DESERET EVENING NEWS GEORGE O. CANNON. EDITOR AND PUBLISHER. April 6, 1868

OUR ENLARGED FORM.

We have much pleasure this evening in presenting to our subscribers the DES-BRET EVENING NEWS in an enlarged form. We have made it double its original size. For some time past the pressure upon our columns has been so heavy that we have greatly felt the need of more space; but at the risk of endangering, in the minds of our patrons, the popularity and character of the paper for a short space, we deemed it better to defer enlarging until to-day, the SIXTH OF APRIL. This is a memorable day; it is the anniversary of the organization of our Church. It is a day fraught with pleasing memories, and we desired to avail ourself of it in issuing the NEWS in its new form, that to the very many recollections which already cluster around it, there might be, to our mind at least, another added.

The DESERET EVENING NEWS is the cheapest daily paper published in this or any of the adjacent States or Territories. But for it to have this as its sole recommendation would not 'satisfy us. We wish it to occupy the foremost rank as: sound, reliable and interesting newspaper-to be an increasing power in the land, an authority on every subject upon which it may treat.

The form in which the EVENING NEWS has appeared has not suited us: but it was the best we could do when it was issued. The present form pleases us better, but still we look forward to the time when, with the continued patronage and support of our friends, we can make many additional improvements. and satisfy our own taste and the requirements of the public better than at the beginning, even in our most sanguine moments, that its subscription list would have increased to its present size in the short time the paper has been published. The enterprise was started at an unfavorable season for procuring substantial aid. Times were becoming stringent, means was difficult to obtain; and these obstacles in the way of success have not since lessened. Many do not take the paper, who, if circumstances were more favorable, would not be without it. The closeness of the times and the scarcity of money have made our labor a somewhat difficult one, yet we are surprised at the manner in which we have been enabled to progress.

We are hopeful for the future. We feel assured that when our patrons see our determination to do them ample justice in furnishing them a good, credi- the regular Conference Minutes. table paper, at a'low price, they will exert themselves to 'pay promptly, and in available means, their subscriptions, etc. This is the only plan on which such a paper can be sustained.

THE SIXTH OF APRIL.

Phirty-eight years ago to-day the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was organized, with six members, at the house of Father Whitmer, Fayette, Seneca County, New York. From so small a beginning what wonderful results have grown! This was our reflection yesterday and to-day in looking upon the vast congregation that was assembled in meeting at the New Tabernacle. DR. BELLOWS ON GERMAN CHARAC-TER .- As I leave northern Germany for Austria, I feel a great regret at quit-ting a soil that bears so interesting a population. The German seems to have an additional upper story to his brain. uralization; but nothing was done after the return from the impeachment trial. So intellectual a race, judging by the head alone, I have never seen. The German, by generations of culture and thought, has purged away his passions and impulses and become a kind of meditative intellect, walking round on somewhat thin legs and smallish feet, with no back to his head, but a great towering forehead full of perception and ideas. His chin is thinned away, and indicates feebleness of will, and his high head, narrow and long, topples for want of base. I do not see any evidence that the German will again rule the world, spite of Prussian success and expectation. I think the imperial day of the race is gone, and that the German brain is not likely to distinguish itself again in action. I hope it will not rashly insist on tighting France, which has just the impulse and genius for affairs that Germany lacks. But for companionship, courtesy, substantial and internal refinement, many sidedness and knowledge how to enjoy life, and contentment, who can equal as a whole the Germans of our day!

> Major Webber informs us that during the month of February last there were collected about Fort Sully 2,000 Indians, who were in a starving condition. So unfortunate were they for food that, although the garrison officers dealt it out to them as liberally as their supplies would admit of, the Indians finally broke into the store houses, and could only be driven off by the guard firing on them, killing one of their number. This act very much incensed "poor Lo," who demanded satisfaction,
