. 25.—In an elaboration of the announcement, Chairman Hitchcock said today that Gen. Dupont's resignation as a member of the executive committee and as director of the speakers' bureau, and indirectly as the chairman of the national committee, was made today, and that he had a personal conference concerning the matter, in which he insisted upon the acceptance of his resignation. He said that the purpose of the suit by the government against the powder company with which he is connected might be employed by our opponents to the injury of the campaign to which he is so earnestly devoted. His resignation, therefore, has been accepted.

Chairman Hitchcock said no successor to Mr. Dupont had yet been selected, but that action in this matter would follow soon. No one had been suggested for the place. Mr. Hitchcock said he had no one in mind. When asked if President Roosevelt and Mr. Taft had not objected to Mr. Dupont at the time of his appointment, Chairman Hitchcock replied indirectly that the chairman of the national committee always made such appointments, and in this case he (Mr. Hitchcock) assumed all responsibility for the campaign so far, adding that the plans now being worked out were for the most part, such as had been originally made, those plans having met with general approval. From now on the campaign, according to Chairman Hitchcock, is to be aggressive along the whole line. Reports received by him while he was in Chicago were most encouraging, he said, the reports including advice from every campaign manager in the west.

THROAT BADLY CUT. Great Falls, Mont., Sept. 25.—A special to the Tribune from Glasgow, Mont., says that John R. Johnson, one of the defendants in the sensational murder case involving 16 citizens of Culbertson, accused of murdering John Hayes, who had jumped a claim, and his daughter, was found in jail this morning with his throat badly cut. He was to be a witness for the state and attempted suicide is suspected. It is believed he will recover and the case was adjourned to await the results of his injuries. Evidence so far shows that a mob surrounded Hayes' cabin and fired into it, first hitting his 16-year-old daughter and then Hayes, so that Walter Long, now on trial, was the ring leader of the midnight assassins.
