

CONSOLIDATING POSTOFFICE WORK

P. M. Gen. Cortelyou Issues Order Grouping Related Subjects Under One Bureau.

WILL BE GREAT IMPROVEMENT

Postal Service Will Be Placed Under Personal Supervision of the Postmaster General.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Postmaster General Cortelyou today issued an order of far-reaching importance, redistributing the duties of the four assistant postmaster-generals and affecting the entire postal service. The order will carry into effect on Dec. 1 a plan of the postmaster-general to consolidate the work by grouping under one bureau all related subjects. This result will be to place under the postmaster-general's personal supervision the direction of the postal service, under the first assistant, the postoffice personnel, and management; under the second assistant, all matters relating to the transportation of the mails; under the third assistant, all matters of postal finance; and under the fourth assistant, the rural free delivery and miscellaneous postal service.

By taking the division of appointments, the division of bonds and commissions and the division of city delivery from the fourth assistant postmaster-general, the matters of postal finance, and under the fourth assistant, the rural free delivery and miscellaneous postal service.

The office of the second assistant postmaster-general will continue to have charge of mails, and while its division organization is not affected, the transfer to the first assistant postmaster-general of the control of the movement of the mails within the jurisdiction of the larger postoffices is contemplated under the order.

The office of the third assistant is affected by the transfer to it of the division of the money orders from the office of the first assistant. The third assistant already has the stamp division, the registry division and the division of postal finance, and the addition of the money order division will bring the principal and revenue-producing branches of the department under one head. The division of files and records in this office is abolished, and its personnel and work is assigned to the chief clerk of the bureau, making that his duty conform to those of similar positions in the other bureaus.

While the office of the fourth assistant postmaster-general has taken from it the preparation of cases for the appointment of postmasters, it retains in having transferred to it the division of dead letters, division of the postoffice supplies and the topographer's office. It will continue to have the rural free delivery service, the growth of which in recent years has been phenomenal and it is here that much can be done in the direction of improved service and economies of administration. It being relieved of the immense task of the appointment of postmasters and the supervision of the city free delivery service, the fourth assistant can devote a larger share of attention to this new, and in some respects, most important, branch of the postal service.

The chief postoffice inspector, in addition to the supervision of the inspectors, will hereafter have charge of the rural agents, who, as members of the investigating force of the department, can with great advantage be assigned to the division of inspectors.

The division of supplies is being reorganized and enlarged so as to embrace practically all of the supplies work of the department.

JEWISH DEFENSE ASS'N.

ISSUES CALL TO THE JEWS

New York, Nov. 14.—The Jewish defense association today issued a call to Jewish people to help their countrymen in Russia to arm and defend themselves. It declared that many massacres had been prevented by a strong organization of young Jews known as the self-defense organization. In Odessa, the association could not cope with the overwhelming numbers of longshoremen and "black gangs." In Poland, where martial law has been proclaimed, the self-defense organization has managed to get into districts, armed with a leader. They need more funds in order to purchase more arms.

The call declares that funds for this purpose will be promptly forwarded through secret channels.

GREENE AND GAYNOR.

Trial for Conspiracy to Defraud Government Not Definitely Set.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 14.—The trial of Benjamin Greene and John F. Gaynor on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the river and harbor contracts given out under the supervision of former Capt. O. M. Carter, engineer officer in charge of the Savannah harbor at the time they were made, will not take place until after Jan. 1 next. This developed today when the federal court of the southern district of Georgia was convened by Judge Spear. Greene and Gaynor are still in jail here, and there will be no effort made to secure their release on bail.

Atty.-Gen. Erwin has announced that former Capt. Carter will not be summoned as a witness for the state. It is not believed he will be wanted by the defense.

WOMAN'S NIGHTMARE

The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror.

There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

Send for free book containing information of previous value to all expectant mothers. The Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

STOMACHS ON STILTS.

The man who puts on stilts does not increase his actual stature. He only feels taller. Stomachs are the stilts of the stomach. They make a man feel better for the time being, but he feels a great deal worse for them afterward.

The need of the man whose stomach is "weak" is not stimulation but strength. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery perfectly answers that need. It contains no alcohol or whiskey. It cures the weak, flat stomach with its attendant bad smelling breath, coated tongue, bad taste, poor appetite and kindred symptoms.

In the year 1899 I had an attack of indigestion and got so bad that my stomach felt like a leaden ball. I had a good deal of trouble in getting it back to normal. I had a good deal of trouble in getting it back to normal. I had a good deal of trouble in getting it back to normal.

By taking the division of appointments, the division of bonds and commissions and the division of city delivery from the fourth assistant postmaster-general, the matters of postal finance, and under the fourth assistant, the rural free delivery and miscellaneous postal service.

WILL SEND TRAVELLING COMMISSION TO RUSSIA.

Conference of Prominent Jews of London, Paris, Berlin and St. Petersburg to Make Investigation.

London, Nov. 14.—A conference attended by prominent Jews of London, Paris, Berlin and St. Petersburg which was held here today under the presidency of Lord Rothschild, resolved to send an international traveling commission to Russia to visit all places where Jews were reported to have suffered during the disturbances. This commission will report to the central bureau established at Berlin, where all the statistics will be collected. The money needed will be forwarded to a bank in the name of the Messrs. Rothschild.

The archbishop of Canterbury and the bishop of Southwark have written to Chief Rabbi Adler expressing their horror at the outrages on the Jews in Russia and offering their sympathy.

At a mass meeting of the Jews of Whitechapel held tonight, Sir Robert Thorneley, former attorney general, presided. A resolution was passed that the archbishop of Canterbury and the bishop of Southwark have written to Chief Rabbi Adler expressing their horror at the outrages on the Jews in Russia and offering their sympathy.

"If I had one drop of Jewish blood in my veins, I would not rest until I founded a city of refuge in which the men and women of your race could find shelter from destruction."

Chief Rabbi Adler, who made an impassioned speech, introduced a resolution which was passed unanimously expressing indignation and horror at the outrages.

The resolution declared that the establishment of an autonomous Jewish colony for the gradual reception of oppressed Jews was the only solution of the Russo-Jewish question.

A letter was read from Joseph Chamberlain, approving the scheme of the establishment of Jewish colonies under the British flag.

The British flag, the speaker said, was the only flag which the Jewish cause and the late Dr. Herzl's scheme for a Jewish colony in South Africa had been abandoned. He said the terrible events in Eastern Europe intensified the necessity to solve the Jewish problem and added to the responsibility of the Christian nations who regard to this problem.

He would therefore be glad to advance in any possible way any revival of the scheme of Dr. Herzl or a practicable amendment thereof.

INSURANCE INVESTIGATION.

Has Hurt American and Canadian Business in Japan.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 14.—A report received by the Canadian government from Asa McLean, Canadian commissioner at Yokohama, says the recent agitation of life insurance matters in New York has seriously affected the Japanese business of both American and Canadian companies.

ESCAPED FROM BANDITS.

Saboteur, Nov. 14.—Mr. Williams, the Englishman recently employed by the Turkish tobacco revenue department, who was captured by brigands some months ago and held for ransom, escaped from his captors and reached Istanbul, it is said, from Monastir.

Disputes and encounters between the Greeks and Bulgarians continue. Five Bulgarians were killed by troops yesterday in the village of Deagros, checks last night shot and killed six Bulgarians who were members of a wedding party near Florina. The Greeks then set fire to the building in which the wedding was being held and 12 persons, mostly women and children, were burned or fatally wounded.

CHARGED WITH BANK ROBBERY.

Marysville, Cal., Nov. 14.—Sheriff Wilson and Deputy Sheriff Cantor this afternoon brought from Sacramento William A. Sprout and a 15-year-old boy named Edward Whalen. They are charged with an attempt to rob the Farmers Cooperative Union Bank of Yuba City, Thursday night, and the boy confessed this and four other crimes committed in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon since last April. Whalen says he met Sprout at April in Montana. Sprout and the boy traveled as father and son, and claimed they were going north.

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and

Mother's Friend

The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror.

There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

Send for free book containing information of previous value to all expectant mothers. The Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

PRINCE LOUIS BECOMES HOST.

Gives a Magnificent Dance on Board His Flagship, the Drake.

A THOUSAND INVITED GUESTS.

Officials and Society People from Annapolis, West Point, Washington and Elsewhere.

New York, Nov. 14.—Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg became the host today, and in return for the hospitality which has been shown him during his stay in American waters, gave a magnificent dance on board his flagship, the Drake. The thousand or more invited guests included officials and society people in Annapolis, Washington, Baltimore and West Point, as well as in New York.

At the entrance of the long Grand pier floated a tremendous British flag. Passing through the doorway, half way down the pier, the guests saw a curtain of red, white and blue bunting, enclosing the supper-room, which was cupped in the center of the pier. Shut in with heavy canvas, the interior was all aglow with the light from the festoons of red, white and blue electric bulbs strung from the center of the roof, which was formed by a canopy of bunting. Between the round tables, again, red and white bunting was hung in festoons.

Just outside the supper-room was the gangway by which the guests went aboard the Drake. The entire ship was enclosed in heavy canvas. Coming from the side the guests passed along the port side to the quarter deck, where Prince Louis received. Tented walls of the after deck were hung with flags of the nations, and the stars and stripes and the Union Jack were everywhere intermingled.

From the quarter deck the guests passed up a stairway banked with flags to the Drake's ballroom.

From the main derrick rising high from the center of the boat deck, the stars of the original thirteen states, made of blue bunting, from this central point were dropped, tent fashion, the red and white stripes of the American flag. Beneath this canopy of stars and stripes stretched the polished ballroom floor, built across the entire boat deck and extending aft to the last of the Drake's four funnels, affording room for more than 200 couples.

Rising from the floor to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped in blue and white, between were round framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ship's powerful searchlights, which in inflated life buoys. A driver's uniform, inflated, stood at the end of the deck, holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

Behind the door to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ships' flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and