Later in the day the navy depart-ment received a dispatch which ap-peared to explain Lee's statement that Nicaraguan forces had appeared on the north coast of Honduras. This dispatch, from Capt. Winterhalter of the gunboat Paducah, said that the Nicaraguan transport Omuete had ar-rived at Puerto Cortez and had taken aboard Nicaraguan soldiers who have been occupying the northern coast of Honduras since the establishment of the provisional government. The presence of the transport at first caus-ed consternation among Hondurans, who were under the impression that a fresh consignment of Nicaraguan troops was about to land. Capt. Win-tenhalter indicated that affairs were again quiet. As a precautionary mea-sure, however, the gunboats Paducah and Dubuque will continue to patrol

Senor Barra, representing Mexico, in presenting at the sitting of June 22 an arbitration treaty among the Scuth American countries as a model of compulsory arbitration except for questions involving national dignity or vital interests, said that he hoped the work of concord among the young American republies would "enlarge the empire of iaw, fortifying the sen-timent of international justice." The Gorman proposition of June 22 adds three new articles to the con-vention of 1899. It establishes that if any two signatory powers are agreed to have a special treaty of arbitration they can have recourse to a permanont court at The Hague of five members, each party to the agreenent choosing one, and the re-maining three being chosen by three disinterested powers. France presented two propositions for the peaceful regulation of inter-national conflicts. The first says that in international disputes not engag-ing their honor or essential interests; the signatory powers may decide to appoint an international commission of inquiry, according to a conven-tion agreed on by the conflict par-ties. The German proposition for adapt-ing the Red Cross convention to naval warfare, which was presented June 24, says that hospital ships cannet be captured, not being considered as warships. Private hospital ships will enjoy the same treatment if author-ized by their own government and on condition that they are certified to the other belligerent. They must assist the wounded without distinction of nationality, and must never be employed for military purposes of in-terfere with military operations. They are subject to search and can be or-dered by either belligerent to take certain positions. All hospital ships must holst the Red Cross flag. The protection granted hospital ships ceases if they are employed against the enemy, but the crews of such ships may employ arms in their own defense and in defense of the patients. Paris, June 25.—The government is now apparently quite as much concerned about the insubordination manifested among troops as to the affittude of the wine-growers for, in spite of the efforts to min-imize, the new incidents showing the lack of discipline in the army are occurring daily. The government seems to have awakened to the necessity of dealing sternly with the demoralization engender-ed by the socialistic anti-military propa-gands, and the press comment is the de-cision of the government to exile the mutineers of the Seventeenth infantry will postpene indefinitely the bill providing for the abolition of courts maritual in time of mane.
